Grand Jury Hears Evidence Against Bandits

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Keeping Liquor and Assaulting an Officer Cost Philip Dijnak $125

Young Man Charged With Larceny of Auto is Held for Superior Court

Considerable Action Results From Trial of Drunken Offenders—Other Cases

Illegal keeping of liquor and assault on an officer cost Philip Dijnak $125 in district court this morning, $100 for the liquor charge and $25 for his attack on the officer. Although Dijnak was quite willing to place the blame for the assault on his wife, Judge Enright, after hearing the testimony of the officers, decided otherwise.

Sergeant Mitchell H. Winn told of a recent raid at 4 Reed's court, when a small still, 5 quarts of liquor, from 60 to 70 gallons of mash, and 20 quarts and 30 pints of beer were found on the premises. Lieutenant George B. Palmer, who was in charge of operations, said that he went to the house with a search warrant and showed it to Dijnak, who did not want to read it. After a search of the premises had been completed, he was arrested.

GONSALVES DEFAULTED

Man Charged With Receiving Stolen Property Failed to Appear in Court

Antonio Gonsalves, convicted yesterday of receiving stolen goods from local mills, and given a day's continuance to secure bail prior to appearing in court, failed to appear when his name was called in district court this noon, and was defaulted.

At yesterday's session, when Gonsalves was found guilty, his attorney, George Allard, pleaded for probation for his client. Judge Enright, however, voiced emphatic approval of a statement made the day before by Gov. Channing H. Cox, to the effect that the probation system might be overworked, the judge saying that probation is excellent in certain cases, but can be worked to death.

Major Noyes acted as prosecutor, and said that the defendant should be given a jail sentence, since he did not see how the wholesale stealing of cloth which has been going on in the mills could be utterly disregarded. The judge declined to impose sentence but when it became known that Gonsalves would appeal, the case was continued until today, to give the man a chance to secure bail pending his appearance before superior court.

MRS. GLICKSTEIN KILLS HERSELF

Third Tragic Death—Doctor's Mother Fell Dead When She Viewed His Body

NEW YORK, April 14.—Another tragedy growing out of the sensational murder of Dr. Abraham Glickstein by Mrs. Lillian Reizin, in Brooklyn, last December, was recorded today when his widow, Mrs. Anna Glickstein, ended her life by leaping from the third-story window of her mother's home in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Glickstein had been laboring under a heavy mental strain since the shooting of her husband.

The suicide of Mrs. Glickstein is the third of a series of tragedies.

AUTO DEALERS COMPLAIN

Say That Specifications for New City Trucks Do Not Allow Competitive Bids

Claiming that specifications attached to requisitions for the purchase of two new automobile trucks for the city water department, are so worded that competitive bidding would be futile, local automobile dealers have complained to the mayor, who today promised to take up the matter with the city purchasing agent.

The requisitions in question call for the submitting of bids for a one-ton and a one-half ton truck tomorrow morning, to be opened by the purchasing agent at 11 o'clock.

The dealers who have complained of the specifications attached to the requisitions submitted by the water department allege that they follow practically word for word the specifications of truck trucks of those companies and for this reason, no other make of truck could absolutely conform to the requirements.

The dealers do not say that the complaint is made simply because the specifications are those of the Buick, but complaint must be made if any other make of car was involved.

City Purchasing Agent Foye had heard nothing from the mayor regarding the specifications at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MORE WHITE GUIDE LINES FOR PEDESTRIANS

Within a few days more white guide lines for pedestrians will be painted on down town pavements, this time to mark the proper places for crossing at the intersection of Central and Merrimack streets.

A different item than the one whose paint was used in Merrimack Square will be put on the new lines and comparisons between the two points will be made. After a decision is reached as to the better white quality, an order will be placed of sufficient size to allow for similar markings at all busy downtown intersections, safety zones for street car passengers and prohibitory markings around all fire hydrants on paved thoroughfares.

BUILDING SEIZED AT MIDNIGHT

Insurgent Section of Irish Republican Army Occupy Court Building

Formerly Seat of National Courts of Justice—Windows Barricaded

BELFAST, April 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Two hundred and fifty men of the insurgent section of the Irish republican army under the direction of the newly-formed republican army executive, or army council seized at midnight the four courts building in Dublin, which until the passing of the Irish acts was the seat of the national courts.

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVED BY TEXTILE STRIKERS

Picketing at the plants of the Bay State Cotton Corp. and the Hamilton Mfg. Co., which for the past eight weeks has been going on morning, noon and night, was temporarily discontinued this noon in observance of Good Friday, and the men and women who were on the picket line this morning at the plant of the Hamilton were told this forenoon that all picketing had ceased until tomorrow morning.

The regular meeting of the Lowell Textile council, which was scheduled to be held this evening, has been postponed until a later date so as to give the members an opportunity to attend the services in the various churches of the city.

It is expected that the conference between President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and the labor leaders of this state, which will be held in Boston next Monday afternoon for the purpose of discussing labor conditions throughout the commonwealth, will bring about some new developments that will later prove of interest to all interested in the labor movement. The topic of discussion at the conference will be the textile and other strikes in the various cities of Massachusetts, and the Lowell men who are scheduled to be in attendance feel that Mr. Gompers has something up his sleeve.

The Lowell men who will attend the conference are President Charles E. Anderson and Secretary Frank Simpson of the Trades and Labor council, and President John Hanley of the Lowell Textile council.

Leaders in House Abandon Plan to Delay Vote on Contested Section of Bill

Chairman Kelley to Let Vote on Personnel Section Come When Reached

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Changing their plan at the last moment, house members leading the move for an enlarged personnel of 86,000 made no attempt at the opening of the house today to force over until next week a vote on the contested section. Indications were the vote would be taken tomorrow.

Chairman Kelley, in charge of the measure, announced it was his purpose to proceed and let the vote on the personnel section come when reached. Less than 100 members were on the floor when the reading of the bill was begun.

"Big navy," men said the number of democrats attending the funeral in North Carolina of Representative Brinson would about offset the number of New York members who were arranging to go home tonight.

MAYOR APPOINTS RIGBY TO CEMETERY BOARD

Mayor George H. Brown announced today that since sending the nomination of William H. Rigby as a member of the board of cemetery commissioners to the city council last night, he has learned that he has the power to make this appointment without confirmation and, therefore, made the appointment today.

Mr. Rigby will serve a five-year term, beginning on May 4, the date on which his present term expires. The mayor made no comment today on the action of the city council last night in refusing to bring the nomination of Edward F. Mulry for superintendent of charities to a vote. He said that, of course, Mr. Mulry cannot be nominated again this year for the same position, inasmuch as this is his second nomination. But the mayor would not say whether or not he has anyone else in mind for the place.

"I haven't given it any thought as yet," said the mayor.

ATTEMPT TO KILL THREE OFFICERS

Wilson Faces Numerous Other Charges in Connection With Hold-ups, Etc.

CAMBRIDGE, April 14.—What the police know of the operations of a bandit gang operating under the alleged direction of Earl "Tug" Wilson, was brought to the attention of a special Middlesex county grand jury today. Evidence was presented in connection with Wilson's alleged attempt to kill three police officers in Arlington last Sunday night when he was halted while spooling in an automobile.

Miss Sarah Doyle, Wilson's companion at that time, and "Gil" Crosby, in whose company he was arrested early Monday are held as accessories to the shooting.

Wilson faces numerous other charges in connection with hold-ups in the vicinity of Cambridge and Somerville and investigations by the police of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville indicate, they say, that Wilson and Crosby were active leaders of a gang of 35 men. This gang, when robbing freight cars became dangerous because of the vigilance of detectives, turned its attention to the streets.

"BIG FOUR" AT ODDS ON RUSSIA

Divergencies of Opinion Reported to Have Developed at Genoa Meeting

Document Drawn Up By Allied Experts Dealing With Russia Not Indorsed

GENOA, April 14 (By the Associated Press).—Divergencies of opinion over Russia are reported to have developed at the meeting this morning of the conference's "big four" for discussion of the Russian problem.

The participants were Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain, Vice Premier Barthou of France, Foreign Minister Schanzer of Italy and Foreign Minister Jasspar of Belgium.

The Italian delegation afterward confirmed the report that the document drawn up by the allied experts in London dealing with the question of Russia, which has been the center of so much discussion, had not been indorsed by the various allied governments. The Italian expert, indeed, had disapproved of those clauses of the report which, if put into effect, would humiliate Russia, it was declared.

Mr. Lloyd George, it was asserted after the morning session, had favored the Russian proposal to grant Russia indemnity for damages she had sustained as the result of military operation against the soviet regime.

LOWER BIDS RECEIVED ON ROAD OIL

New bids to supply asphalt road oil to the street department this year were opened this morning by the purchasing agent and the low bid in each category, beneath the best figure received when bids on the same materials were opened last week. Considerable controversy occurred at that time, with the result that new bids were advertised.

There were fewer bidders today, however, and on the requisition to supply 150,000 gallons of 45 to 65 per cent. asphaltum.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO INJURE STRIKERS

A malicious action, believed to be an attempt to injure the cause of the striking leatherworkers, was called to the attention of the police this morning, when a telephone message came to the station saying that Perry street, near the plant of the American Hilo and Leather Co., was literally covered with tacks, and that several automobiles which had attempted to pass through the street had suffered punctures in their tires.

An investigation by Agent Martin Connors showed that for a distance of about 100 feet shingles and tacks such as are used in tacking leather had been set out in rows across the street. The street department was called on immediately to clean the street, and in the meantime, autoists are advised to seek another route.

RIVER BEGINS TO FALL BACK

The Merrimack river locally reached its peak yesterday, and last night and today fell perceptibly in height. A fall of half a foot was recorded at the Pawtucket dam and the volume of water passing over the falls every second decreased from 40,000 to approximately 36,000 cubic feet.

The Locks and Canals' officials look for a rapid fall during the next 24 hours and then a gradual return to normalcy. Word was received this forenoon from Plymouth that the river at that point was running 6½ feet over the stinging, which is a reduction from a height of 14 feet on Wednesday. This sharp decrease near the head waters will be reflected in Lowell from now on, it is said.

TO OBSERVE GOLDEN JUBILEE

Day Consecrated to Tree Planting Was Set Apart 50 Years Ago

Forest Protection Week and Arbor and Bird Day Designated by Governor

Copies of Proclamation Received for Distribution in the Local Schools

Fifty years ago, or in April, 1872, the state of Nebraska first set apart a day consecrated to tree planting. In order that there may be fitting commemoration of this notable golden jubilee, Governor Channing H. Cox has issued proclamations, first designating the week of April 16 as Forest Protection week and setting apart Saturday, April 29 as Arbor and Bird day.

Copies of the governor's proclamation have been received by the local school department from Frederick W. Cook, secretary of the commonwealth, for distribution in the public schools.

SUPERIOR COURT WILL SUSPEND MAY 5

The present civil session of superior court holding forth in the county courthouse building in Gorham street will suspend on May 5. This is in accordance with an order received today by Presiding Justice Frederick Lawton from the office of John A. Alken, chief justice of state superior courts.

No statement as to why the present session was curtailed has been given out here, but the courthouse attaches say that owing to the heavy criminal list in East Cambridge this court will be transferred there and pressed into service as a second session.

The civil session here was supposed to last until June 23. While there is a possibility that the court will come back in June to finish out the session, it is considered rather remote by those supposed to be informed on such matters.

Local attorneys were today notified of the change. All cases listed for this month's trials will be heard as usual and an effort will be made to reach a number of cases scheduled for May. Some provision may be made for re-listing.

Ruth St. Denis To Show Film Players How To Dance

LEAH BAIRD. SHE'S AN OLD-TIME FAVORITE BRING STARRING IN "WHEN THE DEVIL DRIVES."

SHIRLEY MASON. HER LATEST PHOTOPLAY BASED ON "THE CINDERELLA THEME" IS "THE RAGGED HEIRESS."

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, April 14.—Ruth St. Denis has been engaged to direct the dance scenes in Rupert Hughes' next picture, "The Bitterness of Sweetness."

This writer feels like rising right up and giving one rousing cheer for that.

Of the actresses now on the screen the only ones this writer can recall as having demonstrated ability are Irene Castle, Alice Murray and Betty Compton. The latter's ability in this line was a revelation of "The Green Temptation."

Credit for that should probably go to Theodore Kosloff, a former ballet master, who trained her. The only male of the screen who knows how to dance is Rudolph Valentino. His ability as a "dancer" brought him stardom and first place in the favor of the fair patrons of the movies.

There may be other individuals who know how to dance so a camera can record their movements, but their names and the instances in which they showed their ability do not come to mind as this is written.

However, the dance on the screen has lacked realism in groups of dancers. These scenes generally lack composition, the grouping of figures so that in ballroom scenes the dangers seem at ease or so that effect of mass movement in elaborate dancing is presented as it is in stage ballets.

The coaching of such experts as Ruth St. Denis may give realism to screen dancing insofar as the camera is able to record it.

Sentimentality
Says Lucy P. Eastman, writing in the current issue of "The Nation," "it seems to me that the crowning defect of the motion picture today is false sentimentality. By this I mean the idea that many directors have that the only way to arouse sympathy for a character is to show him subjected to physical violence."

She cites for example the filming of "Mary Carr," a story dealing with the spiritual hardships of a little girl in an orphan asylum. In the film the child was submitted to physical torture to gain the sympathy of the audience, according to the writer.

I only half agree with her. Much of the silly sentimentality in the movies is due to scenario writers without sufficient penetration to sense the spirit of a written story. Given a successful bit of fiction to turn into a screen story the scenario writer often misses the mark hit by the creator of the story.

The Movie Chatterbox
Filming of "From Rags to Riches" starring Wesley Barry, starts May 1. After that he will be starred in "Little Heroes of the Street."

DEPORTED ARMENIANS VALUATION OF B. & M. NOT MASSACRED R. R. $234,189,816

WASHINGTON, April 14.—After an investigation made by the state and labor departments over a period of three months, it has been definitely determined, Secretary Davis announced today, that no Armenians deported from the United States under the immigration law have been massacred by Turks at Constantinople. Testimony before the house immigration committee last December by witnesses of the mass slaughter of Armenians immediately after their return from the United States to Constantinople.

"After leaving no avenue of useful investigation unexplored," Secretary Hughes wrote to Mr. Davis in a letter given out today, "the American high commissioner at Constantinople was unable to find the slightest evidence to substantiate the rumor to which you have invited my attention."

A further report from Ruth Larned, immigration secretary of the commission, told of the check made upon the deportees of a number of the deported Armenians at Constantinople, showing that all of the number who had been traced were innocent of any outrage or murders.

The charges of the massacre were originally made to the commission by C. V. Knicker, representing the Constantinople Welfare Council of Boston.

WOMEN APPLAUD ATTACK ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A thrust at the four-power treaty during Senate debate yesterday started a short-lived outburst of hand clapping in the gallery. The applause, quickly quelled by the vice president's gavel, came from the women's section of the galleries and followed an assertion by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, that the American people want an association of nations for world peace, and "are" not satisfied with the four-power pact.

Recent addresses by James M. Cox, former presidential nominee, relating to the League of Nations issue, were the vehicle for the short flurry of debate on foreign affairs. Senator McDaniel, Republican, Illinois, again challenged the Democrats to make the League a campaign issue, declaring only Senator Sheppard of Texas, a Democrat, had shown his willingness to follow Mr. Cox. Both Senator King and Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, came to the defense of their party's record.

VETERAN SHAKES A WICKED FOOT

By N.E.A. Service
MEMPHIS, April 14.—W. B. Gammon, 75, veteran of the Civil war, shakes a wicked foot.

When a theatre, staged a standing contest a few days ago Gammon captured the bids. The clappers and jellies and jaxx bounds had a good laugh when he showed up and announced he was some dancer.

When the contest was over the judges unanimously awarded Gammon first prize, not on account of age, but for grace and agility.

"I've been dancing all my life," says Gammon. "I can dance all around these modern dancers. I never expect to get too old to do a little stepping."

MARITIME PROVINCES RIVERS ARE RECEDING

To Regain Control of Their Railroad, the Intercolonial, Moncton Hears

MONCTON, N. B., April 14.—The maritime provinces of Canada are to regain control of their railroad, the Intercolonial, according to information received here from Ottawa. According to the demands of members of parliament from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, Premier MacKenzie King, the advice say will separate the Intercolonial from the main Canadian National railway system and restore its head offices to this city.

The Intercolonial railway, built as a means of inducing the Atlantic coast colonies to join the Canadian confederation, long had been regarded as the property of the maritime provinces. When the Canadian government acquired other lands and established an elaborate national transportation system, the Intercolonial was merged in this system, and its affairs were administered from Toronto instead of from Moncton. This arrangement has been the subject of constant protest from the people of the Atlantic seaboard.

One of the charges made against the Canadian National management was that it did not take into account problems peculiar to the maritime provinces. Transportation in eastern Canada, it was stated, suffered from a "differentia" similar to that complained of by New England ports of the United States.

Lowering Waters of Connecticut and Merrimack Brings Relief to Many Cities

BOSTON, April 14.—The Connecticut and Merrimack rivers which heavy rains and melting mountain snows have sent to flood stages this week, were receding today.

Lowering of the waters brought relief to many communities, particularly those in southern Vermont where the Connecticut flowed far over its banks in the greatest flood of years. Several mills were forced to close after the water had poured into engine rooms and submerged the first floors of the plants.

The Merrimack at Manchester, N. H., last night, reached its highest stage in 25 years, flowing nine feet over the dam crests. At Concord, in the same state, the river touched a flood peak of eight feet, while at Lowell, a seven and one-half foot flood was tumbling seaward.

The receding waters of both rivers left a long trail of destruction, but the Connecticut as it roared south and through Vermont caused the greater damage. Highways and railroad beds were torn out, and farmers in the low lands saw garden lands badly damaged by the flood.

Railroad schedules on the Central Vermont and Passumpsic division of the Boston & Maine were still badly deranged. Reports from Vermont said the tracks of the latter road were under water for five miles beyond the town.

EDWARDS FOR SENATOR

Governor of New Jersey

Formally Announces His Candidacy for U. S. Senate

TRENTON, N. J., April 14.—Gov. Edward I. Edwards today formally announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senator at the primary election to be held September 28.

State Senator Alexander Simpson of Hudson county is the only other avowed aspirant for the nomination. Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton has been urged to enter the race, but he has not committed himself.

Governor Edwards was elected to the governorship upon a platform condemning the prohibition amendment. In announcing his candidacy for the senatorial nomination, he said:

"If I am successful in the nomination by my party, the people of the state will be able to pass upon the issue for which I stand."

Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, republican, whose term expires next March, has announced that he will seek renomination.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED, 5 OF FAMILY DROWNED

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Five persons, the wife of William Lawrence, and four of his children were drowned early today in the capsizing of a two-masted schooner in the Potomac river off Alexandria, Va. Lawrence and eldest son saved themselves by climbing up the mast from which they were rescued by a Norfolk and Washington steamer.

TO FACILITATE MAIL DELIVERY

To facilitate the delivery of mails, Acting Postmaster Delisle intends to make a personal appeal to certain business men who provide no receptacles for mail. He has instructed all carriers to take the names of business houses which do not provide receptacles and he will take up the matter with these individuals in a short time.

He says that a carrier will start out in the morning at 8 o'clock to make a delivery up Merrimack street. He will come to a business house and find it not yet opened. Not wishing to throw the mail on the floor of the entry-way, the carrier is forced to take it with him and make a call on his way back. This, according to Mr. Delisle, is wasted motion and energy as well. If the business house would provide a receptacle for the mail, the carrier could leave it instead of being forced to carry it to the end of his route and back again.

Receptacles would also make conditions better for the business man as he would and his mail awaiting him upon his arrival at his place of business. Another step to facilitate the movement of the mails is an order which authorizes all carriers to accept mail from business houses when making deliveries. This order was given following the realization of the theory that every hour saved in the collection of mail means one hour gained in deliveries.

Business houses might help out, averred Mr. Delisle, if they would mail their letters often and not wait until large piles accumulate. Mail ready at the noon hour could be posted at that time just as well as at the end of the day when the rush is the greatest at the postoffice.

READY TO MEET LABOR LEADERS

In answer to a recent communication from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor to the Trades & Labor council of this city, in which he requested the local council to notify him as to the attitude of the Lowell chamber of commerce toward organized labor, Gompers stated that the organization is ready at any time to discuss the matter.

Mr. Wells says he cannot speak for the chamber as an organization, for in order to determine the attitude of the association it would be necessary to have a referendum and even then he feels that nothing would be gained because many of the members would refuse to commit themselves on such a delicate question. However, if a discussion would assist the welfare of the community in any way, Mr. Wells says he and other officials of the chamber are ready to talk things over with local labor leaders.

Modern "Treasure Seekers" Carry Quest for $160,000,000 to Court

BY ROY GIBBONS
CHICAGO, April 14.—Two modern-day treasure hunters are laying plans here today for a twentieth-century quest of vast fortunes.

They hope to gain $160,000,000. They will not chart an antique sailing vessel and cruise in the South Sea.

They will not comb sailors' retreats for an aged salt possessing yellowed charts inscribed with elphib symbols.

Instead, in these modern quests, the coral reef will give way to the judge's bench and the "sailors" will be alert attorneys with brief cases as their "duffle-bags."

The two quests will be carried out independently. Indeed the two treasure hunters may not even know each other.

For one is an attractive young actress while the other is a Chicago mechanic.

But both will stake their all in a gamble to secure wealth.

WedgeWOOD Case

"Billie" Wedgewood, former Boston and Newport society girl and now an actress, is studying law in the wings between acts.

She's given up parties and after-theatre suppers to read Blackstone, torts, contracts and other matters legal.

Because she wants to fight in person before a British court for the $60,000,000 fortune of Sir Josiah Wedgewood to which she believes herself heiress.

She can't get the fortune until she proves the legal marriage 127 years ago of the American progenitor of the Wedgewood family.

In those days few records were kept. But Miss Wedgewood hopes to establish the marriage of her ancestor by taking a dozen representatives of American families descended from marriages of Revolutionary days and showing that no documentary evidence of their ancestors' marriages can be produced.

"I'm going to fight my own fight. Watch and see me win!" she says.

Bolls Case

With his life's savings Glenn Bolls, 35-a-week mechanic, has engaged the best legal talent he can find to fight for a fortune that has been eluding his ancestors for almost three centuries.

If he loses, every cent he has in the world will be swept away.

If he wins, he'll have a fortune of $100,000,000!

The fortune is represented by a large tract in New York's lower Broadway, on which stand Trinity church, the city hall and several skyscrapers.

Bolls says that tract was deeded by the government to one of his ancestors and he's going to try to prove it.

Bolls' ancestors for years fought for the fortune. But Bolls didn't worry about it until—

"I found a horseshoe!"

"I thought that presaged good luck and I decided to start action right away," Bolls says.

"I'm not reopening the suit for personal reasons but for the sake of my mother. If I win, nothing will be too good for her."

"There's been a flax on our trail but I think that horseshoe put it to flight."

"Anyway, I'm staking everything on the horseshoe. I'm game. Win all or lose all on the first throw!"

Pottery made in 5000 B. C. has been found in the countries west of the Andes.

Here's Proof That

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Prevents Pneumonia

Read Mr. Rhodes' Statement and You Will Realize That Our Claims Are Based on Convincing Proof

H. J. Allen, Dear Sir—I have found Allen's Lung Healer very effective in warding off an attack of pneumonia. I contracted a severe cold, which developed so rapidly that by night my lungs were congested and breathing difficult, with a distressing cough, which racked my whole system. I was convinced from the symptoms that I was in for an attack of pneumonia. Having used Allen's Lung-Healer before and having great faith in its effectiveness, I decided to use it over night and call a physician in the morning if I was no better. The improvement was so marked by morning I decided to continue with the Lung Healer and by night, or within 24 hours after taking the first dose my lungs were practically clear of congestion and inside of a week the cough was gone. I feel positive that the Lung Healer saved me from pneumonia, and I recommend it at every opportunity.

Yours truly,

GEORGE H. RHODES,

MISS MCCANN HONORED

Miss Lillian McCann, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. James Love of Quebec, was tendered a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. David Mahoney of 16 Fleming street. The affair was attended by many relatives and friends. During the evening Miss McCann was presented with numerous gifts and a varied entertainment was given. A feature of the evening was a mock marriage in which Mrs. Edward Martin acted as bride; Miss Margaret McCann as bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Masterson as the clergyman. The wedding march was played by Miss Alice McCallen. The other part of the program included vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Lillian McCann, Mrs. George Kelley and Mrs. Dorothy Harrington. A buffet lunch was served. The affair was in charge of Miss Margaret Masterson, Miss Mary Donnelly and Mrs. David Mahoney.

IRELAND PLANS TO PAY BRAINS SUBSIDY

BY PROFESSOR TIMOTHY A. SMIDY, M.A.

Embryo Extraordinary of the Dail Eireann to the United States and Dean of the Faculty of Commerce, University College, Cork

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The new Irish government is considering establishment of governmental subsidies to enable college graduates to transform their diplomas into salary checks.

In this way Ireland hopes to keep her best-trained brains in Ireland to work for Ireland.

We are faced with the prospect of highly trained graduates of Irish colleges being unable to work where they are best suited. Ireland cannot afford to let these young men and women go abroad because of lack of opportunity at home. Nor can Ireland suffer the human waste which would result from these citizens engaging in occupations which do not give them an opportunity to use their combined talent and specialized training.

There are two groups of college graduates which will be benefited by government-created opportunities. One group is the ever increasing number of students who have done specialized university work in economics, business organization and the problems of industry and finance. The other is composed of our graduates' chemists, physicists and engineers.

The industries which the government probably will encourage to meet the demand of the college student will be meat packing, the various branches of agriculture, the textile and chemical trades and applied art—particularly architectural art.

It has been decided that the industries to absorb these students should be those in which the value of the raw material bears small relation to the value of the finished product; they must be industries which require a high scientific knowledge.

Without a commercial demand for applied scientific knowledge there is small chance for us to develop pure scientists.

Before I have completed my term of office as envoy to the United States, I am confident that channels will have been established for the exchange of students and professors between the universities of Ireland and the United States.

Under the Dail Eireann there has been a thorough reorganization of educational aims in all branches of Irish education.

The dominant note in Ireland will remain the classical ideal, but vocational training in the secondary schools and specialized technical departments of the universities is making rapid progress.

One of the most important developments is the throwing aside of the deadening system of national standardization which had been paralyzing secondary education.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatrical Press Agents)

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

Schooled in the art of acting at a time when careful training meant much, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barry, who are on the bill at the B. F. Kelth theatre, this week, are capable of delivering over an act as but few performers on the vaudeville stage can today. In "The Rube," which is comedy, they both do exceptionally painstaking work. Incidentally they are great favorites here. Josie Rooney, the peppy dancer, has a wonderfully good act, and the Hegodna Sisters, who are quite equal any musicians who have ever been allied with a local vaudeville bill. Other acts on the week's bill are: Sharkey, Roth & Wit; Morati & Harris; Countess Verona; and Montambo & Nap.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few opportunities remain for Merrimack Square patrons to see "Shame," a big dramatic production, and "Tush Money," starring Alie Brady. Coming Monday, "Her Husband's Trade Mark," with Gloria Swanson in the leading role.

THE STRAND

"That Girl Montana," with Blanche Sweet in the stellar role, and Miss du Pont, star of "Poollish Wives," in "The Golden Meadows," are the two picture offerings of merit being shown at the Strand for the week-end. You shouldn't miss these for they are truly commendable screen creations that will win favor with all.

OPERA HOUSE

"The Frolics of 1922," which is opening the spring season at the Opera House on Tuesday next, is considered one of the gayest musical offerings of the year. It has everything to make it thoroughly enjoyable for all patrons. The cast is large and competent and the numbers right up to the minute. Remember the first performance is Tuesday afternoon and twice daily from then on.

RIALTO THEATRE

The two great pictures, "Should a Wife Work?" and "Out of the Dust," opened at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon before a large and appreciative audience. Both lived up to expectations and proved to be a delightful entertainment. On the same program is a comedy and a set of up-to-date Kinggrams. The picture "Should a Wife Work?" is one that will appeal to all married homes for it answers a question that millions are asking. The latter picture was inspired by the great Remington paintings and tells a great story of the free prairie.

CROWN THEATRE

"Thunderclap" is a stupendous picture, and advance notices call it the "greatest race track photodrama ever staged." It comes to the Crown theatre today for a run of two days. When the picture was playing at the Central theatre, New York, the Metropolitan papers carried columns upon columns about the thrilling and truly unusual scenes. In the midst of its run, William Fox, its producer, announced that instead of showing it only in big playhouses of the cities he would release it over the country.

"The time to be exclusive," Mr. Fox said, "is when your picture appeals to an exclusive set of people. When a particular photoplay will attract the attention of those in all walks of life, then all should receive a chance to see it."

The story deals with the race track. The interest centres around a boy, a girl and a paralyzed mother, who win happiness when the boy's race horse, "Thunderclap," wins a big race.

AMERICANS GREETED AT CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—Americans and Turks were delighted by the arrival here recently of two big American tourist ships carrying together more than 1000 passengers, among whom there were said to be more than 80 millionaires.

Revival of the American tourist business had been awaited here with great anticipation, and the Americans received more than a cordial welcome from their compatriots connected with relief work as well as from the keepers of Turkish bazaars anxious to sell souvenirs to their visitors.

One of the ships pulled into the harbor of Constantinople with its band playing "Dixie" while the Americans in the near east relief orphanages on the waterfront waved American flags. The Americans found Constantinople harbor filled with the warships of every nation, a country still at war and a city with more than 150,000 refugees. Passengers of both ships took up collections for the emergency relief, gave donations for orphan and refugee and promised to send their winter clothing to Constantinople when the trip was over.

The merchants were all excitement over the arrival of the Americans and fairly pulled the tourists into the shops in their eagerness to sell.

Some of the visitors entertained Rear Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner and Mrs. Bristol in the Muscovite, famous Russian restaurant.

The American visitors were served by girls who were formerly members of old Russian aristocratic families who came to Constantinople two years ago as refugees.

As a parting gift the tourists sent to the near east relief orphanages on the Bosphorus the favors given at the various dances.

CUTICURA HEALS CHILD'S ECZEMA

On Cheek, Itched and Burned. Could Not Sleep.

"Eczema broke out in a rash on my little girl's cheek and when scratched it spread and formed sore eruptions. They itched and burned so that even in the daytime she suffered and was very irritable. At night she could not sleep on account of the irritation."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment which helped her so I purchased more and in about one month she was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. C. B. Albro, R. F. D. 117, Barrington, R. I., Sept. 28, 1921.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes.

AMERICANS STIMULATE TRADE IN RUSSIA

ODESSA, April 14.—Every foreigner who comes here asks first the same question: "Can business be done in Russia and if so when and how?"

The fact is that business already is being done in Russia and the indications are that every month will see more of it. Since the correspondent entered Russia in August last, business has taken on big strides. It is not big business, but it is business. The communists were unable to stop small trading even by threats of death, which often were carried out.

Trade in foreign money, the exchange of paper rubles for Russian gold or for American bank notes, the most favorite money, is still prohibited but it goes on secretly in Moscow a few doors from the headquarters of the once powerful Cheka, or secret police. It goes on everywhere. Internal trading for food is conducted in the so-called famine districts of which, to say the truth, there is none for all Russia is a famine zone. Goods show up in stores that are blandly stated to come from hidden stocks or out of the government warehouses when frequently they have really come over the frontier in handbags or as freight labeled "official documents."

The American relief administration has helped to stimulate the freedom of life and property which has made trading more free. It has helped to change the spirit of the communists to whom every trader represented the hated capitalists or the speculator whose deserved fate was a Cheka prison or firing squad. The A.R.A. men go everywhere and are breaking down these old barriers of hatred.

The Americans were at first opposed everywhere but their patience and good will and, finally, harsh orders from higher officials have dissipated the undercurrent of opposition.

Life-giving business is in the air and coming as surely as the flowers of spring. The people know it and respond.

The spirit of America has worked itself into the official mind and this is shown in the treatment of small trading vessels which come here. Their captains have been systematically flooded ashore where their cargoes have been bought at reduced prices and their captains have been paid for them in bad salt or rotten hides.

The balance of money due them was fixed at ruinous exchange rates and finally the ship master was overcharged for labor and port dues; but as he had brought in goods which he had not declared or made illegal investments in diamonds or art goods the captain went away fairly satisfied. This form of hold-up is passing out with the entrance of bigger ships bringing real cargoes and owing to the impelling sense of decency imported by the Americans.

10 WOMEN ELIGIBLE TO ALL OFFICES

Mass. Supreme Court Holds Adoption of 19th Amendment Raised Bar

Decision Reverses Attorney General's Ruling — Does Not Apply to Jury Service

BOSTON, April 14.—The supreme court of Massachusetts sent an opinion to the state senate yesterday saying that women are eligible to all elective and appointive offices in the state. In other words they may hold positions from which they were excluded prior to the adoption of the 19th amendment to the federal constitution.

The opinion reversed that of the attorney general rendered about a year ago. The attorney general was not asked specific questions such as those submitted to the supreme court, however. He was asked for a general ruling and this he based on previous decisions of the supreme court.

Those who have made a study of the matter at the state house say that the supreme court's opinion of yesterday reverses the earlier opinions of that court.

In consequence of this latest opinion any woman is eligible to become a candidate for the office of governor or any elective office and is eligible for election as mayor or any other city or town officer.

Furthermore women are eligible, under the terms of the opinion, to any office within the appointing power of any state, city, council or town department and also to head any state department. This would mean any court office from supreme to municipal.

Jury Service Not Affected

So far as jury duty is concerned the statutes will have to be amended in order that women may serve.

In April, 1921, the supreme court of Massachusetts gave an opinion that there was nothing in the existing statutes that made women liable for jury duty. The court pointed out, however, that no constitutional objection existed to the passage of a statute placing them on an equal basis with men regarding jury service.

There are now before the joint judicial committee of the legislature several bills to make women eligible for jury duty. These have not yet been acted upon by the committee.

The bill to make women eligible for public office was first introduced into the legislature by Speaker B. Loring Young at a special session of the legislature in 1920. A measure was passed allowing women to hold office in cities and towns.

In 1921, at the regular session, a bill was passed to allow women to serve in all public offices, except those governed by the state constitution. These included the state clerk and the legislature as well as appointment in the supreme, superior and lower courts.

The Senate's Four Questions

The senate asked the supreme court four questions, the first being "Has the adoption of the 19th amendment to the federal constitution conferring the suffrage upon women so far affected the status of women as to render it constitutionally competent for the general court to enact legislation declaring women eligible to hold any public office elective or appointive within the commonwealth?"

2. "Has the adoption of said 19th amendment had the effect of rendering women eligible to hold an office from which they were previously excluded by the constitution of the commonwealth?"

3. "From what, if any, elective or appointive offices are women excluded by the constitution of the commonwealth?"

4. "Is it necessary to amend the constitution, national or state, or to enact legislation, in order to render women eligible for election as senators and representatives in congress?"

The court answers the first two questions in the affirmative and to the third question says, "That women are not excluded by the constitution from any elective or appointive civil office."

To the fourth question the court says, "This question does not appear to be directed to any proposed act pending before the general court and we are constrained to follow the usual practice and give no opinion on it, reserving a question of legislative action."

The court says: "Mr. Justice Pierce not having participated in the deliberations of the justices upon these questions does not join herein and asks to be excused."

Signed by Six Justices

The opinion is signed by Chief Justice Arthur B. Loring and Justices Henry K. Bailey, Charles A. Lathrop, John C. Crosby, James H. Carroll and Charles F. Deane.

The opinion, which is in part "after the adoption of the 19th amendment to the constitution of the United States women were not voters and could not be made by the general court officers at state elections or for state officers. Prior to the adoption of the 19th amendment to the federal constitution women were not eligible for election or appointment to any office established by the constitution, that is clear from several opinions of the court."

The court reports that in an early opinion given to the general court women were prohibited from holding the office of a justice of the peace because it is a judicial office. That opinion was given in 1871.

In a later opinion, however, the court says it was decided that women were eligible to appointment to judicial offices.

19th Amendment Binding

The court further states: "The 19th amendment was validly adopted and has become a part of the constitution of the United States. That amendment is binding upon the people and the several departments of government of this commonwealth. That amendment declares that 'The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.' It makes no provision concerning the right to hold office. By its own force it struck from the constitution of this commonwealth the word 'male' wherever it occurred as a limitation upon the right of the citizen to vote.

"The power to fix the qualifications of those who shall hold state, as distinguished from the federal, office is to be determined by the several states, according to their differing needs and varying views of internal policy, subject to any controlling provisions of the federal constitution."

"It is apparent that the question whether one has a right to hold office under the constitution is separate and distinct from the question whether one has a right to vote."

Common Law Usage Changed

"Now that the word 'male' as a limitation upon the right to vote has been eliminated from the constitution of Massachusetts and the suffrage is thrown open to all citizens, all express limitation upon eligibility for office founded upon sex, created or recognized by the constitution, disappears. The unbroken usage of the common law has been changed by the fundamental law of the constitution."

"Earlier than the adoption of the 19th amendment to the United States constitution, women had become by legislation and usage under the enactments of the Massachusetts constitution, arriving from the absence of the express limitations, eligible to hold numerous offices not created or recognized by the constitution."

"If there were express prohibition in the constitution against the eligibility of women for office, a quite different question would arise. There is no express prohibition. The main support for such ineligibility by implication is gone when the word 'male' as a limitation upon the right to vote is effaced from the constitution."

"The proposed act does not purport to deal with the military service of the commonwealth. Therefore, we have not considered the question whether women are subject and eligible to that department of government under the constitution."

JOHN McCORMACK HAS PASSED THE CRISIS

NEW YORK, April 14.—John McCormack, noted tenor, who was stricken with an affection of the throat here last Saturday and whose illness became alarming on Wednesday, was declared today to have passed the crisis, but he will not be able to sing again for several months. Physicians in attendance upon the singer, asserted the illness would not affect the quality of his voice, as the infection was above the larynx.

All concert engagements made by Mr. McCormack have been cancelled.

and he has given up his plan to sail on May 2 for a tour of Ireland and continental Europe.

HARD MAN TO DISLODGE

Believed Markham Cannot Defeat Dwyer for the Board of Assessors

The prevailing feeling around city hall today was to the effect that Thos. J. Markham, the mayor's new nominee for a position on the board of assessors to succeed John H. Dwyer, is up against the hardest man of the three to dislodge and that the chances for his confirmation by the council are slim at the present time.

Mr. Dwyer was elected to the board by last year's government and is known to have a number of close friends in the present council. Friends of Mr. Markham, however, who are anxious to see him land the place, are equally sanguine of his ability to marshal a sufficient number of votes.

It is understood that if Mr. Markham passes the board, Mayor Brown will send in the names of Albert Blazon and Daniel E. Hogan, the two other board members, for confirmation. Mr. Markham's nomination, tabled last night, probably will come up for action at the regular meeting of the council, next Thursday evening.

Inasmuch as the nomination of William Walsh for purchasing agent, was not taken from the table last night, that, too, is slated to be acted upon at the next meeting.

While Mr. Walsh's chances against the present office holder, Edward F. Foye, are being discussed more or less in the corridors of the hall, the discussions invariably lead nowhere, for so far no one has seemed able to obtain a good line on the aspirant's chances.

Stormy Easter tide in Belfast Predicted—Further Shootings Reported

BELFAST, April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—A stormy Easter tide in Belfast is predicted by those who have watched the sequence of disorders here, as the result of a concerted attack on a patrol of special constables in Joy street last night. The members of the patrol were making their rounds after the curfew hour when a burst of heavy firing from windows and roofs wounded four of the officers. The scene of the attack is in the Sinn Fein section of the city.

Further shootings, although not believed to have been reprisals, occurred today at the termination of the curfew period. All took place in Crumlin road, two miles from the scene of last night's affair.

The first victim was a Protestant baker named Carmichael, who was assassinated while returning from work; the second, a Corporation Cleaner, a Catholic, who was shot and is reported dying in the hospital, and the third a baker named Sloan, Protestant, who died in the street, after being shot.

FIRST TEST OF CRIMINAL ANARCHY STATUTE

NEW YORK, April 14.—Accompanied by a prison guard, Isaac E. Ferguson, a former Chicago lawyer, now serving from five to ten years in Sing Sing for violating the criminal anarchy law, appeared today in the chamber of justice for a certificate of reasonable doubt in connection with his conviction.

Ferguson and Charles E. Ruthenberg, Cleveland socialist leader, who joins in the plea, were convicted in 1920 for alleged interest in the circulation of a racial paper.

The appeal of Ferguson and Ruthenberg is the first test of the criminal anarchy statute enacted after the assassination of President McKinley.

NEAR EAST RELIEF COMMITTEE REPORTS

BOSTON, April 14.—The Massachusetts Near East relief committee today reported the receipt of $16,000 in contributions, received during the past ten days, for the relief of women and children in the famine regions of Armenia and the Caucasus. A special Easter appeal is being made in several cities that is expected to bring the total up to $25,000. The call for clothing is to be made May 15. Reports from relief workers tell of the dead in the streets stripped of their clothing because of the shortage.

1500 NEGROES HOMELESS

Conflagration Swept Through Berkley, Va.—300 Homes Laid in Ruins

NORFOLK, Va., April 14.—Fifteen hundred negroes rendered homeless by the conflagration which swept through Berkley, a suburb, last night, were fed and sheltered today by private and governmental relief agencies.

Dawn found hundreds of the refugees wandering wearily over the blackened, devastated fire area, extending for three-quarters of the mile through the heart of the negro section, and containing the ruins of 300 homes. City officials estimated the total property loss at $750,000.

gun, the man came to him and asked if he had a warrant, but did not ask to have it read. He then rushed upon him in an endeavor to break the bottles and a struggle followed. The lieutenant exhibited a bandaged left thumb, which he said was injured by the woman, who, however, did not attack the officers until her husband started the battle.

Dijunk took the stand and said that his wife had committed any assault which had taken place. Questioned by the judge, he said he has been in this country 14 years, and has never taken out citizenship papers. He knew he had no right to interfere with officers in the discharge of their duties and insisted he had not done so. Judge Enright then imposed the $125 fine.

A charge of illegal keeping against Martin Adamski was continued until April 15, so that there will be ample time for the prosecution to secure an analysis.

Larceny of Automobile

Blaise Millette, was accused of breaking and entering a small garage at the corner of Perkins and Tucker streets late Tuesday evening or early Wednesday morning and the larceny of a car owned by Martiel Parent, of 176 Hall street. He was arrested last night by Inspectors Walsh and Kennedy. Mr. Parent appeared against him this morning, setting the damage to his car at $75.

On a plea of guilty, Millette was ordered to furnish bonds to the amount of $1000 for appearance in superior court.

Raoul Leblanc, a United States soldier, with six gold stripes on his left sleeve denoting three years' continuous service overseas, appeared in answer to a complaint of non-support of his minor child, Mrs. Rosanna Leblanc, his wife, claimed that they were married five years ago, and two children had been born. The first child is dead, and the claim is made on behalf of the second, which was born in October, 1917, eight months after he had deserted her and entered the service in the early part of the year. A third child, she admitted, was not her husband's.

Leblanc expressed doubt as to the parentage of the child in question, but was informed that, according to law, he was held responsible for its paternity under ordinary circumstances. He expressed a wish for an immediate separation, and was granted a continuance until April 24, two days before the expiration of his furlough, when he must report for duty at Portland, Me.

Fight in Pool Room

Considerable action resulted from the trial of drunken offenders. Thos. Jengwick and John Kuraskas were found fighting in a pool room at 147 Gorham street, the establishment of one of the police court's Polish interpreters. According to the officer who sent them to the station they were both covered with blood and in an intoxicated condition. The story told by the men was identical in respect to the occupation which brought about the fracas, a pool game for small stakes.

Kuraskas contended they were playing for 15 cents a game, and he was the only one paying, whether his word or not. At the conclusion of the game he alleged that he told Jengwick: he owed him some money and received the answer, "I will pay you good!" accompanied with a blow on the head with a pool ball. Jengwick, on the other hand, said they were playing for 25 cents a game, and placing the money in the hands of a stakeholder, who walked out with the money. Kuraskas then demanded his money and started a row. Jengwick received a two-month sentence to the house of correction, suspended for six months, while Kuraskas was fined $5.

Handcuffing Alleged

A police officer testified that he had found Walter Bow in a drunken condition in French street about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, hogging money from men standing about or passing by. He sent him home, but found him in the same place an hour later and placed him under arrest for drunkenness. Bow made an eloquent plea, saying that he was not drunk, but was ing that he was not drunk, but was or, for that matter, for ever a drunkard. In proof of this he called the attention to the fact that if he been drunk he would show some trace of it the morning after, but his word did not think this rule always applied.

Just as Bow said that he was the straight and narrow path for the time information was given that he had emerged from the house of correction last Saturday after a month's sentence for drunkenness and he had been brought in and released on his previous occasions this year. Judge Enright, however, gave him a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Other Offenders

Alfred Gilman pleaded guilty to a drunkenness charge, but complicated matters arose. A man appeared, who said that Gilman had brought a girl to his store last night and that the young woman had stolen his stick-pin. Gilman's memory was faulty relative to the girl's identity, so the judge continued him until tomorrow under $300 bonds, saying that his memory might return by that time.

Charles J. Hoffman was riding the roads en route from Montreal to Boston when a railroad officer picked him off a freight train. He said that he had been working in Montreal, but had decided to pay a visit to his mother in Boston. As the railroad officer was not insistent in pressing the complaint, the case was placed on file with the understanding that he would go to Boston and stay there.

Michael Mutak, another drunken offender, was on yesterday's schedule, but although he had been seen about the court he did not appear for trial. Today he was told to go home to Chestnutford and keep out of Lowell, and his case was placed on file.

KILLS BABY AND TAKES POISON

Woman Hoped to Guide Husband to Happiness as an Emancipated Spirit

Story of Woman's Belief in Spiritualism Told in Three Letters

NEWARK, N. J., April 14.—Mrs. Maud Fancher, who swallowed poison here yesterday afternoon, after slaying her baby son, Corli Raymond, hoped to guide her husband to happiness as an emancipated spirit. She is at death's door in city hospital.

The story of her belief in spiritualism is told in three letters, one of 20 pages, written before she took the poison, one after the baby's death and the third as she was half-conscious herself.

Mrs. Fancher said today that soon after they were married, in Detroit three years ago, they attended a seance at a private home in that city and that they both talked to their dead parents. Since that time, he said, Mrs. Fancher had taken a great interest in spiritualism.

Mrs. Fancher's health had been very poor since the birth of their son and she felt, her letters indicated, that her death would relieve her husband of a severe handicap. She took the baby's life because she could not bear to think of someone else taking it, she said.

"Dear my heart is broken and leaving you and you love the baby so, too," she wrote. "But remember you are to get yourself another son and a sweet one, too, for I am going to guide you until you do."

She directed that she and the baby be buried in the same casket and said she did not want the bodies shipped home to Detroit.

While physicians say there is little chance for her recovery she stated today that if she does get well she will try suicide again.

TO REPORT FOR WORK

PITTSBURGH, April 14. Fully 500 miners in the Connellsville coke region failed to report for work today. This was called by organizers for the United Mine Workers as a victory, but was met by the declaration of the operators that the men were only following a long established custom and were not expected to return until Tuesday. In the Indian Creek valley, on the Fayette-Westmoreland county border, four independent mines were tied up today.

Continued

Attention to holding and collecting of other sorts, the officers assert. Wilson has been identified, according to the police, as one of three men who held up and robbed John Murphy, a messenger of the Somerville Trust Co. of $200 in checks and cash on the afternoon of Feb. 21.

Arrested in Connecticut

The witnesses heard this morning included Lieut. Edward Brawley, of the Metropolitan police, who was one of the three officers at whom Wilson is alleged to have fired, and Harold W. Smith, keeper of a gasoline filling station, who has identified Wilson as probably one of two gunmen who held up his station recently. John J. Cronley, brother of Wilson's companion, was arrested in the court-yard charged with making false statements in connection with a charge recently, for his brother on a larceny charge recently.

The child is the daughter of his sister. Her father, Louis Adams, deserted her mother. Manana was born in Boston, Jan. 9, 1921. King Pete, on arriving at the courthouse in a 1917 model automobile, took out a rope and tied the machine to a hitching post. Later he untied it.

The presentation will be by Ambassador Herrick.

Across the face of the medal is the inscription, "Ils ne Passeront Pas" (They Shall Not Pass).

JAPANESE ACTIVE IN SIBERIA

VLADIVOSTOK, March 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The Japanese are continuing persistently their plan of peaceful penetration into Siberia. They are creating companies and trusts for the exploitation of the wealth of the country, using in most cases Russian titles for purely Japanese enterprises. The Germans are very active, a "society of Russian-German trade unionism" has been newly established in Vladivostok.

The British are not showing much activity and so far there is no American enterprise in evidence.

Mayor George H. Brown today received a letter from the Henry Ford Co. signed by Mr. Ford's assistant secretary, Frank Campbell and containing the advice that when the plans of that company call for expansion, Lowell residents will be notified so that additional information regarding this city's facilities for manufacturing plants may be forwarded. The letter also states that at present the Ford Co. must confine itself to projects now in hand.

The letter is in reply to one sent to the company on April 6, by Mayor Brown, in an effort to stimulate interest in Lowell as an excellent opportunity for expansion.

500 MINERS FAIL TO REPORT FOR WORK

TO REPORT FOR WORK

PITTSBURGH, April 14. Fully 500 miners in the Connellsville coke region failed to report for work today. This was called by organizers for the United Mine Workers as a victory, but was met by the declaration of the operators that the men were only following a long established custom and were not expected to return until Tuesday. In the Indian Creek valley, on the Fayette-Westmoreland county border, four independent mines were tied up today.

Continued

Attention to holding and collecting of other sorts, the officers assert. Wilson has been identified, according to the police, as one of three men who held up and robbed John Murphy, a messenger of the Somerville Trust Co. of $200 in checks and cash on the afternoon of Feb. 21.

Arrested in Connecticut

The witnesses heard this morning included Lieut. Edward Brawley, of the Metropolitan police, who was one of the three officers at whom Wilson is alleged to have fired, and Harold W. Smith, keeper of a gasoline filling station, who has identified Wilson as probably one of two gunmen who held up his station recently. John J. Cronley, brother of Wilson's companion, was arrested in the court-yard charged with making false statements in connection with a charge recently, for his brother on a larceny charge recently.

MAYOR GETS LETTER FROM THE FORD CO.

Mayor George H. Brown today received a letter from the Henry Ford Co. signed by Mr. Ford's assistant secretary, Frank Campbell and containing the advice that when the plans of that company call for expansion, Lowell residents will be notified so that additional information regarding this city's facilities for manufacturing plants may be forwarded. The letter also states that at present the Ford Co. must confine itself to projects now in hand.

The letter is in reply to one sent to the company on April 6, by Mayor Brown, in an effort to stimulate interest in Lowell as an excellent opportunity for expansion.

New York Health Commissioner Says Death Lurks in Handshake!

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

NEW YORK, April 13.—"Handshakes spread disease; shaking hands should be abolished," says Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York.

"Shaking hands is a filthy habit," he says. "It's meant as a friendly salutation, but most of the time it's entirely mechanical. We all shake hands, but we'd all be healthier if we stopped it."

Germans carried by the hands may be the greatest cause of influenza, says the "Lancet," London medical journal, which suggests some such substitute for shaking hands as the military salute.

People in public life are all victims of handshaking, Copeland points out; if not actually in infection then, in fatigue.

"Wilson's long illness was certainly partly due to the fatigue of handshaking," says one physician. "Tart grew thinner in office. Roosevelt felt the strain in spite of his powerful physique. Harding now is the most prominent victim of the handshake. Entirely aside from infection and fatigue, it was a handshake—concealing a gun, that killed McKinley."

Death statistics in New York are quoted by Health Commissioner Copeland to show the dangerous potentialities in handshaking.

"At least 50 per cent. of all the fatal diseases could be spread by handshaking," he says. "Germs on the hands might easily be responsible for all respiratory diseases, which caused more than 21,000 out of the 73,000 deaths in New York last year."

Here are the figures, in round numbers:

Pneumonia 10,000
Tuberculosis of the lungs .. 6,000
Influenza 2,500
Bronchitis 1,000
Colds, tonsillitis, etc. 1,000

To these Dr. Copeland adds, as possible results of handshaking contagion, 1000 diphtheria deaths, 700 measles, 600 whooping cough, 200 scarlet fever, and 100 spinal meningitis—making a grand total of 24,100.

London Alarmed
London physicians point out that so long as the definite specific germ of influenza is unknown the indiscriminate handshake may be indicated. "The possibilities of infection increase," says the "Lancet," "and calculation almost fails before the distributive power of the kindly hostess at a large reception who unwittingly transfers the contents of a guest's uncleanly palm to a multitude of others, and thence to their home circles."

FOUR FAMOUS HANDSHAKERS. ONE PHYSICIAN SAYS SHAKING HANDS CONTRIBUTED TO ROOSEVELT'S UNTIMELY DEATH AND WILSON'S PHYSICAL BREAKDOWN. ALSO HE SAYS IT PROVED A GREAT TAX ON TART AND IS DOING THE SAME TO HARDING.

ALL SET FOR BIG FOOD FAIR AT THE KASINO

All roads will lead to the Kasino on Thorndike street next week, when the Massachusetts Food Show, under the direction of the State Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers' association, in co-operation with the Lowell association, opens its doors to the public.

From every viewpoint the entire show holds forth great promise, and it will give to the people of Lowell an idea of the very great progress made in food products and preparations since before the war. There is little doubt but that the war at least gave stimulus to many a firm to produce something better than had ever been given to the consuming public before, for at the booths there will be shown amazing results in food compounding and preparations.

Housewives, no doubt, will attend in large numbers to discover some new wrinkle that has been put on the market for better food and the women will, no doubt, avail themselves of the opportunity to secure quantities of samples which are to be distributed free of charge at the booths.

Great plans have been made for the decorations and each booth will have its distinctive color effects and its different food products. Exports will tell of scientific cookery and house-keeping, and at the many booths which will line the Kasino there will be men and women familiar with the products on exhibition and who will answer all inquiries.

This is the first food fair to be held in Lowell for a number of years, and the announcement of its opening next Monday evening should be heartily greeted by the women of this city. F. M. Prescott of Boston is supervising the whole affair and he makes the promise that it will be complete in every detail.

There will be two sessions daily, beginning Monday night and continuing through the remainder of the week. The local marketmen and grocers have endorsed the fair and are busy contriving many novelties to delight the thousands who are bound to attend.

NO MEETING OF CABINET TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harding and members of his cabinet today dispensed with the Friday cabinet meeting in deference to Good Friday. The president, however, met the newspaper correspondents as usual.

FRANCE INSISTS "RIGHT TO LIVE"

Determined to Play no Second Fiddle at the Genoa Conference

Europe's Financial Tangle Brought to Front at Today's Session

GENOA, April 14 (By the Associated Press).—Europe's financial tangle was brought to the front for consideration at today's sessions of the Genoa conference, further discussion of Russian affairs having been postponed until tomorrow.

Sir Basil Blackett, controller of finance of the British treasury, called his special consultative committee of financial experts together, hoping to evolve the basis for a preliminary report to the financial commission of the conference tomorrow.

This special committee, which was appointed yesterday, comprises representatives of virtually every European country except Russia, and its members are reputed to be the leading financial experts of the continent. They are expected to devise practical plans for stabilizing out Europe's economic machinery.

Louis Barthou's address before the English and American newspaper correspondents yesterday, the report of which quickly spread through official conference circles, was widely commented upon today as indicating that France, while persistently conciliatory, was determined to play no second fiddle at Genoa. On the contrary, the impression is strong that France will insist to the bitter end to her "right to live," as the French put it colloquially.

The head of the French delegation, who is one of his country's most persuasive orators, was never in better form than when he scored those whom he charged with unjustifiably indicting France as a militaristic nation.

"Big Four" Present "United Front"

GENOA, April 14 (By the Associated Press).—The "Big Four," Lloyd George, Barthou, Benvenuto and Jaspard, have decided at a meeting to present "a united front" when the soviet submits its counter-propositions for the restoration of Russia.

This action is understood to imply formal acceptance by the four powers of the London experts' report as a basis for the treatment of the Russian problem. The allied governments had not previously pledged themselves as bound by the report of their experts drawn up at London.

Paris Watches Proceedings

PARIS, April 14.—(By the Associated Press) Poincaré and his cabinet are closely following the proceedings at Genoa, in view of circumstances which are taking in official circles here as indicating that the soviet delegates are determined to introduce the idea of disarmament at every opportunity and that the Germans are seeking a chance to link the question of reparations with the economic reconstruction of Europe.

The situation at Genoa, as understood by the foreign office, is that the allied delegations are seeking to find a basis for a practical start in the economic rebuilding of Russia, separate from all political issues.

Pope Shows Way to Peace

GENOA, April 14.—Dr. Wirth, the German chancellor, who heads the Berlin delegation to the economic conference, paid a visit today to Monsignor Signori, archbishop of Genoa, to express appreciation of and gratitude for the interest displayed by Pope Pius in the work of the conference. This already had beneficially affected the gathering, said Dr. Wirth.

Germany, added the chancellor, was looking with satisfaction upon the efforts of the pontiff towards universal peace. "Only by following the advice of Pope Benedict, confirmed by Pius XI, can the world again find the peace it has lost," the chancellor concluded.

KING CONSTANTINE HAS SLIGHT ATTACK

ATHENS, April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—King Constantine was seized with a sudden attack of vomiting yesterday, similar to that he suffered last summer while touring the Greek war front. A bulletin by his physicians last night said he had almost recovered.

Princess Elizabeth, wife of Crown Prince George, who has typhoid fever, was reported as resting comfortably, although with abnormal temperature and pulse.

SYDNEY, N. S., "BROKE"

City's Funds Depleted Because of Coal Strikes and Depression in Industry

SYDNEY, N. S., April 14.—This city, due to coal strikes and long depression in the steel industry, is "broke," according to Mayor William Fitzgerald. Until June no more checks for civic salaries will be signed, the mayor has announced, for the reason that there are no funds at the bank to meet such paper.

The overdraft allowed the city government by law—$214,000—has been expended and there is no way of raising money until June, when taxes become legally collectable.

U. S. Government Takes Pity on Man Who Was Burned
by Explosion of Still

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—The United States government has taken pity on a defendant charged with violating the prohibition law, who was seriously burned by the explosion of a still in his home. The prisoner, Hugh West, nearly lost his life in the explosion.

"I think the ends of justice have been met," said Assistant United States Attorney Wade, after viewing the defendant's many scars.

West was released.

LOWELL PASTOR
WILL TAKE REST

On account of failure of health and inability to perform his duties, Rev. Oliver W. Hutchinson, pastor of the Highland Union Methodist Episcopal church for the last four years, will go to Norwood, within a few days, where his son, Oliver Wesley Hutchinson, Jr., is pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. Hutchinson's health has failed considerably in the last year, and he requested the annual conference not to assign him to a church for the coming year, in which he will endeavor to recover his health. He will enter the Deaconess hospital in Boston for a few days' observation, and may later go to some sanatorium for more lengthy treatment.

Mr. Hutchinson's son was admitted recently to the conference, ordained and assigned to the church at Norwood. He is said to be a young man of much promise. During his father's illness he has been assisting him with his duties at the Lowell church, where he has won the regard of the members. The young man is a teacher of New Testament Greek at Boston University School of Theology, and is also a student in that institution.

Mr. Hutchinson's younger son, Elliot D. Hutchinson, will graduate the coming June from Harvard University, where he has just been named. He has won the "Sheldon Fellowship." These scholarships are awarded to the four leading students in the graduating class. They are "traveling fellowships," and yield $1200 annually to their recipients for use in traveling abroad and observing the habits and customs in other countries, thereby broadening their views. Young Mr. Hutchinson has won many other honors at college, having taken part in debates and public speaking and having held a high rank in scholarship throughout his course of study.

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Colonial hall was well filled last evening for the lecture on "Christian Science: The Interpretation of Truth," by Frank H. Leonard, a member of the board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The speaker stressed the point that truths taught in the bible and truths taught by the founder of the faith, Mary Baker Eddy, are identical and through this connection he attempted to establish the source, identity and solidarity of Christian Science as preached today.

"We shall find that the more we turn to know God as Christian Science teaches God to be, the more loving we shall become, the more consciousness of life we shall have and the more truth we shall discern," said the lecturer. "As every step is taken, the more we shall become conscious of the principle of right thinking so that we can make no mistake, but may go on with the light that never lost a case which came to it for healing."

Had Nervous Indigestion Could not sleep—Lost Weight Only Wincarnis helped her

Miss Helen Miller of 10 Thompson Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
"Let anyone who may question the truth of your claims for Wincarnis come to me and I will soon dispel all their doubts."

A year ago I had a very bad spell of nervous indigestion and although my doctor did all he could for me, nothing he gave me relieved me of the dreadful attack.

I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, my nerves got worse and I rapidly lost weight.

I had read about your wonderful tonic Wincarnis—for wonderful it certainly is—and I decided to give it a trial.
Almost immediately my appetite came back and soon I was able to get a refreshing night's sleep. My nerves grew steady, my indigestion disappeared and I began to put on flesh. In fact, I gained 8 pounds while taking Wincarnis.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

Report Former Sinn Feiner
Shot Down in New York
for Betraying Compatriots

NEW YORK, April 14.—Death today was standing by the bedside of Patrick Connor in the Reconstruction hospital, and ready to seal, perhaps forever, the mystery attending the apparently premeditated attack upon him late last night in one of the most exclusive residence sections of the city. The man who fired four shots into Connor's body had been lying in wait for him near the 83rd street entrance to Central Park, and he was seen by a number of persons conversing with another man and a girl, who were today being sought by the authorities.

One report was that Connor, a former Sinn Feiner, had been shot down in retribution for having betrayed his Irish compatriots to the British.

Schooner With 25 Barrels of Rye Whiskey and 403
Cases of Scotch Detained

NEW YORK, April 14.—The two-masted schooner W. F. Dodge, said to be bound from Nassau, in the Bahama mar, for St. U. Pierre, Aquignon, with a load of liquor, was seized by a police patrol as she was entering the narrows late last night. It was learned today.
The police said they found 25 barrels of rye whiskey and 403 cases of Scotch.
The craft, which was flying the British flag, was turned over to the customs service squad and Captain Herman Hadley and his crew detained for examination.

The police said no clearance papers were found and no documents were discovered to indicate her owners.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO- MANGAN

It is the Safe and Reliable Tonic
Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad."
Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood.
It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

Big Ulcer All Healed

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs.
Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo, N. Y. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."
"Money isn't everything in this world. There is a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 35 cents a large box."
Read this letter, written Feb. 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. "It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.
I know it because I got similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."
Is it any wonder I am happy?
Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.
Dear Mrs. S.—
"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the next box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just one bottle the sore of the ulcer
I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 5 1/2 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

FOR FREE SEEDS

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Another of the annual supply bills, the agricultural appropriation bill, was passed by the senate late yesterday after it had reversed itself and restored the free seeds item for another year. The bill carries approximately $37,250,000, or about a million and a half more than was passed by the house.

The item of $360,000 for the free distribution of seeds was included in the measure as it passed the house and therefore will not be subject to discussion when the bill is taken up for adjustment of differences between the two houses. The vote by which the appropriation was stricken out was 39 to 24, but on reconsideration was restored by a 31 to 30 vote. The free seed amendment of the appropriations committee was the only one which the senate did not accept.

A half dozen amendments were offered by individual senators which served to increase the amount of money set aside for the department of agriculture.

Among the principal changes made in the measure by the senate were increases of $500,000 to the million dollar appropriation for agricultural extension work through farm agents;

$525,000 to the $50,000 appropriation for the purchase of additional forest reserves in the Appalachian district and $300,000 to the $200,000 fund for eradicating the barberry bush, the wheat rust pest. An addition of $75, 000 was made to the appropriation of

$175,000 for fighting the white blister rust.

WHY DOESN'T GERMANY PAY?

The present German problem, which today constitutes one of the greatest obstacles to the recovery of trade throughout the world, is infinitely complex. However, economists agree that the deficit financing of the German government is the one outstanding condition that is causing most of the trouble.

In considering this condition, there are two facts that confront the observer; first, undoubtedly there have occurred important wastes in the internal expenditures of Germany; and second, the tremendous weight of indemnity payments has rendered it impossible for the German authorities to cope with the situation.

The failure to balance the budget has rendered necessary currency inflation to meet deficits and has rendered Germany impotent to accomplish the readjustment of her production machinery necessary to increase her capacity to make fullest possible reparation payments. Economists tell us that currency inflation has introduced into the price situation a disturbing factor of such huge proportions as to disrupt financial and economic relations completely, all as a result of failure to balance the budget.

And yet, week after week, the condition of the German budget constantly grows worse. The deficit increases with inflation of the currency. Even the most drastic retrenchment conceivable in the ordinary expenditures of the government might fail to effect any relief under present social and political conditions in Germany. It seems impossible to reduce the deficit to even manageable proportions, unless some new source of revenue of tremendous amounts can be reached.

In attempting to collect taxes the German government finds itself confronted with a gigantic dilemma. It cannot cease to pay the costs of government; it must not default on indemnity payments to the allies; it cannot collect enough taxes to meet the combined burden; so the issue of treasury notes, which means further inflation of the currency, up to the present, has been the only so-called solution.

However, further inflation is no solution. Matters are going from bad to worse. The question of Germany ever being able finally to settle its indemnity obligations in full is one of retaining her pre-war saving capacity, which depends in turn upon the condition that what is left of the German economic unit can be readjusted and operated with any such degree of efficiency as prevailed before the war. It is to the interest of the allies, therefore, that there be made whatever temporary arrangements are necessary to allow Germany to readjust her production capacity so as to make the fullest possible reparation payments; but any acceptable plan, of course, must comprehend the clearly recognizable needs and rights of the allied governments, some of which also face tremendous fiscal problems.

SLASHING THE NAVY

Throughout the country the opposition is growing against the proposition to cut down the personnel of the navy to 65,000 men. Within the past few days, this opposition has been strengthened by the declaration of the National Scientific League against this policy. The league is to conduct a vigorous campaign against reducing the navy as proposed, on the ground that it would be a national peril. The league in launching its campaign says:

"The Madden-Kelley plan to reduce the United States navy because Japan's in bold defiance of the standard of national requirement and the agreement fixed by the recent conference on the limitation of armaments is a national peril."

Some of the opponents of the proposed reduction say it is not reasonable under the treaty but turned providing for naval disarmament and fixing the ratio at 5:5. That ratio represents the maximum limit over which the powers are not permitted to go, but if the United States wishes to retain its fleet and policy of mere prohibition fleet, as Congressman Gallatin has pointed out, it has the legal right to do so.

Our navy should be maintained at not less than the ratio fixed in the treaty in order that the chief and edited men shall not be less than those of the British navy, nor less than the number of those of the Japanese navy. A weak navy is of no defensive value in an emergency, and national security demands that our navy shall be maintained at the limit fixed by treaty, which is not only very near the line of danger and national insecurity.

DEFEAT IN VICTORY

Nation-wide interest has been shown in the congressional election, held this week in the 35th New York district. The republican candidate can openly upon a dry platform as opposed to Judge Lewis on a democratic platform, emphasizing the demand for a more liberal interpretation of the Volstead act.

The district at the election of 1920 gave a republican majority of 23,740, but in the present election the republican candidate, Lewis Henry, won by the small majority of 3,547. The vote claim that this is a victory for their cause; but it cannot fairly be so regarded, for the reason that public sentiment has been turning against the republicans for over a year because of delays in solving important issues such as the tariff, the bonus, the merchant marine, the navy and various other measures. In New York there is undoubtedly a strong sentiment in opposition to the Volstead law and in favor of light wine and beer; but as this issue was combined with others in the contest, there is no means of telling to what extent it affected the result.

It has caused some jubilation in the camp of the wets, but they are not justified in assuming that the great slump in the republican vote was due entirely to the Volstead act.

In any case, the result bears a warning to the republicans inasmuch as a like slump throughout the country would wipe out the Harding plurality of 7,000,000 and turn the national house over to the democrats.

TRAVEL TO EUROPE

Mr. Edward A. Filene of Boston is appealing to the transatlantic lines and other shipping interests to arrange facilities for cheap ocean travel to Europe. The rates of passage announced on the big liners are very high as compared with those of past years. Mr. Filene has the right idea of what the people want. He thinks hundreds of thousands would make the trip to Europe if the rates were brought within their means. American ship owners should take up this enterprise as a means of booming the tourist business for the summer.

There is undoubtedly a vast number who would gladly spend their summer vacation on a trip to Europe if the rates were moderate, even though the accommodations were reduced to the very simplest.

The rates for single fare in the A. O. L. linerage planned to Ireland are $125 per berth, second class, and $175.00, third class. The first class is from $225 to $400; this for the ocean passage only.

ESKIMO PIE

C. K. Nelson, inventor of the Eskimo pie, is said to be getting $20,000 a week from the simple idea of coating a block of ice cream with a thin layer of hardened chocolate.

He gets his money by selling to ice cream manufacturers the right to make Eskimo pies at a royalty of five cents a dozen, which is very high.

Nelson sits in his office, with an army of checkers on the road, counting his money.

He makes a million every eight months. Not as much as Henry Ford or John D. Rockefeller, but Nelson is the son of a village confectioner at Ogdensburg, and a year or so ago he had no idea that vast riches were in store for him.

Fortunately, there is such a thing as luck—chance. The lure keeps many working at top-speed who otherwise might become discouraged. This is an illustration of the psychology of Nature.

GOLD PRODUCTION

Wall Street, constantly surveying all sources of riches, finds that the world last year mined 15,522,506 ounces of gold, worth around $320,000,000.

As far as actual utility is concerned, this gold was about the most useless substance produced by man in 1921.

It continues "valuable" however, and is thus a constant reminder of man's fear that his fellows are dishonest and will not live up to their obligations, unless bound by a gold mortgage. Even the Chinese, instinctively honest, worship gold and its winking brother, silver.

Later, when all men become 100 per cent honest, there will be no incentive for mining gold, except for use in the arts, but this ideal state must await the coming of the millennium.

OUR DEBT

Uncle Sam has bought up and retired $3,024,373,150 worth of Liberty Bonds and Victory notes. Partly counteracting this is a lot of certificates of indebtedness—money borrowed in advance of tax payments, to pay bills.

The national debt, however, has been reduced $2,705,377,109 from its peak of Aug. 31, 1919, and now totals $23,144,616,193.

If the same rate of reduction is continued, the whole national debt as it is today will be wiped out in 1934, but long before that time we may have some national upheaval that will keep the debt still in the tens of billions.

OUR IDLE SHIPS

Hearings on the merchant marine bill will soon be started before a congressional committee at Washington.

That means that the discussion will run into the summer and that it may be well on in the fall before any decision can be reached. This is one of the big questions that in the history of the country should be decided promptly, but which are held up in a hopeless tangle of controversy. While the arguments go on, the government ships are idle. Similarly, the tariff is held up to the great detriment of business throughout the country.

Dear traps for burglars would be all right if it was only other than burglars who used them to step into them. When a burglar has been detected by a trap and caught the burglar, the trap may add the police but if it should come into general use the burglar would have to add flashlights to their equipment.

The city departments are rapidly whipping things into shape around the Memorial Auditorium. The construction of the riverbank wall along the Concord is one of the most important features of the work.

Thought for Today

Would we codify the laws that should reign in households, and whose daily transgression annoys and mortifies us, and degrades our household life, we must learn to adorn every day with sacrifices. Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices. Temperance, courage, love, are made up of the same jewels. Listen to every prompting of honor.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

A Word a Day

Today's word is "sophisticated." It's pronounced—so-fas-ti-kay-ed, with accent on the second syllable. It means—worldly wise, versed in the artificial phases of life, experienced. It comes from—Latin "sophisticare," to make wise, from Greek "sophos," wise. Comparison word—unsophisticated. It's used like this—"City girls have the reputation of being much more sophisticated than their country cousins."

Goldring's Beginning

Having made his money, Mr. Goldring became the usual target for questions on "How to Make Cash Quickly," and such topics. The other day he got some of his own back. A particularly persistent questioner had been wasting his valuable time, and then asked: "I understand, Mr. Goldring, that you started life as a newsboy." The rich man seized his chance. "My dear sir," he replied bluntly, "you have been misinformed. I began life in the usual way—as an infant."

The Lesser Evil

"Most public utterances," remarked a well-known speaker, "bore both the audience and the speaker and about equally. I always feel glad when called upon to speak, however, for I often find myself in the position of an amateur actor in my acquaintance. He was in all the theatricals going in his small town. He played all sorts of parts. I asked him one day if he did not get tired of appearing in every private theatrical performance. 'Yes,' he replied, 'I do not. I know if I am not on the stage I shall have to sit in the audience.'—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

The Pause of Emphasis

An historic old church in Charleston, S. C., had at one time a very eccentric pastor, whose congregation never knew just what he would do next. One hot July afternoon he entered his pulpit, with the sounding board above, sat down and wiped the perspiration from his face, remarking in a calm, untroubled voice: "Darned hot day." Of course, the congregation was thunderstruck. With all his peculiarities, they had not dreamed of anything like this. So still was the audience that the drop of a pin could have been heard. After a long time, when the perspiration had been carefully wiped from cheek and brow, he concluded: "That's what I heard an irreverent young man say as I came in."—Harper's Magazine.

A Super-Cow

Some years ago the last remaining farmer in a prosperous New York suburb bequeathed to his son his only property, 16 acres of land, a run-of-the-mill barn and one cow. The young recipient had no money to develop the land, and was at a loss to know what to do with his cow, whose habits he did not understand. He finally decided to keep her as a remembrance of his father, and she grazed away contentedly. Ten years later the same man voluntarily disposed of the land at $1600 a lot, or $192,000 for the whole. Based on this valuation, the taxes during the 10 years would have amounted to something like $15,000, whereas, because of the cow, the property had been given a farm classification, and had been taxed during the period only $1600.—Wall Street Journal.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Next Tuesday evening's "smoker" at the Knights of Columbus rooms promises to be a very successful event. It may be judged by the plans already outlined. The occasion is arranged, of course, for the fitting celebration of Patriots day. The main feature of the evening is certain to draw the members to the rooms in large numbers for Hon. Charles S. O'Connor is well known to them as an eloquent speaker and a man of high scholarly attainments, and his discussion on thoughts suggested by Patriots day will be decidedly entertaining. The musical program and collation, which are to be additional features, will be welcomed as usual. The local council has a great supply of good talent, who can give an entertainment whenever called upon and will be in excellent form for this occasion, and the refreshment details are always well attended to at affairs conducted at the council rooms.

Styles for women are not the only ones undergoing changes. The information given to men by connoisseurs of men's clothes is to be rolled upon. The downfall of the full dress coat with its swallow-tails seems to be approaching. For some time past, such attire has become more and more rare in big city theatres and restaurants. A writer in the New York World declares: "A man in a full dress suit is a curiosity now according to the headwaiter of one of the big white wash cabarets. Of 600 men in the restaurant the other night only three of them wore swallow-tails. The others came in Tuxedos or in business clothes." On the subject of full dress and Tuxedos I might say that strictly speaking, however the aristocratic designation for the tailcoat is not "Tuxedo" but "dinner coat."

The preliminary survey of dairy conditions in New England made by the committee of the New England Milk Producers association shows some interesting facts regarding the distribution of milk in New England. In the three states New England states there is only one cow for every 20 persons while in the three northern New England states there is a cow for every 2½ persons. The economic problem which the pooling committee faces is to work out a system by which the market milk will be transported the least possible distance to the markets. The data which has been collected on the shipment of milk unnecessarily long distances, indicates that more than $1,000,000 a year is taken out of the dairy farmers in freight charges alone. This waste could be eliminated by the substitution of a carefully planned out system of distribution between the farmers and the cities, to replace the present uneconomic competitive system in which every dealer buys here and there and everywhere.

Skirts are longer and necks higher in new styles at the Atlantic City spring fashion show. No neckers are displayed. The reaction to modesty in feminine dress is a straw in the wind. How far will the pendulum swing back toward old-fashioned garb? It will be interesting to watch. Woman, in dressing, skillfully defends her mystery by scolding the unexpected. Men get set in their ways. Women constantly are hungry for something new. That will mean governmental progress when they obtain political control of the country, with an adrenal-type woman as first president in the White House.

Why do women quit a job quicker than men? A New York state commission, based on 23,000 workers, half men, half women, and found that the "labor turnover" was 12½ women to 92 men. It was learned that most of the employed women were young. Youth is a restless rainbow chaser. Women, too, usually quit business when they marry, while the married man comes back after the honeymoon, more anchored to his job. Allowing for these factors, women in business are no more restless than men.

SMILING BILL

Congressmen may rant about Bill Taft staying up till 10.30 at night, but the chief justice of the supreme court just laughed at them. This was snapped when he was made a life member of the Congressional Country club.

MEETING OF LOWELL LIFE UNDERWRITERS

J. Elmore Chamberlain, special agent of the Massachusetts Mutual, was elected president of the Lowell Life Underwriters at the regular monthly meeting held in the Fairbairn building, by a unanimous vote, the nomination being made by George H. Spillane, superintendent of the John Hancock, representative of the local association on the executive committee of the Boston Life Underwriters' association. The meeting was largely attended, there being present representatives of practically all the life insurance companies having either offices or local representation in the Greater Lowell field.

The speakers at the meeting were three, one of whom was Mr. John F. Daley, agent of the Boston Mutual who gave an interesting picture of conditions in the devastated area of France where he was engaged in war work, graphically describing the French villages and particularly the wonderful spirit of the French people as exemplified during the reconstruction period.

Daniel Doran, assistant superintendent of the John Hancock, spoke upon selling points particularly with reference to the viewpoint of the prospective insurer.

An address of unusual comprehensiveness by Mr. D. S. Hickey of Boston was given on super-salesmanship as applied to life insurance. Mr. Hickey

DIES AFTER BEING ASLEEP THREE YEARS

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 14.—Jim Eslinger, aged 62 years, who has been asleep continuously for three years, died at the County hospital yesterday. Physicians say he was not suffering from sleeping sickness but from mental paralysis. He apparently was insensible to pain, was immobile and his eyes were closed.

Eslinger had been trained to start and stop work at the sound of a gong by an English breeder.

Adventures of the Twins

WEATHER MAN'S STAR

MR. SPRINKLE BLOW LAUGHED LOUD AND LONG.

Mr. Sprinkle Blow up on his star in the sky was simply delighted to see the Twins.

"My, my! Did you come to help me again, kiddies? I've missed you terribly."

"We'd like to stay, but we can't," said Nancy. "We want you to help us this time, kind Mr. Fairymen." And she told him all about the errand she and Nick were on, and how they could not get over the Elderdown Mountain because the feathers inside of it were so fluffy and soft that they sank at every step, and Nancy had almost been lost completely.

"Well, well," remarked Mr. Sprinkle Blow. "What can I do, my dears? That's the part of the world I know nothing about."

Then Nick told him what the red feather pen had written on the magic paper. How it had told him to ask for a rainstorm to flatten the feathers. Mr. Sprinkle Blow laughed loud and long. "Ha, ha, ho! Ho, ho, ho!" he roared. "Why, you didn't need a fairy to tell you that, did you? Anyone with sense would know that feathers—ha, ha, ha! I beg your pardon. I didn't mean to laugh," he declared, sobering suddenly when he saw Nick's offended look. "Sure as you're born, I'd never have thought of it myself. But it just shows that brains are as good as magic any day. But there! Let's see! I'll just roll my barrel marked Regular Fourdowns onto a cloud and get West Wind to push the cloud to the right spot, then I'll turn on the spigot. Your Elderdown Mountain will be as flat as a banana fritter in five minutes."

The fairymen had another idea. "Say!" he said. "If you two can wish yourselves up to the sky why didn't you wish yourselves across this mountain?"

"We're not allowed," said Nick. "It's a rule of the country that we must walk."

OBSERVED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Tuttle at 1514 Bridge street, Dracut, was last evening the scene of a happy gathering, the occasion being an informal reception in honor of the couple who were observing their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle were showered with gifts, congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle were married in Nashua, N. H., April 13, 1872, by Rev. Mr. Carter. They lived in Nashua for some time and then came to Lowell, whence they moved to Dracut. For a period of about 30 years Mr. Tuttle was overseer of the spinning department of the Massachusetts mills of this city. Five children were born to the couple and they were all present at last evening's jollification.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

What You Can Do To Cut Your Next Year's Income Tax

By R. A. CONKEY
Tax Consultant, Central National Bank Savings & Trust Company, Cleveland

The time for filing individual income tax returns for the calendar year 1921 has just passed, and no doubt most of us will give the subject little thought again until the time comes when we will have to file our returns for 1922.

The purpose of this article is to impress on the minds of taxpayers the importance of keeping some kind of a record of their taxable incomes and allowable expenses for the year.

Often taxpayers would be rightfully entitled to deduct from their gross income amounts spent during the year for certain items, but they have no records of the amount of the item and hesitate to claim the deduction for fear they may be called upon to substantiate the amount claimed.

This, of course, could not be done without some record of the transaction. If some simple records were kept, the item could be consolationously claimed and result in a saving of tax to the taxpayer.

Another great advantage where records are kept is that the task of making up the return is simplified and results in a saving of time to yourself and the person assisting you.

It is also important to the taxpayer that his items of income are clearly analyzed, as certain kinds of income are entirely exempt from the tax, some are subject to both normal and surtax, and others are only subject to the surtax.

Following are a few suggestions as to items of which records should be kept.

Salary.—A record should be kept of the amount received from each source.
Interest on Bank Deposits, Notes, Mortgages and Corporation Bonds.—As certain corporation bonds contain a tax-free covenant clause and a portion of the normal tax is assumed by the debtor corporation, the amount of this interest should be kept separate, as you are allowed as a credit the amount of tax paid for you by the corporation.

Interest on municipal bonds is exempt from the tax and need not be reported. Interest on Liberty and Victory bonds is entirely exempt from the normal tax, but in certain cases is subject to the surtax and therefore a record should be kept of the amount of interest received from each issue.

Rents and Royalties.—If you own renting property, a record should be kept of the amount of rent received, the amount expended for repairs and other expenses.

Business or Profession.—Your records should show the total receipts from the business and a well itemized list of the business expenses.

Sale of Real Estate.—If you sell real estate during the year, note the year in which it was acquired, cost price, March 1, 1913, value, if acquired prior to that date, cost of subsequent improvements, amount of depreciation claimed in former years and sale price.

Sale of Stocks and Bonds.—If you sell stocks or bonds during the year, note the year acquired, cost price,
March 1, 1913, value, if acquired prior to that date, and the sale price.

Dividends.—If you receive dividends on stocks of domestic corporations, the amount should be kept separate as they are not subject to the normal tax; and if your net income including dividends does not exceed $6000 they do not enter into your computation.

Interest Paid.—With a very few exceptions, all interest paid is an allowable deduction and therefore a careful record of the amounts paid should be kept.

Taxes Paid.—All taxes, with a few exceptions, are allowable deductions and a record of the kinds and amounts should be kept. One item of taxes, which very few people keep any record of, is the luxury tax; this is an allowable deduction, and no doubt if you jot down the dates and amounts as you pay them, you would be very much surprised at the end of the year to see how they had accumulated.

Contributions.—Gifts to organized charitable, religious and educational institutions are allowable deductions and a record should be kept of the names of institutions with the amounts given to each.

Losses.—If you have suffered any loss during the year from fire, storm, theft, etc., make a note of cost on March 1, 1913, value, depreciation previously claimed, salvage value and insurance received.

It is not necessary that the average individual keep a set of double entry books, but some simple form of record should be kept. Even a vest pocket memorandum will do.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Conquered or Money Back

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

For over 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing my Marsh-Root for kidney, liver and bladder ailments and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan.
Hundreds of kidney diseases thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.
Watch the symptoms. If you have swollen feet, backache, puffiness eyes, cloudy or red or moist palms, backache or headache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marsh-Root right away.

Kidney and bladder troubles vanish as if by magic under its beneficial influence. It pushes, builds up, and feeds inactive kidneys, stimulating them to normal activity. Tones up shrunken, lazy kidney tissues and by neutralizing the irritating acids in the urine ends all bladder weakness.

NOTE: Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, Marsh-Root, cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Therefore you can always get this effective prescription in both liquid and tablet form at Dosey drug store, Fred Howard and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marsh-Root prescription No. 777.
No other medicine can take its place.

"Great Tree of Tule" Beginning to Show Signs of Wear and Tear

MEXICO CITY, April 14.—The "Great Tree of Tule," in the state of Oaxaca, after some 800 years of recorded existence, is beginning to show signs of wear and tear. This giant cypress, with a trunk so huge that 30 persons with outstretched arms can scarcely span it, is known to have been a fair sized tree when Columbus discovered America, and history recounts that Cortes and his Spanish soldiers slept beneath its branches four centuries ago when en route to Honduras following their conquest of Mexico.

But although time has dealt kindly with the monarch, the correspondent during a visit to the tiny village of Santa Maria del Tule, Oaxaca, noticed that the wrinkles of age are beginning to show. There is no immediate cause for worry, however, that Tule, as the Indians affectionately call the tree, will wither away before the present generation has passed on. And even if it should, Tule has a son some 50 yards away from the parental boughs that is showing healthy signs of maintaining the family honor in the matter of robustness. Hijo (son), as the Indians have named it, already is so large that 12 persons are needed to span it and Hijo is only a couple of hundred years old.

The Great Tree of Tule rises about 175 feet, and is said to be one of the largest specimens in the world. The spread of its branches is almost 160 feet. It stands in the courtyard of a tiny church and is the only bid for popular interest made by the village of Santa Maria del Tule, whose population reveres the tree almost as much as one of its saints.

WALPOLE ISLAND MOST PECULIAR IN WORLD

SYDNEY, N.E.W. (by Mail).—A description of what is believed to be one of the most peculiar islands in the world and one of the loneliest spots in the Pacific, Walpole Island, which has been submerged by the ocean at least six times from all indications, was given here today by A. C. Mackay, F.R.G.S., representative of the Austral Guano company on the island.

Walpole is about 150 miles east by south of Noumea and contains great deposits of guano. With Surprise Island and the Chesterfield group, it is leased by the Austral concern. It is a limestone table, 250 feet from the ocean, accessible at only one spot, at a break in the cliffs where steps have been cut.

Mackay said that there were remarkably clear indications on the cliffs of successive water levels and that pumice, coral and other shells on this curiously raised platform showed that at least six times it must have been at or under sea level. Many traces of ancient human habitation were found in the form of walls, obviously built by man, columns of coral eight and nine feet high, large tombs and clam shell bladed instruments, several specimens of which Mackay has presented to the Australian museum. Fresh water supplies were discovered in two caves. Mackay expressed the opinion that formerly there was a much greater land surface than at present.

"I found undoubted signs of prehistoric habitation," he said. "I also found in places, where the guano ceases on to the coral, the remains of the humped turtle which I am informed have been found nowhere else except in South American and Lord Howe Island."

Mackay said that probably the former inhabitants had escaped in boats when the ocean rose and submerged the island or that they had been drowned in the rising tide. The present population of the island consists of six white men, 30 Japanese and about 100 Loyalty Islanders. The singing of these islanders serves to make life less monotonous than it would be otherwise, Mackay said.

Poultry and goats are raised for food while vegetables and fruits grow luxuriantly, tomatoes, growing as large as 2 and 3 pounds in weight. Cricket and fishing are the main amusements of the residents. On Sundays the Loyalty Islanders hold two church services, which the whole population attends, he said.

UNDERGROUND CABLE SYSTEM IN ITALY

ROME, April 14.—Italy is to have a national underground telephone cable system. The first section is to be laid immediately in order to ensure regularity in the inter-urban services between Turin, Milan and Genoa. It is hoped this work will be completed in 1924.

Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—Adv.

Radio To Carry Sermons 400 Miles to Pastor's Invalid Mother

By N.E.A. Service
SHREVEPORT, La., Apr. 14.—Every Sunday for two years Mrs. Lucy Williams Dodd, 80, has sat in her little home at Trenton, Tenn., longing to hear her son preach.

But she could not. She's an invalid and can scarcely leave her home, much less go to Shreveport, 400 miles away, where her son, Dr. M. E. Dodd, is pastor of the First Baptist church.

Still on Easter Sunday Mrs. Dodd will hear her son preach.

The powerful radio apparatus at the church here will send out Dr. Dodd's sermon and the aged mother will sit at a receiving set in her home and hear it!

Sermons For All
That's not all—scores of small Baptist churches, served by circuit-riding pastors, have installed radio sets and will hear the Shreveport services.

The First Baptist church here claims to be the only church in the world operating a powerful radio broadcasting station in its own plant. Its antenna stretches from the top of the 10-story tower of the church.

The station has a normal radius of 1500 miles but under favorable conditions can be heard from coast to coast, and by ship at sea.

A 200-watt set, sending on a 260-metre wave length, is used.

The new home of the First Baptist church has just been completed, representing an expenditure of $500,000. It will accommodate more than 7000 people at one time. It is said to be the largest Baptist church in the world.

DUNCAN GIVES SOME CODE TIPS

By R. L. DUNCAN
Director Radio Institute of America
The best way for radio enthusiasts to get ahead is to get together.

Once the ABC of the wireless code is learned, I advise the fan to join with others. Progress is more rapid and the work more interesting.

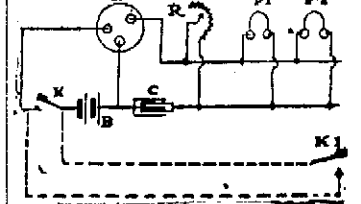

If you cannot make such an arrangement, there are two mechanical devices which will help you develop speed and certainty.

One is a set of phonograph records. The other is a machine used by the government in testing applicants for wireless licenses. It can be regulated to any speed.

Buzzer Hook-Up

Just clunking together is the best

Idea.
If five or six amateurs get together I suggest their rigging up the circuit diagrammed here. The essentials are:
A battery of primary cells (B) from to 6 volts; telegraph key (K); buzzer (Z); a two microfarad condenser (C); any number of headphones (P).

Along the dotted line is another sending key (K1) in shunt to the main key (K). Any number of phones and keys may be employed with this hook-up. But only one key may be used at a time.

Members of the group could take turns sending, while the others listen in and copy his message.

Adjusting Signals

An adjustable rheostat (R) of 400 ohms resistance should be shunted across the telephone circuit so that the strength of the signals may be reduced or increased as desired. Ordinarily 75 or 100 ohms single head receivers should be used.

The total cost of the material necessary for six students would not be over $20. This would include six head receivers and keys.

The adjustable rheostat may be dispensed with if you want to keep the expense down. The condenser may be one used in land line telegraph or telephone work. Its function is to give a reproduction of the note of the buzzer vibrator through charge and discharge.

RADIO SPARKS

Electron—The smallest known particle of matter. It is about one eighteen-hundredth part of an atom of hydrogen, which is the smallest of the chemical atoms. It carries the smallest known charge of negative electricity.

Insulator—Any substance through which electricity will not flow, used to keep an electrical current from "jumping" or "short-circuiting" from its conducting wire to another conductor not intended to carry the current.

Coil—Coils keep the radio waves to their prescribed course, from the antenna through the lead-in to the wireless apparatus and ground.

LOCAL RADIO FANS ARE BUSY

Work of "Air" Enthusiasts Somewhat Hampered by Atmospheric Conditions

Lowell Radio Club Plans Annual Dance and Club-house in Suburbs

Atmospheric conditions have greatly hampered the work of local radio enthusiasts during the past few days. At this time of the year the electricity in the air is constantly on the increase, reaching its apex in July and August, and consequently the receiving apparatus is decidedly handicapped. A constant crackling or scratchy sound interferes, and the result is much less gratifying than in the winter months, one used in land line telegraph or telephone work.

During the past few days Medford Hillside has been about the only audible station; although Pittsburgh, Pa., Solonstad, N. Y., and Springfield, Mass., are heard occasionally.

A visit to the quarters of the Lowell Radio club last night found a number of the members, with a gathering of friends, listening to a concert from Medford Hillside. The majority of the members, however, were busy with plans for the annual dance by the organization. The concert numbers from Medford were plainly audible, although the atmospheric condition gave the effect of a gramophone concert with a worn-out needle.

The Medford-Hillside station is now testing every afternoon, and many people in the city are taking advantage of the opportunity of hearing music by radio.

Local operators are much interested in the government plan, by which each broadcasting station will be put on a different wave length. The experts say that this will eliminate a lot of interference, and hope that the project will be executed at once.

The amateurs in the city are getting fairly long distance messages now, averaging from 150 to 1600 miles. One

Lowell station has talked with a station in Atlanta, Ga.

One of the great handicaps, outside of atmospheric conditions, to stations in the traffic district, is the great interference of the high tension wires, telephones, telegraph, electric light and trolley. This is increasingly noticeable as one nears Merrimack square. In order to overcome this added restriction, the local organization is planning a clubhouse somewhere in the suburbs, where the interference of high tension wires will not be felt to an appreciable extent.

MAKING A CABINET FOR RADIO SET

Director, Radio Institute of America

To give the short wave regenerative receiving set the finishing touch that marks the instrument-made article, mount it in a cabinet.

Any handy amateur should be able to do this without much trouble or expense.

The front of the cabinet—the panel—should be of bakelite about 30 by 10 inches. This costs about $4. Arrange the instruments so that they conform to the diagram:

1—Variable condenser in the antenna circuit.

2—Grid variometer.

3—Vario-coupler.

4—Plate variometer.

5—Switch and taps from primary of vario-coupler.

6—Binding posts for aerial and ground.

7—"A" battery rheostat for controlling filament current in vacuum tube detector.

8—Small holes drilled in panel so that vacuum tubes may be observed without opening cabinet.

Mark off and mount the dials. These semi-circular indicators may be purchased for a small sum. They are not necessary, but they add neatness to the finished product. The switches and pointers can be made easily.

The cabinet itself should be of well seasoned wood.

Eight binding posts are needed, as shown in the diagram.

Use No. 20 bare copper wire for connecting set up. Then get insulation known as "spaghetti" and slip over the wires.

Avoid as much as possible running the connecting wires parallel on account of inductance.

It is a good plan to line the inside of the cabinet with copper or thin sheet brass, cutting the metal so that it does not touch any of the instruments. Ground this shield to the regular ground binding post.

This does away with body capacity. The capacity of the operator's body is sometimes very noticeable in its effect on the receiving tuner. Unless the cabinet is shielded and the shield is properly grounded so that the body capacity is carried away, the action of the receiving set may be hampered considerably.

The least number of wires used for connecting the more efficient the set. The "A" or filament battery should be one of six volts 60 to 120 ampere hours. The "B" or plate battery should be a 22½ volt dry battery. The phones should have 2000 or 3000 ohms resistance.

A set similar to this has received code messages from a transmitting station 2000 miles away.

PROBES MACHINATIONS OF FLAPPER SOCIETY

CHICAGO, April 14.—State's Attorney Crews wants to know whether the shifters have an organization morally detrimental or whether it is a harmless fad. Today he began an investigation into the machinations of the flapper society, which is said to have spread its doctrines rapidly through Chicago and which already has two men fighting over the title of King Bee of the western organization.

Charges that shifters encourage promiscuous kisses between strangers and familiarities as the initiation for brought criticism from reformers and school heads, which caused the investigation.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

LLOYD GEORGE HAD GOOD TIME WITH CRONIES

CRICCIETH, Wales, April 14.—Premier Lloyd George is never so happy as when swapping stories about his boyhood days with old cronies of his native Wales.

During his last visit here he gave a tea party to 19 ancient who were his father's pupils at Troedyrall school more than 60 years ago. The senior "old boy" was John Jones, 81, who still works as a carpenter. Next to Jones was William Davies, an assistant teacher under the premier's father, who testified to the latter's handiness with the cane on occasions. Another guest was John Williams, now blind, who used to carry love messages between the premier's father and mother. The "old boys" told their host many stories of his father he had never heard before, and all were in the heat of spirit. Old John Jones made the premier roar with laughter by the quaint way he told a story of the local indignation many years ago, when a minister preached from a text which another minister had used the previous Sunday.

Getting up late in the morning, working in the garden, and listening to Welsh music are his chief pleasures during his visits, and when the weather is threatening he sits on his covered balcony wrapped in a gaudy shawl.

"They say," he remarked on his last visit, "that I must go back to school in a few days. They say I am playing truant. Yet they all followed me, including the newspapers. I wish they would leave me alone for at least a fortnight; it would be better for them and certainly better for me."

Mechanics' wages have been increased 20 to 30 per cent. in Canton, China.

For each inch of rainfall recorded 101 tons of water have fallen on one acre of soil.

PLANES TO CARRY 200 PASSENGERS

Daily Flights Between New York and Chicago

Soon to Be Inaugurated

Planes Costing $2,000,000 to

Cover Distance in 10 Hours

CHICAGO, April 14.—Daily flights between New York and Chicago by planes carrying 200 persons, will be inaugurated soon, according to an announcement by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick. She told a meeting of the women's committee of the civil aviation association yesterday that she became interested in the plans for the airline 10 years ago. She predicted that in a short time, transcontinental passenger planes exceeding those now in use in Europe in capacity, appointment and comfort will be operated.

"It was almost two years ago," said Mrs. McCormick, "that the plans were submitted to me and I became very much interested. They provide for 10 passenger planes costing $2,000,000 each with a capacity of 200 persons and 25,000 pounds of extra freight."

"We expect that they will negotiate the distance between Chicago and New York in 10 hours. The rates will be as reasonable as those of our transcontinental trains today, and a round trip can be made easily in a single day."

GOOD WEATHER FOR EASTER SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The much-criticized snapper found a friend today in the weather bureau which indicated that he might go forth on Easter wearing his bright colored suit and periwinkle hat without fear of rain.

Generally fair weather for Sunday was seen by the bureau for that portion of the country east of the Mississippi river and probably for the southeastern states. Disturbed conditions, however, may prevail from the Great Lakes west to the Pacific coast, it was said. Moderate temperatures will be experienced through the south while in the north the weather generally will be cool, but not cold.

third death in a tragic series which began last December when Dr. Abraham Glickstein, a practitioner of some prominence in Brooklyn, was slain by a woman who had been admitted with other patients to his office.

Dr. Glickstein's mother fell dead when she viewed his body upon its being taken into the Glickstein home.

Three days after the shooting a woman named Mrs. Lillian Glickstein, rendered to the police, confessing she had shot and killed Dr. Glickstein. Mrs. Reizen is now a prisoner in the Raymond street jail, this city, awaiting trial before the King's county court on a charge of murder.

To Observe Golden Jubilee

Continued

In relation to the designation of Forest Protection week, Governor Cox says:

"The preservation and development of our forests will contribute to our industrial welfare and add to our individual comfort and enjoyment. It will be helpful in this direction if all our officers of public instruction and of civic and commercial organizations in compliance with the request of President Harding unite in thought and action for the protection of our splendid heritage by planning such educational and instructive exercises as shall bring before the people the disastrous effects of the present waste by forest fires."

In speaking of Arbor day and setting apart April 23 for its observance, the governor's proclamation reads:

"I earnestly recommend its general observance throughout the commonwealth by the planting of trees, shrubs and vines, with special effort to repair the awful damage wrought by the severe storm of the past winter. In such a noble endeavor we may induce the thoughtless to refrain from careless and wanton waste and make possible the increased richness of our bird life. May each of us share in the golden jubilee of Arbor day that we may have a deeper feeling for him who said:

"I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree."

ATTEMPT TO BLOCK TAG DAY

U. T. W. Granted Permit to Collect Funds in Peabody
Tomorrow

O. B. U. to Send Members to City in Attempt to Keep Contributions Small

LAWRENCE, April 14.—The United Textile Workers of America have been granted a permit for a tag day in Peabody tomorrow and Ben Legere of the One Big Union announced this morning that his organization, through sympathizers in Peabody and through the efforts of a local committee which will go to Peabody, will attempt to keep the contributions small. Legere asserted that he had tried to have the permit revoked, but said he had been told by the mayor of Peabody that inasmuch as it had been granted it would have to stand.

Legere stated that calls for relief have been far below the number made during the first three weeks of the strikes of 1912 and 1919. He said his organization is endeavoring to raise funds to care for all needy cases but said that in soliciting funds his relief committee has found that U. T. W. committees have "bought the city" and made it hard for others to collect any appreciable amount of money.

Organizer Francis J. Gorman of the U. T. W. said this forenoon that a great deal of money has been collected by his organization during the week and that a complete report will be made public later. Meetings scheduled for this afternoon were called off because of the Good Friday observance, but girls will sell tags at some of the mill gates at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Tickets were sent to the Acadia mills this morning but there was little for them to do, according to Mr. Gorman.

LOWELL QUARTET HELD

Two Men and Two Women
Brought Into Auburn, Me.,
Court for Rum Running

AUBURN, Me., April 14.—Planes aggregating $200 and jail sentences of four months were imposed in municipal court yesterday on each of four Lowell, Mass., residents convicted of illegal possession and illegal transportation of liquor. They were Victor Levesque, Edward Paradis, Flora and Orlene Bedard. All appeared and furnished bail for hearing in superior court. Two of the accused are men and two are women.

Levesque asked for a retrial and then denied he was a member of the auto party arrested by deputy sheriffs Wednesday night. His retraction resulted in a charge of perjury. He waived trial, pleading guilty to conviction, was placed in $1000 bonds.

Sheriff Stevens and deputies ambushed the quartet as the automobile, unable to travel on a muddy country road, was being towed toward the city. They identified Levesque as a man who was standing on the running board and who fled at the approach of the officers only to be arrested yesterday morning.

Fifty gallons of alcohol were seized.

Miss Holmes Resting Comfortably at Pawtucket, R. I., Hospital

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 14.—Miss Margaret Holmes, who was shot over the heart while walking with Hugh Bunting on Wednesday night, is reported to be resting comfortably at the hospital. The police have been unable to trace the ownership of the revolver found near the scene of the shooting but are satisfied that the story told by Miss Holmes and Bunting about the attack being made by two young men who apparently meant to rob them is true. Bunting after being detained at the police station for a short time was allowed to go home.

Airplane Camera Aids City Planning

By EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, April 13.—Aerial photography is the newest aid to city planning.

TO IGNORE O. B. U. THREAT

McMahon Tells U. T. W. to

"Take No Notice" of Legere
—Fight for Control of State

LAWRENCE, Mass., April 14.—Telephoning last night from Providence, Thomas P. McMahon, president of the method. The vertical photograph is called a "mosaic," because it is a series of many photographs, each taken at the exact moment the airplane passes directly over each division, and then fitted together. The map of New York was made in a single flight of 69 minutes, the airplane, with a camera fitted in the floor, being nearly two miles in the air.

United Textile Workers of America, instructed the headquarters of that organization here to "take no notice" of One Big Union threats to picket the U. T. W. offices here in the fight for control of the Lawrence textile strike. Ben Legere, head of the One Big Union here, announced earlier in the day that within two days he would commence to picket the United Textile Workers headquarters. "Idle talk," said President McMahon in his message last night. "We will take no action until Legere does something definite. If he actually sends pickets we will make some legal move to prevent it." The contest between the rival organizations yesterday was the outstanding feature of the strike situation. United Textile's heads refused to take seriously a second threat by Legere that he would seek an injunction to restrain them from collecting strike relief funds. The One Big Union chief charged that collections made for the benefit of all strikers were being used for members of the United Textile Workers alone.

In a Good Friday proclamation issued yesterday, Mayor Daniel W. Mahony made a veiled reference to the

SHREDDED KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

"I wish my boy was rugged like Billy!"

Red-blooded, physically courageous children stand out sharply against puny types! Such contrasts are painful enough in childhood! What future can the undersized stripling expect?

Science proves that in most cases that contrast represents the difference between the properly nourished child and the child brought up on foods out of which life-sustaining elements have been bleached—devitalized, denatured!

You should know that Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time in food history—are what your child needs every day! And, it is just as important that every member of your family eats KRUMBLES! For, KRUMBLES contain every food element that the body demands—and in perfect proportion!

Whole-wheat KRUMBLES produce red blood and bone and muscle! They make children grow big and strong and robust; they build physical courage and mental vigor! KRUMBLES fortify men and women for the day's work! KRUMBLES sustain the aged as nothing else can! All grocers sell KRUMBLES.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

textile strike situation. Calling upon business places and factories to close so that employees might be able to attend Good Friday services, the mayor added:

"Let us invoke His example to the end that employers of labor may be brought to realize that the laborer is worthy of his hire and that he is entitled to a just and proper proportion of the rewards of his industry."

"That the employee may realize that good order and peace are essential to our liberties and that peaceful, orderly methods will be effective in crystallizing public opinion in their favor which when all is said and done, is the final arbiter of all public disputes."

"Police were called last night to the assistance of members of the Art Square Weavers' union, affiliated with the United Textile Workers, when members of the One Big Union attempted to prevent the rival body from holding a meeting."

The union meets on the third floor of a building which on the second floor houses the headquarters of the One Big Union here. When girls, members of the Weavers' union, were passing the door of the O.B.U. office, on their way to their meeting, they were stopped. They called in police and proceeded with their meeting under guard.

Last night Ben Legere, head of the One Big Union forces, sent letters to officials of many New England cities and towns, warning them against "being imposed upon by organizations claiming to represent the Lawrence strikers." The letters mentioned the United Textile Workers of America by name. They made the claim that the One Big union represented "the twenty thousand workers of Lawrence, both organized and unorganized, who are either on strike or idle because of shut-downs, with the exception of about four hundred United Textile Workers members and three hundred members of the American Federation of Textile Operatives."

The letters were signed by Florence

Shokman, secretary; Robert Burns, chairman, and Bert Emsley, treasurer of the One Big union.

OUT TO DEFEAT R. I. GOVERNMENT

2000 Strikers Pledge Themselves to United Action at Polls in Fall

Action Follows Refusal to Permit Strikers to Enter
State House

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 13.—Approximately 2000 textile strikers from the Blackstone Valley appeared at the state house today to stage a demonstration for passage of a 48-hour working week bill in the senate. They were met by a force of capital guards and city police, however, and denied admission to the chamber. Under leadership of Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers, the strikers then marched out upon the steps of the capital where an impromptu mass meeting was held. President McMahon and Organizer John M. Powers addressed the crowd, pleading for observance of law and order and defeat of the present state government at the polls in November.

The 2000 men and women pledged themselves to united action against the state government at the ballot box in the fall, and then returned to their homes.

GLoucester, April 13.—The trial for slander of Mayor Peter W. Wheeler or was resumed today with testimony introduced by counsel for members of the American race committee who contended that they were accused unjustly of improper practices in the mayor's inaugural references to the equipment of the fisherman elite for the international races at Halifax last fall.

N. E. NAVIGATORS SPEAK

Urge House Committee to Report Bill For Purchase of Cape Cod Canal

WASHINGTON, April 13.—New England navigators urged the house interstate commerce committee today to report the Winslow bill providing for acquisition of the Cape Cod canal at an estimated cost of $11,000,000 and under which tolls would be free.

Captain W. H. Haley and other spokesmen said the outside channel was the most treacherous along the New England coast because of shoals, current and fog. They advocated the improvement of the waterway so as to provide a top width from 200 to 250 feet with a 35-foot depth.

Captain W. D. Porter, skipper of J. P. Morgan's yacht, the Corsair, said he did not see why the taxpayers of all parts of the country should be taxed to give free tolls.

Chairman Winslow told him, however, it was national policy for the government to operate such properties free.

Calvin Austin, president of the Eastern Steamship Co., said that tolls as charged now are a detriment and that with the proposed improvement his company would be able to operate bigger freight and passenger ships between New York and Boston. Mr.
Austin thought government ownership and operation might result eventually in freight rate reductions.

DOG VALUED AT $5000 KILLED

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 13.—Providence, Edna, a female collie dog valued at $5000, was killed today when run over by an automobile on Main street.
The dog, claimed to be the most valuable collie of her sex in the country, had won more than $3000 in cash and 25 silver loving cups for her owner, Robert Mogel, president of the Roger Williams Kennel club.

AMERICANS ARE KILLED

Drivers of Relief Wagons in Russia Slain by Famished Populace

PARIS, April 13.—(By the Associated Press)—A number of American drivers of relief wagons in Russia have been killed in the streets by the famished populace, who seized the horses for food, according to reports received today by American relief organizations in Paris. Two drivers for the American relief administration were killed
this week, the report said.

EVERETT TRUE

BROCKTON SHOE WORKERS STRIKE

BROCKTON, April 13.—Strikes took effect in the dressing and packing rooms of the Union and Trojan shoe companies this forenoon, the union contending the companies took the 10 per cent. wage cut ordered March 13 for association factories out of the pay of the help without agreement with the union and demanding the percentage be restored to April 10 when the cut was allowed to independent factories. The strike may spread to other departments.

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 13.—Every striker in the local group must take his turn at patrol duty, Vice-President James Starr of the United Textile Workers announced today.
Members of the strike group will be assigned in rotation to patrols of two hours duration and will be expected to fill their assignments.

LEGISLATIVE AIMS OF AGRICULTURAL BLOC

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Legislation providing long term credits for farmers, reduction of railroad rates, adequate tariff protection for agricultural products and development of the Muscle Shoals, Ala., projects as a fertilizer producer, were announced today by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, as among the objectives of the agricultural bloc.

Other legislative aims of the bloc detailed by Senator Capper, include measures to give the farmers representation on the federal reserve board, to restore state control over state railroad charges and to brand all fabrics and clothes with the amount of wool or cotton contained.

CUT OFF AT MINE IF DEALER CUT COAL PRICE

BOSTON, April 13.—Eugene C. Hult-man, chairman of the commission on the necessities of life, told a legislative committee today that if a coal dealer in Massachusetts reduced the price of anthracite coal below that of other dealers his supply was immediately cut off at the mine.

Mr. Hultman speaking at a hearing on a petition to continue the commission for another year, also asserted that the existence of the organization had been threatened as a result of his public statements last Thanksgiving in which he advised the people not to pay exorbitant prices for turkey. As a result of this advice, he said, prices were cut.

Mr. Hultman replying to questions, said there was no competition among anthracite dealers and that if one reduced prices he was wiped out of business. The price of coal in this state, he declared, was usually based on that set by the Metropolitan Coal Co. of this city.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT GAINING IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, April 14.—The temperance movement recently started in Austria is gaining impetus, at least in publicity. It has served to arouse the liquor interests who have held a big meeting in opposition and attempted to refute the figures officially published of the country's immense booze bill.

The government has agreed with the social democratic proposal to make a start by making the sale of liquors to youths unlawful. A measure is in preparation but some disagreement has resulted over the question of age limit.
The socialists wish to place it at 15 years.

The Arbeiter Zeitung, official socialist organ, has replied energetically to the charge of the opposition which is their principal card that prohibition in the United States has resulted in greatly increased criminality. The newspaper prints American statistics of empty prisons, of prisons and correctional institutions for sale, increased suicides, banks deposits and similar propaganda.

PULLEN GIVEN

18 TO 20 YEARS

CAMBRIDGE, April 13.—John J.
Pullen of Somerville, was sentenced to serve from 18 to 20 years in state prison today after pleading guilty to a manslaughter charge.

Pullen killed Thomas F. Kiley of Somerville on Jan. 6 by hitting him over the head with a hatchet and a milk bottle. The two had quarreled over a young woman to whom Kiley was engaged. He was assigned on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Three Killed by Powder Explosion

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 13.—Three workmen were reported killed and several others injured in an explosion of 20,000 pounds of powder this afternoon in a building near the Charleston general ordnance depot, 10 miles from here. Thirty or more workmen were near the scene of the explosion.

MULRY HAS LAST CHANCE

Council in Special Session
Refuses to Take Name
From Table

Martin Conley Still Secure
in Office of Superintendent of Charities

Council Tables Eleven New Nominations Sent in by Mayor Brown

Another chapter in the fight to land Edward F. Mulry in the office of superintendent of charities was enacted last night when the city council's voice of authority as expressed in the majority refused to take his name from the table, thus making it a foregone conclusion that he will quickly slip out of the picture as an aspirant for the place now held by Martin Conley.

Martin seems to be tightening his grip as the battle wears on and as last night's meeting was thought to be the crucial test of his strength in the council, it is almost safe to say that he will withstand any and all attacks for some time to come.

It was generally conceded that the special meeting had been called for the express purpose of taking some action on Mulry's nomination which had only four more days to run before it would expire under the 30-day rule. Therefore, no one was surprised when motion was offered to take his name from the table for immediate action. From this moment, however, opposition developed spontaneously and vigorously and adjournment finally was voted without any action being taken.

The fight developed into a battle of motions, with Councilor John J. McPadden continuously moving for immediate adjournment, Councilor Queenan moved for consideration, but the vote was lost. Councilor Adams moved a 15-minute recess, but this, too, failed to pass. The same councilor then moved that when the council met at 8 o'clock on April 14, no adjournment be taken. This motion was carried, with the "no" of Councilor Adams hanging on until the end.

The meeting was of only 25 minutes' duration. Eleven new nominations were received from the mayor and were tabled as yet to be read by President Bagley. All but two of them were the names of persons now serving in various capacities. The two exceptions were Thomas J. Markham for a member of the board of assessors and William F. McGreevey, for inspector of police.

The council accepted the ordinance establishing the salary of Patrick J. Reynolds, registrar of civil service, at $1000 per year and ordered advertised a $20,000 loan order for the purchase of the first street oval property and another order for $10,000 for the laying of granite sidewalks in the new Anne street parkway.

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 o'clock by President Bagley, with Councilors Chretien and Connelley. The latter came in shortly after.

President Bagley read the call for the special meeting.

The following nominations from the mayor were read and each in turn was placed on the table:

Dr. Walter A. Sherman, inspector of animals; Thomas J. Markham, member of board of assessors; A. G. Humphrey, board of park commissioners, five-year term; George E. Putnam, board of license commissioners, six-year term; William H. Rigby, board of cemetery commissioners, five-year term; Dr. Alexis Bertrand, board of library trustees, five-year term; William F. McGreevey, inspector of wharves; Dr. James V. Rodger, city bacteriologist; Charles H. Kelly, smoke inspector; Harry L. Gonzalez, fish warden.

President Bagley read a letter from the Lowell Historical society, by its president, Alfred P. Sawyer, quoting a resolution recently passed by that society relative to a proper celebration of Lowell centenary in 1924. The letter was accepted and the city clerk was authorized to express the thanks of the council.

An order to borrow $20,000 for the purchase of the first street oval was introduced by Councilor Smith J. Adams. The city clerk was ordered to advertise the same.

Councilor Queenan moved that the mayor's nomination of Edward F. Mulry as superintendent of charities be taken from the table for immediate action.

The motion was seconded by Councilor Adams.

A yeas and nays vote on the question was demanded and on a show of hands, the motion was lost 9 to 4.

Councilor Adams then moved a recess for 15 minutes, but the motion also failed to carry.

Councilor McPadden then moved for immediate adjournment, but Councilor Gallagher concluded the president that an adjournment to 8:30 o'clock would be desirable.

The adjournment was ordered and the city clerk was ready for consideration.

This order was ordered advertised.

Councilor Adams then moved that when the council adjourned, it adjourn to 8 p. m. but the motion failed to receive a second.

Councilor McPadden again moved for adjournment and the motion prevailed. This was at 8:45 o'clock.

MEET TO DISCUSS CHIMNEY ORDINANCE

The chamber of commerce has proposed to the city council a committee composed of E. W. Douglas, John O'Connor, John Johnson, B. H. Wiggins, George Stewart and J. W. Robinson of the Lowell Contractors' association met last night at a luncheon in the Colonial restaurant to talk over a new chimney ordinance for Lowell.

A short time ago the chamber of commerce submitted a new chimney ordinance to the contractors' association. The association took the matter under advisement and appointed the above committee to confer with the chamber committee.

The matter was given into quite thorough by both sides and many important details connected with the new ordinance brought up. A report will be made by both committees to their organizations.

POINTING OUT THE BAD SPOTS

Chamber of Commerce Prepares Street Report for City Engineer

All the Bad Spots to Be Marked on Diagram Accompanying Report

Before the quill puts his head under cover of his wing, in yonder meadow this evening City Engineer Stephen Kearney will have a complete report of the condition of Lowell's streets and sidewalks as compiled by the chamber of commerce. Recently the chamber submitted a summarized report which the city engineer found of little value because of its general nature.

Following the engineer's adverse report of the summary the chamber complied, with the aid of 200 cards, a list of bad spots in the city and will have the list ready for the engineer's inspection today. In addition to this a report will be submitted by Secretaries Wells and Gillingham who made a personal canvass of the lanes and outcrops of the city yesterday.

The card index has been submitted by individuals and will show the exact spots which are deemed in poor condition. This will give the engineer something definite to work upon.

Yesterday Messrs. Wells and Gillingham visited the following streets: High, Rogers, Needham, Andover, Graham, Chelmsford, Smith, Westford, Walker, Princeton, Middlesex, Pawtucket, Mammoth road, and Bridge with the idea of determining the exact conditions.

Street numbers and locations of the bad spots and a short description of their condition were written by the men so that if the engineer desired to make an inspection he will be able to go directly to the places mentioned without any loss of time.

MAKES GIFT TO LOWELL GENERAL HOSPITAL

One of the most appreciated philanthropes ever exercised in relation to the Lowell General Hospital is represented in the gift of $5000 to that institution by Thomas H. Elliott, dean of local real estate men, for the purpose of establishing a fund to provide medical treatment and care at the hospital for poorer people unable to meet the schedule of charges.

Mr. Elliott sent his check to the board of trustees of the hospital yesterday and of course it was immediately and gratefully accepted. There will be founded a "Thomas H. Elliott fund" and the income derived will be used exclusively for the purposes of the donor's desires.

It is the first fund of its kind ever established for the hospital, as other endowments have served to make up deficits that exist between the actual cost of operating the hospital and the receipts. The money will be expended under the direction of the superintendent and only for such worthy cases as may be determined by her.

Stanley Kuokas officiating. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker Joseph Sadowski in charge of funeral.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Tenebrae services in their full solemnity, expressing admirably the deep grief of the church at the sufferings of Christ, were conducted at St. Michael's church last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The solemn chant, unaccompanied by the organ, was instituted by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw, and Rev. James P. Lynch with responses by the sanctuary choir of 50 voices. The lamentations of Jeremiah were sung by the male quartet, J. A. Murphy, first tenor; James McKinley, second tenor; Thomas Koulter, baritone; and Mirfin Cording, bass; assisted by the choir.

At the end of each of the lamentations came the exhortation to penance in the words: "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, be converted to thy God and Lord."

The services, which were largely attended, were among the most impressive ever conducted in a local Catholic church. The lamentations were splendidly rendered and Rev. J. W. Shaw and Lynch intoned the chants in fitting manner.

The office called Tenebrae is so called because it is held in the night time. Its purpose is to remind us that the Redeemer was taken prisoner in the darkness, and that he endured countless ignominies and sufferings throughout the night. The church also endeavors to give expression to its deep grief in contemplating the sufferings of Jesus, and the silence and darkness of night have always been regarded as a time of sadness and mourning. The service is, moreover, especially calculated to fill the faithful with sorrow. In the lamentations of Jeremiah the prophet bewails the destruction of Jerusalem and the captivity of the Jews, but still more their forgetfulness of God, for which they deserved this terrible punishment. The chants are to remind mankind that sin and unfaithfulness to God were the cause of the sufferings and death of Christ; therefore, the exhortation to penance at the end of each lamentation: "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, be converted to thy God and Lord." The term Jerusalem is intended to include the whole Christian world.

HELD STRIKE CONFERENCE

American Hide and Leather Company Officials Confer With Mayor

No Report Concerning Outcome of Meeting—Company President Expected

Samuel Haight, one of the officials of the American Hide & Leather Co., and son of the president of the company, and Superintendent W. T. White of the local plant conferred with Mayor Brown at city hall late yesterday afternoon on matters pertaining to the strike of the employees of the plant, which has been going on for three weeks as a result of notices posted in the shop announcing a 10 per cent reduction in wages.

When questioned about the conference today Mayor Brown stated that he is very much interested in bringing about a settlement of the grievances and that his endeavors are, if possible, to have President Haight, who is now in New York, come to Lowell and discuss the issues, for he feels that in this way a settlement may be reached. He intimated that at yesterday's conference he acted in an unofficial manner and, therefore, had nothing to report on what transpired at the meeting. "I may say, however," he continued, "that President Haight may come to Lowell next week."

That the six strike breakers who are employed in looking after the boilers as well as the unloading of fuel cars on the tracks at the American Hide & Leather company are eating and sleeping in the plant of the company, was the assertion made by members of the strike committee this morning. It was reported that the men, who are referred to as professional strike breakers, came to Lowell last Tuesday morning and after working all day at the plant, went out in search of lodging in the city.

It was stated that they returned to the plant and have been on the line ever since sleeping within the factory ever since.

City Employees Will Not Be Discharged Without Hearing by Board

Public Service Board Chairman Makes Promise to Grievance Committee

Civil War Veteran Employed by Water Department Seeks Retirement

No employee of the city departments, over which the public service board has jurisdiction, will be discharged from duty until he has a chance to present his case to the board, if he wishes. This was the promise made by the board to a grievance committee which represented the Municipal Employees' union at last night's meeting of the board, held in the city engineer's office. Although the promise was made it was hardly necessary as Chairman Murphy pointed out, for according to civil service rules, employees are entitled to hearings.

A few weeks ago Chairman Murphy announced that the board would back up any foreman who found it necessary to discharge a man. Fearing that certain members might be unjustly treated, the grievance committee wanted to have its side of the case heard.

The committee consisting of spokesmen President Daniel Moynihan, Timothy D. Finnegan, Dennis Brassill, Charles P. Higgins and John F. Donnelly, said that it wished to point out that a foreman might have a petty grievance against a man and discharge him on that account. The committee wanted it known that it would refuse to intercede for a member of its organization whom it thought guilty of infractions of the departmental rules. It said that all it wanted was a fair show and a square deal.

Committee Entitled

After Chairman Murphy promised that the men's rights would be observed and that none would be discharged without a fair hearing, the committee left promptly assisted that it had accomplished its mission. Chairman Murphy said that he was pleased to have a heart to heart talk with the committee and promised to appear before one of the union's meetings in the near future. He also invited the committee to be present any time it had suggestions, thought helpful to the board.

President Thomas F. Boyle of the local street railwaymen's union and a committee appeared relative to wages to be paid to employees who work on the street car spindlers. F. D. Perry of the American Car Spring Co. is making an effort to have the wages of the sprinker men reduced. President Boyle said that he was opposed to this step inasmuch as the local company had not made a reduction in wages and, as far as he knew, did not contemplate any such move. The union is willing to accept a cut for the men who are cut.

The board voted to allow the men to continue work on their old scale until May 1. In the meantime the contract will be investigated and both Messrs. Perry and Boyle will be called before the board at a later meeting.

Supl. Doherty Upheld

The board upheld Supt. of Streets Harry P. Doherty in his refusal to employ M. J. Reay at the stone crusher plant because of the latter's alleged antipathy to another employee there. Reay had been served with a summons to appear for a hearing but failed to show up.

Atty. Daniel J. Donahue presented the case of Arthur J. McQuaid, a Civil war veteran employed by the water department, who seeks retirement. It was voted to have Mr. McQuaid examined by the city physician.

It was voted to allow the chairman of the board to approve all payrolls and also voted that all bills must be approved by departmental heads and by a majority of the board.

A bill of $1775 from Thomas B. Rafter & Co. for a Haynes touring car to be used by the street department, failed to receive approval. The board finding that $775 allowed for the car was insufficient. The bill was referred to the superintendent.

A small number of claims for water tax abatements were disposed of by the board. Several petitions were brought up relative to street repairs and referred to different departments.

According to information received through the Portland chamber of commerce from Col. McKnight, the hike from Portland will begin about May 1. While no plans have yet been made, the chamber will take the matter up with Mayor Brown to see if some kind of a welcome can be arranged. Present plans under consideration, call for a generous display of flags with a luncheon of some sort to be served the boys, such as coffee and doughnuts.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Keeping Liquor and Assaulting an Officer Cost Philip Dijnak $125

Illegal keeping of liquor and assault on an officer cost Philip Dijnak $125 in district court this morning, $100 for the liquor charge and $25 for his attack on the officer. Although Dijnak was quite willing to place the blame for the assault on his wife, Judge Enright, after hearing the testimony of the officer, decided otherwise.

Sergeant Michael H. Winn told of a recent raid at 4 Reed's court, when a small still, 5 quarts of liquor, from 60 to 70 gallons of mash, and 20 quarts and 30 pints of beer were found on the premises. Lieutenant George Palmer, who was in charge of operations, said that he went to the house with a search warrant and showed it to Dijnak, who did not want to read it. After a search of the premises had been completed, Dijnak was arrested.

GONSALVES DEFAULTED

Man Charged With Receiving Stolen Property Failed to Appear in Court

Antonio Gonsalves, convicted yesterday of receiving stolen goods from local mills, and given a day's continuance to secure bail prior to appearing in court, failed to respond when his name was called in district court this noon, and was defaulted.

At yesterday's session, when Gonsalves was found guilty, his attorney, George Allard, pleaded for probation for his client. Judge Enright, however, voted emphatic approval of a statement made the day before by Gov. Channing H. Cox, to the effect that the probation system might be overworked, the judge saying that probation is excellent in certain cases, but can be worked to death.

Major Noyes acted as prosecutor, and said that the defendant should be given a jail sentence, since he did not see how the wholesale stealing of cloth which has been going on in the mills could be utterly disregarded. The judge declined to impose sentence but when it became known that Gonsalves would appeal, the case was continued until today, to give the man a chance to secure bail pending his appearance before superior court.

Josefa Ogiba, one of the women charged with the larceny of the cloth found in Gonsalves' possession, was fined $12 today.

MRS. GLICKSTEIN KILLS HERSELF

Third Tragic Death—Doctor's Mother Fell Dead When She Viewed His Body

NEW YORK, April 14.—Another tragedy growing out of the sensational murder of Dr. Abraham Glickstein by Mrs. Lillian Reizin, in Brooklyn, last December, was recorded today when his widow, Mrs. Anna Glickstein, ended her life by leaping from the third-story window of her mother's home in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Glickstein had been laboring under a heavy mental strain since the shooting of her husband.

The suicide of Mrs. Glickstein is the third death in the family.

AUTO DEALERS COMPLAIN

Say That Specifications for New City Trucks Do Not Allow Competitive Bids

Claiming that specifications attached to regulations for the purchase of two new automobile trucks for the city water department, are so worded that competitive bidding would be futile, local automobile dealers have complained to the mayor, who today promised to take up the matter with the city purchasing agent.

The regulations in question call for the submitting of bids for a one-ton and a one-half ton truck tomorrow morning, to be opened by the purchasing agent at 11 o'clock.

The dealers who have complained of the specifications attached to the regulations submitted by the water department allege that they follow practically word for word the specifications of Buick trucks of those capacities and for this reason, no other make of truck could absolutely conform to the requirements.

One dealer said that the complaint is made simply because the specifications are those of the Buick, but complaint would be made if any other make of car was involved.

City Purchasing Agent Foye had heard nothing from the mayor regarding the specifications at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MAYOR APPOINTS RIGBY TO CEMETERY BOARD

Mayor George H. Brown announced today that since sending the nomination of William H. Rigby as a member of the board of cemetery commissioners to the city council last night, he has learned that he has the power to make this appointment without confirmation and, therefore, made the appointment today.

Mr. Rigby will serve a five-year term, beginning on May 4, the date on which his present term expires.

The mayor made no comment today on the action of the city council last night in refusing to bring the nomination of Edward P. Mulry for superintendent of charities to a vote. He said that, of course, Mr. Mulry cannot be nominated again this year for the same position, inasmuch as this is his second nomination, but the mayor would not say whether or not he has anyone else in mind for the place.

"I haven't given it any thought as yet," said the mayor.

FOR NAVY OF 86,000 MEN

Leaders in House Abandon Plan to Delay Vote on Contested Section of Bill

Chairman Kelley to Let Vote on Personnel Section Come When Reached

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Changing their plan at the last moment, house members leading the move for an enlisted personnel of 86,000 made no attempt at the opening of the house today to force over until next week a vote on the contested section. Indications were the vote would be taken tomorrow.

Chairman Kelley, in charge of the measure, announced it was his purpose to proceed and let the vote on the personnel section come when reached. Less than 100 members were on the floor when the reading of the bill was begun.

"Big navy" men said the number of democrats attending the funeral in North Carolina of Representative Erinson would about offset the number of new york members who were arranging to go home tonight.

Reference to British enlisted figures was made during the reading of the bill by Representative Green, republican, Iowa, who declared naval intelligence officers did not have the facts or else did not give them to the appropriate committee.

"The British enlistment total of 95,600 was given in the British parliament on March 16," said Mr. Green. "And that was the figure stated in the committee report. It has repeatedly happened that wrong information has been given to the house by the navy department."

Miss Alice M. Robertson, republican, Oklahoma, only woman member of the house, during a 10 minute speech on the bill, declared women, as advisers to the arms conference delegation had helped fix the 5-3 ratio, below which she as a woman thought congress should not go in fixing the enlisted strength of the navy. This remark, taken by the bloc favoring an 86,000 maximum as endorsement of their stand, brought a round of applause.

Announcing she had just received orders from the American Association of University Women to support the "small navy" program, Miss Robertson attacked the campaign as "the most powerful lobby in Washington" and declared she did not intend to heed the association's orders.

SIX MEN INDICTED IN ALLEGED FRAUD HELD

BOSTON, April 14.—Six New York men, indicted as officers and directors of the Petroleum Oil Corporation of America for fraudulent use of the mails, pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge Norton today. Each was released in $2500 bond.

The men were Charles R. Flint, who had organized many corporations and was a director of the Petroleum Corporation; Alwyn Ball, Jr., president of the company, a real estate dealer; Edwin B. Caldwell, a munition manufacturer, who was a director; Clarence D. Immann, secretary; Roland E. Blaisdell, treasurer; and George H. Gudebrod, oil manufacturer and importer, who was a director.

W. O. Carden, of counsel for the defendants, was granted at his request the usual 10 days' period for change of plea.

Nineteen men were recently indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the alleged fraud on the part of the Petroleum Oil Corporation. Several of the others, most of whom were associated with the Franklin Oil Co., are now out on bail.

The government alleges that the company misrepresented its capitalization, properties and assets in a merger with the Franklin Oil Co.

Wilson Faces Numerous Other Charges in Connection With Hold-ups, Etc.

CAMBRIDGE, April 14.—What the police know of the operations of a bandit gang operating under the alleged direction of Earl "Tug" Wilson, was brought to the attention of a special Middlesex county grand jury today. Evidence was presented in connection with Wilson's alleged attempt to kill three police officers in Arlington last Sunday night when he was hailed while spooning in an automobile.

Miss Sarah Doyle, Wilson's companion at that time, and "Gil" Crosby, in whose company he was arrested early Monday are held as accessories to the shooting.

Wilson faces numerous other charges in connection with hold-ups in the vicinity of Cambridge and Somerville and investigations by the police of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville indicate, they say, that Wilson and Crosby were active leaders of a gang of 35 men. This gang, when robbing freight cars became dangerous because of the vigilance of detectives, turned its activities to the street.

LOWER BIDS RECEIVED ON ROAD OIL

New bids to supply asphaltic road oil to the street department this year were opened this morning by the purchasing agent and the low bid in each case was beneath the best figure received when bids on the same material were opened last week. Considerable controversy occurred at that time, with the result that new bids were advertised.

There were fewer bidders today, however, and on the requisition to supply 150,000 gallons of oil to 65 per cent.

"BIG FOUR" AT ODDS ON RUSSIA

Divergencies of Opinion Reported to Have Developed at Genoa Meeting

Document Drawn Up By Allied Experts Dealing With Russia Not Indorsed

GENOA, April 14 (by the Associated Press).—Divergencies of opinion over Russia are reported to have developed at the meeting this morning of the conference's "big four" for discussion of the Russian problem.

The participants were Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain, Vice Premier Barthou of France, Foreign Minister Schanzer of Italy and Foreign Minister Jaspard of Belgium.

The Italian delegation afterward confirmed the report that the document drawn up by the allied experts in London dealing with the question of Russia, which has been the centre of so much discussion, had not been indorsed by the various allied governments. The Italian expert, indeed, had disapproved of those clauses of the report which, it put into effect, would humiliate Russia, it was declared.

Mr. Lloyd George, it was asserted after the morning session, had favored the Russian proposal to grant Russia indemnity for damages she had sustained as the result of military operations against the soviet regime.

It was stated that England and Italy advocated the thesis that the judicial and legal system of the soviet delegation should be such as not to consider her as a colony to be exploited, but as a state to be helped to re-enter the European family and to be co-operated with. Above all, the danger must be avoided, the Italian and English delegates are said to have argued, that the Russian should be allowed to say that owing to the heavy criminal list in East Cambridge this court will be transferred there and pressed into service as a second session.

The civil session here was supposed to last until June 23. While there is a possibility that the court will come back in June to finish out the session, it is considered rather remote by those supposed to be informed on such matters.

Local attorneys were today notified of the change. All cases listed for this month's trials will be heard as usual and an effort will be made to reach a number of cases scheduled for May. Some provision may be made for resuming.

His proposal has caused much humorous comment in conference circles, especially as coming from a representative of the soviet delegation, who at that time ago wanted to do away with money entirely.

M. Rakovsky, younger and far less serious than the other members of the Russian delegation wanders about press headquarters and enters into good natured arguments with the newspapermen with all the ease of the spellbinder who has taken to the soap box in many lands and many languages.

Indications are that there will not be a day of the conference when Rakovsky will not make at least one speech.

RIVER BEGINS TO FALL BACK

The Merrimack river locally reached its peak yesterday, and last night and today fell perceptibly in height. A fall of half a foot was recorded at the Pawtucket dam and the volume of water passing over the falls every second decreased from 40,000 to approximately 36,000 cubic feet.

The Locks and Canals' officials look for a rapid fall during the next 24 hours and then a gradual return to normalcy. Word was received at this forenoon from Plymouth that the river at that point was running 5 1/2 feet over the staging, which is a reduction from a height of 14 feet on Wednesday. This sharp decrease near the head waters will be reflected in Lowell from now on, it is said.

SUPERIOR COURT WILL SUSPEND MAY 5

The present civil session of superior court holding forth in the county courthouse building in Graham street will suspend on May 5. This is in accordance with an order received today by Presiding Justice Frederick Lawton from the office of John A. Alken, chief justice of state superior courts.

No statement as to why the present session was curtailed has been given out here, but the courthouse attaches say that owing to the heavy criminal list in East Cambridge this court will be transferred there and pressed into service as a second session.

The civil session here was supposed to last until June 23. While there is a possibility that the court will come back in June to finish out the session, it is considered rather remote by those supposed to be informed on such matters.

Ruth St. Denis To Show Film
Players How To Dance

LEAH BAIRD. SHE'S AN OLD-TIME FAVORITE BEING STARRING IN "WHEN THE DEVIL DANCES."

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, April 14.—Ruth St. Denis has been engaged to direct the dance scenes in Rupert Hughes' next picture, "The Bitterness of Sweet." This writer feels like rising right up and giving one rousing cheer for that.

Despite the fact that a large number of screen players graduated to the screen from dancing shows there has been more artificiality in dance scenes than in any other feature of the films. Of the actresses now on the screen the only ones this writer can recall as having terpsichorean ability are Irene Castle, Mae Murray and Betty Compson. The latter's ability in this line was a revelation of "The Green Temptation." Credit for that should probably go to Theodoros Kosloff, a former ballet master, who trained her. His ability as a "hooper" brought him stardom and first place in the favor of the fair patrons of the movies.

There may be other individuals who know how to dance so a camera can record their movements, but their names and the instances in which they showed their ability do not come to mind as this is written. However, the dance on the screen has lacked realism in groups of dancers. These scenes generally lack composition, the grouping of figures so that in ballroom scenes the dancers seem at ease or so that effect of mass movement in cathodic dancing is presented as it is in stage ballets. The coaching of such experts as Ruth St. Denis may give realism to screen dancing insofar as the camera is able to record it.

Sentimentality
Says Lucy P. Eastman, writing in the current issue of "The Nation," "it seems to me that the crowning defect of the motion picture today is false sentimentality. By this I mean the idea that many directors have that the only way to arouse sympathy for a character is to show him subjected to physical violence."

She cites for example the filming of "Mary Cary," a story dealing with the spiritual hardships of a little girl in an orphan asylum. In the film the child was submitted to physical torture to gain the sympathy of the audience, according to the writer. I only half agree with her. Much of the silly sentimentality in the movies is due to scenario writers without sufficient penetration to sense the spirit of a written story. Given a successful bit of fiction to turn into a screen story the scenario writer often misses the mark hit by the creator of the story.

The Movie Chatterbox
Filming of "From Rags to Riches," starring Wesley Barry, starts May 1. When it is over he will be starring in "Little Heroes of the Street."

DEPORTED ARMENIANS
NOT MASSACRED

WASHINGTON, April 14.—After an investigation made by the state and labor departments over a period of three months, it has been definitely determined, Secretary Davis announced today, that no Armenians deported from the United States under the immigration law have been massacred by Turks at Constantinople. Testimony before the house immigration committee last December by witnesses urging modification of the law included circumstantial accounts of the slaughter of one party of seventeen Armenians immediately after their return from the United States to Constantinople.

"After leaving no avenue of useful investigation unexplored," Secretary Hughes wrote to Mr. Davis in a letter given out today, "the American high commission at Constantinople was unable to find the slightest evidence to substantiate the rumors to which you have invited my attention."

A further report from Ruth Larned, immigration secretary of the commission, told of the check made upon the present status of a number of the deportees in Constantinople, showing that all of the number who had been traced were innocent of any outrage or murders.

The charges of the massacres were originally made to the commission by C. V. Kinkaid, representing the Cornerstone Welfare Council of Boston.

WOMEN APPLAUD
ATTACK ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A thrust at the four-power treaty during senate debate yesterday started a short-lived pattern of hand clapping in the gallery. The applause, quickly quieted by the vice president's gavel, came from the woman's section of the galleries and followed an assertion by Senator Kings, democrat, Utah, that the American people want an association of nations for world peace, and "are not satisfied with the four-power pact."

Recent addresses by James M. Cox, former presidential nominee, relating to the League of Nations issue, were the vehicle for the short burst of debate on foreign affairs. Senator McCormick, republican, Illinois, again challenged the democrats to make the league a campaign issue, declaring only Senator Sheppard of Texas on the democratic side had shown his willingness to follow Mr. Cox, both Senator Kings and Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, came in the defense of their party's record.

VETERAN SHAKES
A WICKED FOOT

By N.M.A. Service
MEMPHIS, April 14.—W. H. Gammon, 76, veteran of the Civil war, shakes a wicked foot.

When a theatre staged a dancing contest a few days ago Gammon entered the lists. The dancers and judges and judges had a good laugh when he showed up and announced he was a judge dancer. When the contest was over the judges unanimously awarded Gammon first prize, not on account of age, but for grace and agility. "Dance dancing all my life," says Gammon, "I can dance all around these modern dancers. I never expect to be a modern dancer. I never expect to be a modern dancer."

VALUATION OF B. & M.
R. R. $234,189,816

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The tentative valuation of $234,189,816 for the Boston & Maine railroad system, was found today by the interstate commerce commission. This represents the total value of the road and its numerous subsidiary properties which are operated as one system but for the value of the property owned by the Boston & Maine corporation itself. The commission found a figure of $101,770,987. The book values of the Boston & Maine corporation on its own records the commission reported, were $90,553,860, or somewhat less than the commission's valuation. This book investment was divided as to give an estimate of $59,927,000 as the value of the road and structures while equipment of rolling stock was entered as an investment of $30,722,000.

Miss Ann Dornin supervised the construction of the newest and largest theatre in Boston.

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home
It's Cheap—But you Can't Beat It

If you want to take care of that bad hang on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parmin (double strength) and mix a half pint at home. You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle. You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first swallow, the heavy breathing goes and the mucous membrane, free from irritation and mucus follows. For Catarrhal conditions such as mucous droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for parmin (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want—Aer.

To Regain Control of Their Railroad, the Intercolonial, Moncton Hears

MONCTON, N. B., April 14.—The maritime provinces of Canada are to regain control of their railroad, the Intercolonial, according to information received here from Ottawa. According to the demands of members of parliament from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, Premier MacKenzie King, the advice says will separate the Intercolonial from the main Canadian National railway system and restore its head offices to this city.

The Intercolonial railway, built as a means of inducing the Atlantic coast colonies to join the Canadian confederation, long had been regarded as the property of the maritime provinces. When the Canadian government acquired other lands and established an elaborate national transportation system, the Intercolonial was merged in this system, and its affairs were administered from Toronto instead of from Moncton. This arrangement has been the subject of constant protest from the people of the Atlantic seaboard.

Lowering Waters of Connecticut and Merrimack Brings Relief to Many Cities

BOSTON, April 14.—The Connecticut and Merrimack rivers which heavy rains and melting mountain snows have sent to flood stages this week, were receding today.

Lowering of the waters brought relief to many communities, particularly those in southern Vermont where the Connecticut flowed far over its banks in the greatest flood of years. Several mills were forced to close after the water had poured into engine rooms and submerged the first floors of the plants.

The Merrimack at Manchester, N. H., last night, reached its highest stage in 25 years, flowing nine feet over the dam crests. At Concord, in the same state, the river reached a flood peak of eight feet, while at Lowell, a seven and one-half foot flood was tumbling seaward.

The receding waters of both rivers left a long trail of destruction, but the Connecticut as it roared south and through Vermont caused the greatest damage. Highways and railroad beds were torn out and farmers in the low lands saw garden lands badly damaged by the flood.

Railroad schedules on the Central Vermont and Passumpsic division of the Boston & Maine were all badly deranged. Reports from Bradford, Vt., said the tracks of the latter road were under water for five miles beyond the town.

EDWARDS FOR SENATOR

Governor of New Jersey Formally Announces His Candidacy for U. S. Senate

TRENTON, N. J., April 14.—Gov. Edward I. Edwards today formally announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senator at the primary election to be held September 26.

State Senator Alexander Simpson of Hudson county is the only other avowed aspirant for the nomination.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton has been urged to enter the race, but he has not committed himself.

Governor Edwards was elected to the governorship upon a platform condemning the prohibition amendment. In announcing his candidacy for the senatorial nomination, he said:

"If I am successful in the nomination by my party, the people of the state will be able to pass upon the issue for which I shall stand."

Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, republican, whose term expires next March, has announced that he will seek renomination.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED, 5 OF FAMILY DROWNED

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Five persons, the wife of William Lawrence, and four of his children were drowned early today in the capsizing of a two-masted schooner in the Potomac river off Alexandria, Va. Lawrence and eldest son saved themselves by climbing up the mast from which they were rescued by a Norfolk and Washington steamer.

TO FACILITATE MAIL DELIVERY

To facilitate the delivery of mails, Acting Postmaster Delsile intends to make a personal appeal to certain business men who provide no receptacles for mail. He has instructed all carriers to take the names of business houses which do not provide receptacles and he will take up the matter with these individuals in a short time.

He says that a carrier will start out in the morning at 8 o'clock to make a delivery up Merrimack street. He will come to a business house and find it not yet opened. Not wishing to throw the mail on the floor of the entryway, the carrier is forced to take it with him and make a call on his way back.

This, according to Mr. Delsile, is wasted motion and energy as well. If the business house would provide a receptacle for the mail, the carrier could leave it instead of being forced to carry it to the end of his route and back again.

Receptacles would also make conditions better for the business man as he would find his mail awaiting him upon his arrival at his place of business.

Another step to facilitate the movement of the mails is an order which authorizes all carriers to accept mail from business houses when making deliveries. This order was given following the realization of the collection of mail means one hour gained in deliveries.

Business houses might help out, avowed Mr. Delsile, if they would mail their letters often and not wait until large piles accumulate. Mail ready at the noon hour could be posted at that time just as well as at the end of the day when the rush is the greatest at the postoffice.

READY TO MEET LABOR LEADERS

In answer to a recent communication from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor to the Trades & Labor council of this city, in which he requested the local council to notify him as to the attitude of the Lowell chamber of commerce toward organized labor, Secretary-Manager Wells, of the chamber of commerce, states that the organization is ready at any time to discuss the matter.

Mr. Wells says he cannot speak for the chamber as an organization, for in order to determine the attitude of the association it would be necessary to have a referendum and even then he feels that nothing would be gained because many of the members would refuse to commit themselves. If a discussion would assist the welfare of the community in any way, Mr. Wells says he and other officials of the chamber are ready to talk things over with local labor leaders.

BY ROY GIBBONS
CHICAGO, April 14.—Two modern-day treasure hunters are laying plans here today for a twentieth-century quest of vast fortunes.
They hope to gain $160,000,000. They will not chart an antique sailing vessel and cruise in the South Sea.
They will not comb sailors' retreats for an aged suit possessing yellowed charts inscribed with cipher symbols.
Instead, in these modern quests, the coral reef will give way to the judge's bench and the "sailors" will be alert attorneys with brief cases as their "doffie-bags."
The two quests will be carried out independently—indeed the two treasure hunters may not even know each other.
For one is an attractive young actress while the other is a Chicago mechanic.
But both will stake their all in a gamble to secure wealth.
WedgeWOOD Case
"Billie" Wedgewood, former Boston and Newport society girl and now an actress, is studying law in the wings between acts.
She's given up parties and after-

theatre suppers to read Blackstone, torts, contracts and other matters legal.
Because she wants to fight in person before a British court for the $50,000,000 fortune of Sir Josiah Wedgewood to which she believes herself heiress.
She can't get the fortune until she proves the legal marriage 127 years ago of the American progenitor of the Wedgewood family.
In those days few records were kept. But Miss Wedgewood hopes to establish the marriage of her ancestor by taking a dozen representatives of American families descended from marriages of Revolutionary days and showing that no documentary evidence of their ancestors' marriages can be produced.
"I'm going to fight my own fight. Watch and see me win!" she says.
Bolls Case
With his life's savings Glenn Bolls, 34-a-week mechanic, has engaged the best legal talent he can find to fight for a fortune that has been eluding his ancestors for almost three centuries.
If he loses, every cent he has in the world will be swept away.

If he wins, he'll have a fortune of $100,000,000.
The fortune is represented by a large tract in New York's lower Broadway, on which stand Trinity church, the city hall and several skyscrapers.
Bolls says that tract was deeded by the government to one of his ancestors and he's going to try to prove it.
Bolls' ancestors for years fought for the fortune. But Bolls didn't worry about it until—
He found a horseshoe!
"I thought that presaged good luck and I decided to start action right away," Bolls says.
"I'm not reopening the suit for personal reasons but for the sake of my mother. If I win, nothing will be too good for her."
"There's been a jinx on our trail but I think that horseshoe put it to flight."
"Anyway, I'm staking everything on the horseshoe. I'm game. Win all or lose all on the first throw!"
Lottery made in 5000 B. C. has been found in the countries west of the Andes.

Here's Proof That ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Prevents Pneumonia

Read Mr. Rhodes' Statement and You Will Realize That Our Claims
Are Based on Convincing Proof

H. J. Allen, Dear Sir.—I have found Allen's Lung Healer very effective in warding off an attack of pneumonia. I contracted a severe cold, which developed so rapidly that by night my lungs were congested and breathing difficult, with a distressing cough, which racked my whole system. I was convinced from the symptoms that I was in for an attack of pneumonia. Having used Allen's Lung Healer before and having great faith in its effectiveness, I decided to use it over night and call a physician in the morning if I was no better. The improvement was so marked by morning I decided to continue with the Lung Healer and by night, or within 24 hours after taking the first dose my lungs were practically clear of congestion and inside of a week the cough was gone. I feel positive that the Lung Healer saved me from pneumonia and I recommend it at every opportunity.

Yours truly,

A buffet lunch was served. The affair was in charge of Miss Margaret Masterson, Miss Mary Donnelly and Mrs. David Mahoney.

All-Wool Easter SUITS

FOR MEN and YOUNG MEN

Do not judge these hand-tailored suits by the price alone; see them, note the exceptional tailoring, inspect the quality of fancy mixtures, overplaids, pin checks, hard finished worsteds and plain colored materials, and if you do not say that they are absolutely unexcelled at the price, we miss our guess. If you like single breasted models, we have them; so, too, will you find snappy double breasted styles. For the man or young man who demands the latest in sport models, we have them.

BY PROFESSOR TIMOTHY A. SMID-D.Y. M.A.

Envoy Extraordinary of the Dail Eireann to the United States and Dean of the Faculty of Commerce, University College, Cork

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The new Irish government is considering establishment of governmental subsidies to enable college graduates to transform their diplomas into salary checks.

In this way Ireland hopes to keep her best-trained brains in Ireland to work for Ireland.

We are faced with the prospect of highly trained graduates of Irish colleges being unable to work where they are best suited. Ireland cannot afford to let these young men and women go abroad because of lack of opportunity at home. Nor can Ireland suffer the human waste which would result from these citizens engaging in occupations which do not give them an opportunity to use their combined talent and specialized training.

There are two groups of college graduates which will be benefited by government-created opportunities. One group is the ever increasing number of students who have done specialized university work in economics, business organization and the problems of industry and finance. The other is composed of our graduate chemists, physicists and engineers.

The industries which the government probably will encourage to meet the demand of the college student will be meat packing, the various branches of agriculture, the textile and chemical trades and applied art—particularly ecclesiastical art.

It has been decided that the industries to absorb these students should be those in which the value of the raw material bears small relation to the value of the finished product; they must be industries which require a high scientific knowledge.

Without a commercial demand for applied scientific knowledge there is small chance for us to develop pure scientists.

Before I have completed my term of office as envoy to the United States,
I am confident that channels will have been established for the exchange of students and professors between the universities of Ireland and the United States.

Under the Dail Eireann there has been a thorough re-statement of educational aims in all branches of Irish education.

The dominant note in Ireland will remain the classical ideal, but vocational training in the secondary schools and specialized technical departments of the universities is making rapid progress.

One of the most important developments is the throwing aside of the deadening system of national stan-dardization which had been paralyzing secondary education.

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

Schooled in the art of acting at a time when careful training meant much, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry, who are on the bill at the B. F. Kelth theatre, this week, are capable of delivering over an act as but few persons on the vaudeville stage can today. In "The Rubs," which is comedy, they both do exceptionally painstaking work. Incidentally they are great favorites here. Josie Rooney, the petite dancer, has a wonderfully good act, and the Hagedorn Sisters (villuists, quite equal any musicians who have ever been allied with a local vaudeville bill. Other acts on the week's bill are: Sharky, Roth & Wit; Moradi & Harris, Countess Verona, and Montambo & Nap.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few opportunities remain for Merrimack Square patrons to see
"Shame," a big dramatic production, and "Hush Money," starring Alice Brady. Coming Monday, "Her Hunband's Trade Mark," with Gloria Swanson in the leading role.

THE STRAND

"That Girl Montana," with Blanche Sweet in the stellar role, and Miss du Pont, star of "Foolish Wives," in "The Golden Galleys," are the two picture offerings of merit being shown at the Strand for the week-end. You shouldn't miss these for they are truly commendable screen creations that will win favor with all.

OPERA HOUSE

"The Frolics of 1922," which is opening the spring season at the Opera House on Tuesday next, is considered one of the wisest musical offerings of the year. It has everything to make it thoroughly enjoyable for all patrons.
The cast is large and competent and the numbers, right up to the minute.
Remember the first performance is Tuesday afternoon and twice daily from then on.

RIALTO THEATRE

The two great pictures, "Should a Wife Work?" and "Out of the Dust," opened at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon before a large and appreciative audience. Both lived up to expectations and proved to be a delicious entertainment. On the same program is a comedy and a set of up-to-date Kinograms. The picture, "Should a Wife Work?" is one that will appeal to all married homes, for it answers

a question that millions are asking.
The latter picture was inspired by the great Remington paintings and tells a great story of the free prairie.

CROWN THEATRE

"Thunderclap" is a stupendous picture, and advance notices call it the "greatest race track photodrama ever staged." It comes to the Crown theatre today for a run of two days.
When the picture was playing at the Central theatre, New York, the Metropolitan papers carried column upon column about the thrilling and truly unusual scenes. In the midst of its run, William Fox, its producer, announced that instead of showing it only in big playhouses of the cities

he would release it over the country.
"The time to be exclusive," Mr. Fox said, "is when your picture appeals to an exclusive set of people. When a particular photoplay will attract the attention of these in all walks of life, then all should receive a chance to see it."
The story deals with the race track.
The interest centres around a boy, a girl and a paralyzed mother, who win happiness when the boy's race horse,
"Thunderclap," wins a big race.

AMERICANS GREETED AT CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—Americans and Turks were delighted by the arrival here recently of two big American tourist ships carrying together more than 1000 passengers, among whom there were said to be more than 10 millionaires.

Revival of the American tourist business had been awaited here with great anticipation and the Americans received more than a cordial welcome from their compatriots connected with relief work as well as from the keepers of Turkish bazars anxious to sell souvenirs to their visitors.

One of the ships sailed into the harbor of Constantinople with its band playing "Dixie" while the Americans in the near east relief orphanages on the waterfront waved American flags. The Americans found Constantinople harbor filled with the warships of every nation, a country still at war and a city with more than 150,000 refugees. Passengers of both ships took up collections for the emergency relief, gave donations for orphans and refugees and promised to send their winter clothing to Constantinople when the trip was over.

The merchants were all excitement over the arrival of the Americans and eagerly pulled the tourists into the shops in their eagerness to sell.

Some of the visitors entertained Rear Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner and Mrs. Bristol in the Muscovite, famous Russian restaurant.

The American visitors were served by girls who were formerly members of old Russian aristocratic families who came to Constantinople two years ago as refugees.

As a parting gift the tourists sent to the near east relief orphanages on the Bosphorus the favors given at the various dances.

AMERICANS STIMULATE TRADE IN RUSSIA

ODessa, April 14.—Every foreigner who comes here asks first the same question: "Can business be done in Russia and if so when and how?"

The fact is that business already is being done in Russia and the indications are that every month will see more of it. Since the correspondent entered Russia in August last, business has taken on big strides. It is not big business, but it is business. The communists were unable to stop small trading even by threats of death, which often were carried out.

Trade in foreign money, the exchange of paper rubles for Russian gold or for American bank notes, the most favorite money, is still prohibited but it goes on secretly in Moscow a few doors from the headquarters of the once powerful Cheka, or secret police. It goes on everywhere. Internal trading for food is conducted in the so-called famine districts of which, to say the truth, there is none for all Russia is a famine zone. Goods show up in stores that are blandly stated to come from hidden stocks or out of the government warehouses when frequently they have really come over the frontier in handbags or as freight labeled "official documents."

BEECHAM'S PILLS

The Safest and Best Family Medicine

served fate was a Cheka prison or firing squad. The A.R.A. men go everywhere and are breaking down these old barriers of hatred.

The Americans were at first opposed everywhere but their patience and good will and, finally, harsh orders from higher officials have dissipated the uncertainty of opposition.

The first American ships to this port bearing food have given heart to the ragged workmen and have shot new life into the port.

Life-giving business is in the air and coming as surely as the flowers of spring. The people know it and respond.

The spirit of America has worked itself into the official mind and this is shown in the treatment of small trading vessels which come here. Their captains have been systematically deeded ashore where their cargoes have been bought at reduced prices and their captains have been paid for them in bad salt, or rotten hides.

The balance of money due them, were fixed at ruinous exchange rates and finally the ship master was overcharged for labor and port dues; but as he had brought in goods which he had not declared or made illegal investments in diamonds or art goods the captain went away fairly satisfied. This form of hold-up is passing out with the entrance of bigger ships bringing real cargoes and owing to the impelling sense of decency imported by the Americans.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE TO ALL OFFICES

Mass. Supreme Court Holds Adoption of 19th Amendment Raised Bar

Decision Reverses Attorney General's Ruling — Does Not Apply to Jury Service

BOSTON, April 14.—The supreme court of Massachusetts sent an opinion to the state senate yesterday saying that women are eligible to all elective and appointive offices in the state. In other words they may hold positions from which they were excluded prior to the adoption of the 19th amendment to the federal constitution.

The opinion reverses that of the attorney general rendered about a year ago. The attorney general was not asked specific questions such as those submitted to the supreme court, however. He was asked for a general ruling and this he based on previous decisions of the supreme court.

Reverses Earlier Rulings
Those who have made a study of the matter at the state house say that the supreme court's opinion of yesterday reverses the earlier opinions of that court.

In consequence of this latest opinion any woman is eligible to become a candidate for the office of governor or any elective office and is eligible for election as mayor or any other city or town officer.

Furthermore women are eligible, under the terms of the opinion, to any office within the appointive power of any state, city, council or town department and also to head any state department. This would mean any court officer from supreme to municipal.

Jury Service Not Affected

So far as jury duty is concerned the statutes will have to be amended in order that women may serve.

In April, 1921, the supreme court of Massachusetts gave an opinion that there was nothing in the existing statutes that made women liable for jury duty. The court pointed out, however, that no constitutional objection existed to the passage of a statute placing them on an equal basis with men regarding jury service.

There are now before the joint judiciary committee of the legislature several bills to make women eligible for jury duty. These have not yet been acted upon by the committee.

The bill to make women eligible for public office was first introduced into the legislature by Speaker H. Loring Young at a special session of the legislature in 1920. A measure was passed allowing women to hold office in cities and towns.

In 1921, at the regular session, a bill was passed to allow women to serve in all public offices, except those governed by the state constitution. These included the state ticket and the legislature as well as appointment to the supreme, superior and lower courts.

The Senate's Four Questions

The senate asked the supreme court four questions, the first being: "Has the adoption of the 19th amendment to the federal constitution conferring the suffrage upon women so far affected the status of women as to render it constitutionally competent for the general court to enact legislation declaring women eligible to hold any public office elective or appointive, within the commonwealth?"

2. "Has the adoption of said 19th amendment had the effect of rendering women eligible to hold an office from which they were previously excluded by the constitution of the commonwealth?"

3. "From what, if any, elective or appointive offices are women excluded by the constitution of the commonwealth?"

4. "Is it necessary to amend the constitution, national or state, or to enact legislation, in order to render women eligible for election as senators and representatives in congress?"

The court answered the first two questions in the affirmative and to the third question said: "That women are not excluded by the constitution from any elective or appointive civil office."

To the fourth question the court says: "This question does not appear to be directed to any proposed act pending before the general court and we are constrained to follow the usual practice and ask to be excused from answering a question not necessary for the solution of a problem in matters awaiting legislative action."

The court says: "Mr. Justice Pierce not having participated in the deliberations of the justices upon these questions does not join herein and asks to be excused."

Signed by Six Justices

The opinion is signed by Chief Justice Arthur H. Loring and Justices Henry M. Bradley, Charles C. Thompson, John C. Crosby, James H. Carr and Charles P. Jenney.

The opinion is in part "prior to the adoption of the 19th amendment to the constitution of the United States women were not eligible to hold any office from which they were previously excluded by the constitution of the commonwealth."

The court repeats that in its earlier opinion given to the general court women were prohibited from holding the office of a justice of the peace because

"TIZ" FOR TENDER, SORE, TIRED FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet, swollen, hot, aching, weary feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ".

"TIZ" draws out all the poisonous accumulations which puff up the feet. "TIZ" is magical. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired.

Get a box at any drug or department store and get relief for a few cents—ADV.

It is a judicial office. That opinion was given in 1871.

In a later opinion, however, the court says it was decided that women were eligible to appointment to judicial offices.

19th Amendment Binding

The court further states: "The 19th amendment was validly adopted and has become a part of the constitution of the United States. That amendment is binding upon the people and the several departments of government of this commonwealth. That amendment declares that the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

It makes no provision concerning the right to hold office. By its own force it struck from the constitution of this commonwealth the word 'male' wherever it occurred as a limitation upon the right of the citizen to vote.

"The power to fix the qualifications of those who shall hold state, as distinguished from the federal, office is to be determined by the several states, according to their differing needs and varying views of internal policy, subject to any controlling provisions of the federal constitution."

"It is apparent that the question whether one has a right to hold office under the constitution is separate and distinct from the question whether one has a right to vote."

Common Law Usage Changed

"Now that the word 'male' as a limitation upon the right to vote has been eliminated from the constitution of Massachusetts and the suffrage is thrown open to all citizens, all express limitation upon eligibility for office founded upon sex, created or recognized by the constitution, disappears. The unbroken usage of the common law has been changed by the fundamental law of the constitution."

"Earlier than the adoption of the 19th amendment to the United States constitution, women had become, by legislation and usage under the sanctions of the Massachusetts constitution, arriving from the absence of the express limitations, eligible to hold numerous offices not created or recognized by the constitution."

"If there were express prohibition in the constitution against the eligibility of women for office, a quite different question would arise. There is no express prohibition. The main support for such ineligibility by implication is gone when the word 'male' as a limitation upon the right to vote is effaced from the constitution."

"The proposed act does not purport to deal with the military service of the commonwealth. Therefore, we have not considered the question whether women are subject and eligible to that department of government under the constitution."

JOHN McCORMACK HAS PASSED THE CRISIS

NEW YORK, April 14.—John McCormack, noted tenor, who was stricken with an affection of the throat here last Saturday and whose illness became alarming on Wednesday, was declared today to have passed the crisis, but he will not be able to sing again for several months. Physicians in attendance upon the singer asserted the illness would not affect the quality of his voice, as the infection was above the larynx.

All concert engagements made by Mr. McCormack have been cancelled.

HARD MAN TO DISLODGE

Believed Markham Cannot Defeat Dwyer for the Board of Assessors

The prevailing feeling around city hall today was to the effect that Thos. J. Markham, the mayor's new nominee for a position on the board of assessors to succeed John H. Dwyer, is up against the hardest man of the three to dislodge and that the chances for his confirmation by the council are slim at the present time.

Mr. Dwyer was elected to the board by last year's government and is known to have a number of close friends in the present council. Friends of Mr. Markham, however, who are anxious to see him land the place, are equally sanguine of his ability to marshal a sufficient number of votes.

It is understood that if Mr. Markham passes the board, Mayor Brown will send in the names of Albert Dison and Daniel E. Hogan, the two other board members, for confirmation. Mr. Markham's nomination, tabled last night, probably will come up for action at the regular meeting of the council, next Thursday evening.

Inasmuch as the nomination of William Walsh for purchasing agent, was not taken from the table last night, that, too, is slated to be acted upon at the next meeting.

While Mr. Walsh's chances against the present office holder, Edward F. Foye, are being discussed more or less in the corridors of the hall, the discussions invariably lead nowhere, for

so far no one has seemed able to obtain a good line on the aspirant's chances.

Stormy Eastertide in Belfast Predicted—Further Shootings Reported

BELFAST, April 14.—(By the Associated Press)—A stormy Eastertide in Belfast is predicted by those who have watched the sequence of disorders here, as the result of a concerted attack on a patrol of special constables in Joy street last night. The members of the patrol were making their rounds after the curfew hour when a burst of heavy firing from windows and roofs wounded four of the officers. The scene of the attack is in the Sinn Fein section of the city.

Further shootings, although not believed to have been reprisals, occurred today at the termination of the curfew period. All took place in Crumlin road, two miles from the scene of last night's affair.

The first victim was a Protestant baker named Carmichael, who was assassinated while returning from work; the second, a Corporation Cleaner, a Catholic, who was shot and is reported dying in the hospital, and the third a baker named Sloan, Protestant, who died in the street, after being shot.

FIRST TEST OF CRIMINAL ANARCHY STATUTE

NEW YORK, April 14.—Accompanied by a prison guard, Isaac E. Ferguson, a former Chicago lawyer, now serving from five to ten years in Sing Sing for violating the criminal anarchy law, appeared today in the chamber of justice for a certificate of reasonable doubt in connection with his conviction.

Ferguson and Charles E. Ruthenberg, Cleveland socialist leader, who joins in the plea, were convicted in 1920 for alleged interest in the circulation of a racial paper.

The appeal of Ferguson and Ruthenberg is the first test of the criminal anarchy statute enacted after the assassination of President McKinley.

NEAR EAST RELIEF COMMITTEE REPORTS

BOSTON, April 14.—The Massachusetts Near East relief committee today reported the receipt of $10,000 in contributions, received during the past ten days, for the relief of women and children in the famine regions of Armenia and the Caucasus. A special Easter appeal is being made in several cities that is expected to bring the total up to $25,000. The call for clothing is to be made May 15. Reports from relief workers tell of the dead in the streets stripped of their clothing because of the shortage.

1500 NEGROES HOMELESS

Conflagration Swept Through Berkley, Va.—300 Homes Laid in Ruins

NORFOLK, Va., April 14.—Fifteen hundred negroes rendered homeless by the conflagration which swept through Berkley, a suburb, last night, were fed and sheltered today by private and governmental relief agencies.

Dawn found hundreds of the refugees wandering wearily over the blackened, devastated fire area, extending for three-quarters of the mile through the heart of the negro section, and containing the ruins of 300 homes. City officials estimated the total property loss at $750,000.

gun, the man came to him and asked if he had a warrant, but did not ask to have it read. He then rushed upon him in an endeavor to break the bottles and a struggle followed. The lieutenant exhibited a bandaged left thumb, which he said was injured by the woman, who, however, did not attack the officers until her husband started the battle.

Dijnak took the stand and said that his wife had committed any assault which had taken place. Questioned by the judge, he said he has been in this country 14 years, and has never taken out citizenship papers. He knew he had no right to interfere with officers in the discharge of their duties and insisted he had not done so. Judge Enright then imposed the $125 fine.

A charge of illegal keeping against Martin Adamski was continued until April 18, so that there will be ample time for the prosecution to secure an analysis.

Larceny of Automobile
Blaise Millette, was accused of breaking and entering a small garage at the corner of Perkins and Tucker streets late Tuesday evening or early Wednesday morning and the larceny of a car owned by Martini Parent, of 176 Hall street. He was arrested last night by Inspectors Walsh and Kennedy. Mr. Parent appeared against him this morning, setting the damage to his car at $75. On a plea of guilty, Millette was ordered to furnish bonds to the amount of $1000 for appearance in superior court.

Rene Leblanc, a United States soldier, with six gold stripes on his left sleeve denoting three years' continuous service overseas, appeared in answer to a complaint of non-support of his minor child, Mrs. Roseanna Leblanc, his wife, claimed that they were married five years ago, and two children had been born. The first child is dead, and the claim is made on behalf of the second, which was born in October, 1917, eight months after he had deserted her and entered the service in the early part of the year.

A third child, she admitted, was not her husband's.

Leblanc expressed doubt as to the parentage of the child in question, but was informed that, according to law, he was held responsible for its maintenance under ordinary circumstances. He

Fight in Pool Room

Considerable action resulted from the trial of drunken offenders. Thos. Jengwik and John Karsokas were found guilty in a pool room at 141 Gorham street, the establishment of one of the police court's Polish interpreters. According to the officer who sent them to the station they were both covered with blood and in an intoxicated condition. The story told by the man was identical in respect to the occupation which brought about the fracas, a pool game for small stakes.

Karsokas contended they were playing for 15 cents a game, and he was the only one paying, whether he won or lost. At the conclusion of the game he alleges that he told Jengwik he owed him some money and received the answer, "I will pay you good," accompanied with a blow on the head with a pool ball. Jengwik, on the other hand, said they were playing for 25 cents a game, and placing the money in the hands of a stakeholder, who walked out with the money. Karsokas then demanded his money and started a row. Jengwik received a two months' sentence to the house of correction, suspended for six months, while Karsokas was fined $5.

Handing Alleged

A police officer testified that he had found Walter How in a drunken condition in French street about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, begging money from men standing about or passing by. He sent him home, but found him in the same place an hour later and placed him under arrest for drunkenness. Bow made an eloquent plea, saying that he was not drunk yesterday, or, for that matter, for over a month. In proof of this he called the judge's attention to the fact that if he had been drunk he would show some traces of it the morning after, but His Honor did not think this rule always applied.

Just as Bow said that he was on the straight and narrow path for all time information was given that he had emerged from the house of correction last Saturday after a month's sentence for drunkenness and had been brought in and released on two previous occasions this year. Judge Enright, however, gave him a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Other Offenders
Alfred Gilman pleaded guilty to a drunkenness charge, but complications arose. A man appeared, who said that Gilman had brought a girl to his store last night and that the young woman had stolen his stock-pin. Gilman's memory was faulty relative to the girl's identity, so the judge continued him until tomorrow under $300 bonds, saying that his memory might return by that time.

Charles J. Hoffman was riding the rods en route from Montreal to Boston when a railroad officer plucked him off a freight train. He said that he had been working in Montreal, but had decided to pay a visit to his mother in Boston. As the railroad officer was not insistent in pressing the complaint, the case was placed on file with the understanding that he would go to Boston and stay there.

Michael Mutuk, another drunken offender, was on yesterday's schedule, but although he had been seen about the court he did not appear for trial. Today he was told to go home to Chelmsford and keep out of Lowell, and his case was placed on file.

KILLS BABY AND TAKES POISON

Story of Woman's Belief in Spiritualism Told in Three Letters

NEWARK, N. J., April 14.—Mrs. Maud Fancher, who swallowed poison here yesterday afternoon, after slaying her baby son, Cecil Raymond, hoped to guide her husband to happiness as an emancipated spirit. She is at death's door in city hospital.

The story of her belief in spiritualism is told in three letters—one of 20 pages, written before she took the poison, one after the baby's death and the third as she was half-conscious herself.

Mr. Fancher said today that soon after they were married in Detroit three years ago, they attended a séance at a private home in that city and that they both talked to their dead parents. Since that time, he said, Mrs. Fancher had taken a great interest in spiritualism.

Mrs. Fancher's health had been very poor since the birth of their son and she felt, her letters indicated, that her death would relieve her husband of a severe handicap. She took the baby's life because she could not bear to think of someone else raising it, she said.

"Dear, my heart is breaking at leaving you and you love the baby so, too," she wrote. "But remember you are to get yourself another son and a sweet one, too, for I am going to guide you until you die."

She directed that she and the baby be buried in the same casket and said she did not want the bodies shipped home to Detroit.

While physicians say there is little chance for her recovery she stated today that if she does not well she will try suicide again.

They are spreading companies and trusts for the exploitation of the wealth of the country, having in most cases Russian titles for purely Japanese enterprises.

The Germans are very active, a "society of Russian-German trade unionism" has been newly established in Vladivostok. The British are not showing much activity and so far there is no American enterprise in evidence.

The letter also states that at present the Ford Co. must confine itself to projects now in hand.

The letter is in reply to one sent to the company on April 6, by Mayor Brown, in an effort to stimulate interest in Lowell as an excellent opportunity for expansion.

In the Indian Creek valley, on the Fayette-Westmoreland county border, four independent miners were tied up today.

New York Health Commissioner Says —Death Lurks in Handshake!

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, April 13.—"Handshakes spread disease," shaking hands should be abolished," says Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York.

"Shaking hands is a filthy habit," he says. "It's meant as a friendly salutation, but most of the time it's entirely mechanical. We all shake hands, but we'd all be healthier if we stopped it."

Germans carried by the hands may be the greatest cause of influenza, says the "Lancet," London medical journal, which suggests some such substitute for shaking hands as the military salute.

People in public life are all victims of handshaking, Copeland points out; if not actually in infection then in fatigue.

"Wilson's long illness was certainly partly due to the fatigue of handshaking," says one physician. "Tartan gown shiner in office, Roosevelt felt the strain in spite of his powerful physique. Harding now is the most prominent victim of the handshake. Entirely aside from infection and fatigue, it was a handshake—concealing a gun—that killed McKinley."

Death statistics in New York are quoted by Health Commissioner Copeland to show the dangerous possibilities in handshaking.

"At least 30 per cent. of all the fatal diseases could be spread by handshaking," he says. "Germans on the hands might easily be responsible for all respiratory diseases, which caused more than 21,000 out of the 78,000 deaths in New York last year."

Here are the figures, in round numbers:

Pneumonia 10,000
Tuberculosis of the lungs .. 8,000
Influenza 8,500
Bronchitis 1,000
Colds, tonsillitis, etc 1,000

To these Dr. Copeland adds, as possible results of handshaking, 1000 diphtheria deaths, 700 measles, 600 whooping cough, 200 scarlet fever, and 100 spinal meningitis—making a grand total of 24,100.

London Alarmed
London physicians point out that so long as the definite specific germ of influenza is unknown the indiscriminate handshake may be indicted. "The possibilities of infection increase," says the Lancet, "and calculation almost fails before the distributive power of the kindly hostess at a large reception who unwittingly transfers the contents of a guest's uncleanly palm to a multitude of others, and thence to their home circles."

Housewives, no doubt, will attend in large numbers to discover some new wrinkle that has been put on the market for better food and the women will, no doubt, avail themselves of the opportunity to secure quantities of samples which are to be distributed free of charge at the booths.

Great plans have been made for the decorations and each booth will have its distinctive color effects and its different food products. Experts will tell of scientific cookery and house-keeping, and at the many booths which will line the Casino there will be men and women familiar with the products on exhibition and who will answer all inquiries.

This is the first food fair to be held in Lowell for a number of years, and the announcement of its opening next Monday evening should be heartily greeted by the women of this city. F. M. Prescott of Boston is supervising the whole affair and he makes the promise that it will be complete in every detail.

There will be two sessions daily, beginning Monday night and continuing through the remainder of the week. The local marketmen and grocersmen have endorsed the fair and are busy contriving many novelties to delight the thousands who are bound to attend.

NO MEETING OF CABINET TODAY

ALL SET FOR BIG FOOD FAIR AT THE CASINO

All roads will lead to the Casino on Thorendike street next week, when the Massachusetts Food Show, under the direction of the State Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers' association, in co-operation with the Lowell association, opens its doors to the public.

From every viewpoint the entire show holds forth great promise, and it will give to the people of Lowell an idea of the very great progress made in food products and preparations since before the war. There is little doubt but that the war at least gave stimulus to many a firm to produce something better than had ever been given to the consuming public before, for at the booths there will be shown amazing results in food compounding and preparations.

Housewives, no doubt, will attend in large numbers to discover some new wrinkle that has been put on the market for better food and the women will, no doubt, avail themselves of the opportunity to secure quantities of samples which are to be distributed free of charge at the booths.

FRANCE INSISTS "RIGHT TO LIVE"

Determined to Play no Second Fiddle at the Genoa Conference

Europe's Financial Tangle Brought to Front at Today's Session

GENOA, April 14 (By the Associated Press).—Europe's financial tangle was brought to the front for consideration at today's sessions of the Genoa conference. Further discussion of Russian affairs having been postponed until tomorrow.

Sir Basil Blackett, controller of finance of the British treasury, called his special committee of financial experts together, hoping to evolve the basis for a preliminary report to the financial commission of the conference tomorrow.

This special committee, which was appointed yesterday, comprises representatives of virtually every European country except Russia, and its members are reputed to be the leading financial experts of the continent. They are expected to devise practicable plans for straightening out Europe's economic machinery.

Louis Barthou's address before the English and American newspaper correspondents yesterday, the report of which quickly spread through official conference circles, was widely commented upon today as indicating that France, while persistently conciliatory, was determined to play no second fiddle at Genoa. On the contrary, the impression is strong that France will insist on the right to her "right to live," as the French put it colloquially.

The head of the French delegation, who is one of his country's most persuasive orators, was never in better form than when he scored those whom he charged with unjustifiably indicting France as a militaristic nation.

"Big Four" Present "United Front"

GENOA, April 14 (By the Associated Press).—The "Big Four," Lloyd George, Barthou, Schanzer and Jaspard, have decided at a meeting to present "a united front" when the soviet submits its counter-propositions for the restoration of Russia.

This action is understood to imply formal acceptance by the four powers of the London experts' report as a basis for the treatment of the Russian

Paris Watchers Proceeding

PARIS, April 14.—(By the Associated Press) Poincare and his cabinet are closely following the proceedings at Genoa, in view of circumstances which are taking in official circles here as indicating that the soviet delegates are determined to introduce the idea of disarmament at every opportunity and that the Germans are seeking a chance to link the question of reparations with the economic reconstruction of Europe.

The situation at Genoa, as understood by the foreign office, is that the allied delegations are seeking to find a basis for a practical start in the economic rebuilding of Russia, separate from all political issues.

Pope Shows Way to Peace

GENOA, April 14.—Dr. Wirth, the German chancellor, who heads the Berlin delegation to the economic conference, paid a visit today to Monsignor Signori, archbishop of Genoa, to express appreciation of and gratitude for the interest displayed by Pope Pius XI in the work of the conference. This already had beneficially affected the gathering, said Dr. Wirth.

Germany, added the chancellor, was looking with satisfaction upon the efforts of the pontiff towards universal peace. "Only by following the advice of Pope Benedict, confirmed by Pius XI can the world again find the peace it has lost," the chancellor concluded.

LOWELL PASTOR WILL TAKE REST

On account of failure of health and inability to perform his duties, Rev. Oliver W. Hutchinson, pastor of the Highland Union Methodist Episcopal church for the last four years, will go to Norwood, within a few days, where his son, Oliver Wesley Hutchinson, Jr., is pastor of the Methodist church.
Mr. Hutchinson's health has failed considerably in the last year, and he requested the annual conference not to assign him to a church for the coming year, in which he will endeavor to recover his health. He will enter the Deaconess hospital in Boston for a few days' observation, and may later go to some sanatorium for more lengthy treatment.

Mr. Hutchinson's son was admitted recently to the conference, ordained and assigned to the church at Norwood. He is said to be a young man of much promise. During his father's illness he has been assisting him with his duties at the Lowell church, where he has won the regard of the members. The young man is a teacher of New Testament Greek at Boston University School of Theology, and is also a student in that institution.

Mr. Hutchinson's younger son, Elliot D. Hutchinson, will graduate the coming June from Harvard University, where it has just been learned, he has won the "Sheldon Fellowship." These scholarships are awarded to the four leading students in the graduating class. They are "traveling" fellowships, and yield $1200 annually to their recipients for use in traveling abroad and observing the habits and customs in other countries, thereby broadening their views. Young Mr. Hutchinson has won many other honors at college, having taken part in debates and public speaking and having held a high rank in scholarship throughout his course of study.

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Colonial hall was well filled last evening for the lecture on "Christian Science: The Interpretation of Truth," by Frank H. Leonard, a member of the board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The speaker stressed the point that truths taught in the bible and truths taught by the founder of the faith, Mary Baker Eddy, are identical and through this connection he attempted to establish the source, identity and solidarity of Christian Science as preached today.

"We shall find that the more we turn to know God as Christian Science teaches God to be, the more loving we shall become, the more consciousness of life we shall have and the more truth we shall discern," said the lecturer. "As every step is taken, the more we shall become conscious of the principle of right thinking so that we can make no mistake, but may go on with the light that never lost a case which came to it for healing."

Had Nervous Indigestion
Could not sleep—Lost Weight
Only Wincarnis helped her

Miss Helen Miller of 10 Thompson Street, Philadelphia, Pa. says: "Let anyone who may question the truth of your claims for Wincarnis come to me and I will soon dispel all their doubts."

A year ago I had a very bad spell of nervous indigestion and although my doctor did all he could for me, nothing he gave me relieved me of the dreadful attack.

I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, my nerves got worse and I rapidly lost weight.

I had read about your wonderful tonic Wincarnis—for wonderful it certainly is—and I decided to give it a trial. Almost immediately my appetite came back and soon I was able to get a refreshing night's sleep. My nerves grew steady, my indigestion disappeared and I began to put on flesh. In fact, I gained 8 pounds while taking Wincarnis."

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING HALF OF CITY INUNDATED

Report Former Sinn Feiner
Shot Down in New York
for Betraying Compatriots

NEW YORK, April 14.—Death today was standing by the bedside of Patrick Connor in the Reconstruction hospital, and ready to seal, perhaps forever, the mystery attending the apparently premeditated attack upon him late last night in one of the most exclusive residence sections of the city. The man who fired four shots into Connor's body had been lying in wait for him near the 53rd street entrance to Central Park, and he was seen by a number of persons conversing with another man and a girl, who were today being sought by the authorities.

One report was that Connor, a former Sinn Feiner, had been shot down in retribution for having betrayed his Irish compatriots to the British.

Waters of Illinois River Continue to Rise at Beardstown, Illinois

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., April 14.—Waters of the Illinois river continued rising today and three-fourths of the population of this city of 8500 had been driven from their homes or were residing in their second-story rooms. Half of the area of the city is under water.

Railroad trucks of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the only road still able to operate, were threatened.

Valuable stocks in several stores have been ruined. The crest of the flood is not expected for another day, at least.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It is the Safe and Reliable Tonic

Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicine. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad."

Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan. —Adv.

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 35 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written Feb. 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

"I know it because I got similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, scum and piles."

Is it any wonder I am happy?

Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any benefit from pain. My friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the ointment I am cured. The ulcer was 8 inches by 4 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

VOTE $300,000

FOR FREE SEEDS

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Another of the annual supply bills, the agricultural appropriation bill, was passed by the senate late yesterday after it had reversed itself and restored the free seeds item for another year. The bill carries approximately $37,250,000, or about a million and a half more than was passed by the house.

The item of $100,000 for the free distribution of seeds was included in the measure as it passed the house and therefore will not be subject to discussion when the bill is taken up for adjustment of differences between the two houses. The vote by which the appropriation was stricken out was 20 to 24, but on reconsideration was restored by a 31 to 30 vote. The free seed amendment of the appropriations committee was the only one which the senate did not accept.

A half dozen amendments were offered by individual senators which served to increase the amount of money set aside for the department of agriculture.

Among the principal changes made in the measure by the senate were increases of $500,000 to the million dollar appropriation for agricultural extension work through farm agents;

$500,000 to the $50,000 appropriation for the purchase of additional forest reserves in the Appalachian district and $300,000 to the $200,000 fund for eradicating the barberry bush, the wheat rust pest. An addition of $75,000 was made to the appropriation of $175,000 for fighting the white pine blister rust.

WHY DOESN'T GERMANY PAY?

The present German problem, which today constitutes one of the greatest obstacles to the recovery of trade throughout the world, is infinitely complex. However, economists agree that the deficit financing of the German government is the one outstanding condition that is causing most of the trouble.

In considering this condition, there are two facts that confront the observer; first, undoubtedly there have occurred important wastes in the internal expenditures of Germany; and, second, the tremendous weight of indemnity payments has rendered it impossible for the German authorities to cope with the situation.

The failure to balance the budget has rendered necessary currency inflation to meet deficits and has rendered Germany impotent to accomplish the readjustment of her production machinery necessary to increase her capacity to make fullest possible reparations payments. Economists tell us that currency inflation has introduced into the price situation a disturbing factor of such huge proportions as to disrupt financial and economic relations completely, all as a result of failure to balance the budget.

And yet, week after week, the condition of the German budget constantly grows worse. The deficit increases with inflation of the currency. Even the most drastic retrenchment conceivable in the ordinary expenditures of the government might fail to effect any relief under present social and political conditions in Germany. It seems impossible to reduce the deficit to even manageable proportions, unless some new sources of revenue of tremendous amounts can be reached.

In attempting to collect taxes the German government finds itself confronted with a gigantic dilemma. It cannot cease to pay the costs of government; it must not default on indemnity payments to the allies; it cannot collect enough taxes to meet the combined burden; so the issue of treasury notes, which means further inflation of the currency, up to the present, has been the only so-called solution.

However, further inflation is no solution. Matters are going from bad to worse. The question of Germany ever being able finally to settle its indemnity obligations in full is one of regarding her pre-war saving capacity, which depends in turn upon the condition that what is left of the German economic unit can be readjusted and operated with any such degree of efficiency as prevailed before the war. It is to the interest of the allies, therefore, that there be made whatever temporary arrangements are necessary to allow Germany to readjust her production capacity so as to make the fullest possible reparations payments; but any acceptable plan, of course, must comprehend the clearly recognizable needs and rights of the allied governments, some of which also face tremendous fiscal problems.

SLASHING THE NAVY

Throughout the country the opposition is proving against the proposition to cut down the personnel of the navy to 65,000 men. Within the past few days, this opposition has been strengthened by the declaration of the National Security League against this policy. The league is to conduct a vigorous campaign against reducing the navy as proposed, on the ground that it would be a national peril. The league in launching its campaign says:

"The Madden-Kelley plan to reduce the United States navy below Japan's, in bold defiance of the standard of national requirement and the agreement fixed by the recent conference on the limitation of armament, is a national peril."

Some of the opponents of the proposed reduction say it is not permissible under the treaty just signed providing for naval curtailment and fixing the ratio at 5-5-5. That ratio represents the maximum limit over which the powers are not permitted to go; but if the United States wishes to scrap the treaty and reduce it to a mere prohibition that, as Congressmen Gallatin recently suggested, it has the legal right to do so. Any nation is free to commit suicide if it so desires.

Our navy should be maintained at not less than the ratio fixed in the treaty in order that the officers and enlisted men shall not be less than those of the British navy, nor less than two-thirds of those of the Japanese navy. A weak navy is of no defensive value in an emergency, and national security demands that our navy shall be maintained at the limit fixed by treaty, which is certainly very near the line of danger and national insecurity.

DEFEAT IN VICTORY

Nation-wide interest has been shown in the congressional election held this week in the 27th New York district. The republican candidate ran squarely upon a dry platform and appeared to judge fairly on a democratic platform, emphasizing the demand for a more liberal interpretation of the Volstead act.

The district at the election of 1920 gave a republican majority of 23,740, but in the present election the republican candidate, Lewis Henry, won by the small majority of 8,651. The weak claim that this is a victory for their cause; but it cannot fairly be so regarded, for the reason that public sentiment has been turning against the republicans for over a year because of delays in settling important issues such as the tariff, the bonus, the merchant marine, the navy and various other measures. In New York there is undoubtedly a strong sentiment in opposition to the Volstead law and in favor of light wines and beer; but as this issue was combined with others in the contest, there is no means of telling to what extent it affected the result. It has caused some jubilation in the camp of the wets, but they are not justified in assuming that the great slump in the republican vote was due entirely to the Volstead act.

In any case, the result bears a warning to the republicans inasmuch as a like slump throughout the country would wipe out the Harding plurality of 7,000,000 and turn the national house over to the democrats.

TRAVEL TO EUROPE

Mr. Edward A. Filene of Boston is appealing to the transatlantic lines and other shipping interests to arrange facilities for cheap ocean travel to Europe. The rates of passage announced on the big liners are very high as compared with those of past years. Mr. Filene has the right idea of what the people want. He thinks hundreds of thousands would make the trip to Europe if the rates were brought within their means. American ship owners should take up this enterprise as a means of booming the tourist business for the summer.

There is undoubtedly a vast number who would gladly spend their summer vacation on a trip to Europe if the rates were moderate, even though the accommodations were reduced to the very simplest.

The rates for single fare in the A. O. H. pilgrimage planned in Ireland are $125 per berth, second class, and $27.50, third class. The first class is from $225 to $400; this for the ocean passage only.

ESKIMO PIE

C. K. Nelson, inventor of the Eskimo pie, is said to be getting $30,000 a week from the simple idea of coating a block of ice cream with a thin layer of hardened chocolate.

He gets his money by selling to ice cream manufacturers the right to make Eskimo pie at a royalty of five cents a dozen, which is very high.

Nelson sits in his office, with an army of checkers on the road, counting his money.

It makes a million every eight months. Not as much as Henry Ford or John D. Rockefeller, but Nelson is the son of a village confectioner at Orono, Me., and a year or so ago he had no idea that vast riches were in store for him.

Fortunately, there is such a thing as luck—chance. The pie keeps making money at top-notch who otherwise might become discouraged. This is an illustration of the psychology of Nature.

GOLD PRODUCTION

Wall Street, constantly surveying all sources of riches, finds that the world last year mined 16,502,866 ounces of gold, worth around $320,000,000.

As far as actual utility is concerned, this gold was about the most useless substance produced by man in 1921.

It continues "valuable" however, and is thus a constant reminder of man's fear that his fellows are dishonest and will not live up to their obligations unless bound by a gold mortgage. Even the Chinese, instinctively honest, worship gold and its working brother, silver.

Later, when all men become 100 per cent honest, there will be no incentive for mining gold, except for use in the arts. But this ideal state must await the coming of the millennium.

OUR DEBT

Uncle Sam has bought up and retired $3,624,279,150 worth of Liberty bonds and Victory notes. Partly counteracting this is a lot of certificates of indebtedness—money borrowed in advance of tax payments, to pay bills.

The national debt, however, has been reduced $2,705,377,408 from its peak of Aug. 31, 1919, and now totals $23,144,618,493.

If the same rate of reduction is continued, the whole national debt as it is today will be wiped out in 1914, but long before that time we may have some national upheaval that will keep the debt still in the tens of billions.

OUR IDLE SHIPS

News from the merchant marine act will soon be started before a congressional committee at Washington. That means that the discussion will run into the summer and that it may be well on in the fall before any decision can be reached. This is one of the big questions that in the interests of the country should be decided promptly, but which are held up in a hopeless tangle of controversy. While the arguments go on, the government ships are idle. Similarly, the tariff is held up to the great detriment of business throughout the country.

Bear traps for burglars would be all right if somebody other than burglars were not liable to step into them. When a Brooklyn man had been visited by burglars no less than ten times, he set the bear trap and caught the culprit. The bear trap may add the police; but if it should come into general use the burglars would have to add flashlights to their equipment.

The city departments are rapidly whipping things into shape around the Memorial Auditorium. The reconstruction of the riverbank wall along the Concord is one of the most important features of the work.

The Lowell General hospital is fortunate in having such generous benefactors as Thomas B. Elliott, F. F. Ayer and others. Such gifts will count for the benefit of humanity if translated into service.

Thought for Today

Would we codify the laws that should reign in households, and whose daily transmission annoys and mortifies us, and degrades our household life, we must learn to adorn every day with sacrifices. Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices. Temperance, courage, love, are made up of the same jewels. Listen to every prompting of honor.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

A Word a Day

Today's word is "sophisticated." It is pronounced so-fis-ti-kay-ed, with accent on the second syllable. It means worldly wise, versed in the artificial phases of life, experienced. It comes from—Latin "sophisticus," to make wise, from Greek "sophos," wise. Companion word—unsophisticated. It is used like this—"City girls have the reputation of being much more sophisticated than their country cousins."

Goldring's Beginning

Having made his money, Mr. Goldring became the usual target for questions on "How to Make Cash Quickly," and such topics. The other day he got some of his own back. A particularly persistent questioner had been wasting his valuable time, and then asked: "I understand, Mr. Goldring, that you started life as a newboy." The rich man seized his chance. "My dear sir," he replied blandly, "you have been misinformed. I began life in the usual way—as an infant."

The Lesser Evil

"Most public utterances," remarked a well-known speaker, "those both the audience and the speaker make and about equally. I always feel glad when called upon to speak, however, for I often find myself in the position of an amateur actor in my acquaintance. He was in all the theatres going in his small town. He played all sorts of parts. I asked him one day if he did not get tired of appearing in every private theatrical performance. 'Yes,' he replied, 'I do not. I know if I am not on the stage I shall have to sit in the audience.'—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

The Pause of Emphasis

An historic old church in Charleston, S. C., had at one time a very eccentric pastor, whose congregation never knew just what he would do next. One hot July afternoon he entered his pulpit, with the sounding board above, sat down and wiped the perspiration from his face, remarking in a calm, untroubled voice: "Darned hot day." Of course the congregation was thunderstruck. With all his peculiarities, they had not dreamed of anything like this. So still was the audience that the drop of a pin could have been heard. After a long time, when the perspiration had been carefully wiped from cheek and brow, he concluded: "There's what I heard an irreverent young man say as I came in."—Harper's Magazine.

A Super-Cow

Some years ago the last remaining farmer in a prosperous New York suburb bequeathed to his son his only property, 16 acres of land, a ram, a shackle barn and one cow. The young recipient had no money to develop the land, and was at a loss to know what to do with his cow, whose habits he did not understand. He finally decided to keep her as a reminder of his father, and she grazed away contentedly. Ten years later there came an opportunity to dispose of the land at $1000 a lot, or $160,000 for the whole. Based on this valuation, the taxes during the 10 years would have amounted to something like $15,000, whereas, because of the cow, the property had been given a farm classification, and had been taxed during the period only $1600.—Wall Street Journal.

He has his great cases full of books. Upstanding row on row. You'll never find them all about the house. Wherever you may go. The classics, fiction, histories, Biographies and such—He passes by and now and then Gives them a loving touch.

To read them all would give delight To him for many years. He loves them dearly, all alike, Chapbooks, or gazetteers; But though he views them tenderly, Gets good from them, indeed, They stand unopened on the shelves. He can't find time to read!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Next Tuesday evening's "smoker" at the Knights of Columbus home promises to be a very successful event. It is one may judge by the plans already outlined. The occasion is arranged, of course, for the fitting celebration of Patriots day. The main feature of the evening is certain to draw the members to the rooms in large numbers for Hon. Charles S. O'Connor is well known to them as an eloquent speaker and a man of high scholarly attainments, and his discussion on thoughts suggested by Patriots day will be decidedly entertaining. The musical program and collation, which are to be additional features, will be welcomed as usual. The local council can give an entertainment whenever called upon and will be in excellent form for this occasion, and the refreshment details are always well attended to at affairs conducted at the council rooms.

Styles for women are not the only ones undergoing changes if the information given to me by connoisseurs of men's clothes, is to be relied upon. The downfall of the full dress coat with its swallow-tails seems to be approaching. For some time past, such attire has become more and more rare in big city theatres and restaurants. A writer in the New York World declares: "A man in a full dress suit is a curiosity now, according to the headwaiter of one of the big white way cabarets. Of 500 men in the restaurant the other night only three of them wore swallow-tails. The others came in 'Tuxedos' or in business clothes." On the subject of full dress and Tuxedos I might say that strictly speaking, however, the aristocratic designation for the tailless coat is not "Tuxedo" but "dinner coat."

The preliminary survey of dairy conditions in New England made by the committee of the New England Milk Producers association shows some interesting facts regarding the distribution of milk in New England. In the three southern New England states there is only one cow for every 20 persons while in the three northern New England states there is a cow for every 2 1/2 persons. The economic problem which the pooling committee faces is to work out a system by which the market milk will be transported the least possible distance to the markets. The data which has been collected on the shipment of milk unnecessarily long distances, indicates that more than $1,000,000 a year is taken out of the dairy farmers' net freight charges alone. This waste could be eliminated by the substitution of a carefully planned out system of distribution between the farms and the cities, to replace the present uneconomic competitive system in which every dealer buys here and there and everywhere.

Skirts are longer and necks higher in new styles at the Atlantic City spring fashion show. No neckties are displayed. The reaction to modesty in feminine dress is a straw in the wind. How far will the pendulum swing back toward old-fashioned skirts? It will be interesting to watch. Women, in dressing, skillfully defend their mystery by springing the unexpected. Men get set in their ways. Women constantly are hungry for something new. That will mean governmental progress when they obtain political control of the country, with an adrenal-type woman as first president in the White House.

Why do women quit a job quicker than men? A New York state commission checked up 29,000 workers, half men, half women, and found that the "labor turnover" was 132 women to 92 men. It was learned that most of the employed women were young. Youth is a restless rainbow chaser. Women, too, usually quit business when they marry, while the married man comes back after the honeymoon, well anchored to his job. Allowing for these factors, women in business are no more restless than men.

Because, when he seeks renown,

Might whittle his ego down!

SMILING BILL

Congressmen may rant about Bill Telford staying up till 10:30 at night, but the chief justice of the supreme court just laughs at them. This was snapped when he was made a life member of the Congressional Country club.

MEETING OF LOWELL LIFE UNDERWRITERS

J. Elmore Chamberlain, special agent of the Massachusetts Mutual, was elected president of the Lowell Life Underwriters at the regular monthly meeting held in the Fairbairn building, by a unanimous vote, the nomination being made by George D. Spillane, superintendent of the John Hancock, representative of the local association on the executive committee of the Boston Life Underwriters' association. The meeting was largely attended, there being present representatives of practically all the life insurance companies having either offices or local representation in the Greater Lowell field.

The speakers at the meeting were three, one of whom was Mr. John F. Daley, agent of the Boston Mutual who gave an interesting picture of conditions in the devastated area of France where he was engaged in war work, graphically describing the French villages and particularly stressing the wonderful spirit of the French people as exemplified during the reconstruction period.

Daniel Doran, assistant superintendent of the John Hancock, spoke upon selling points particularly with reference to the viewpoint of the prospective insurer.

An address of unusual comprehensiveness by Mr. D. S. Hickey of Boston was given on "supersalesmanship as applied to life insurance." Mr. Hickey is an expert on character analysis and placed his audience in wonderful good humor by his delineation of "The Law of the Third Vest Button." For thirty minutes he spoke with intense effectiveness, giving personal descriptions of the hypothetical cases and the manner in which the use of character analysis is successfully applied in practically all business relationships. He especially referred to the high plane upon which the life insurance business is conducted by the companies and the increasingly representative caliber of the men who form the sales personnel. All the speakers were given a rising vote of thanks.

DIES AFTER BEING ASLEEP THREE YEARS
PORT SMITH, Ark., April 14.—Jir Eslinger, aged 62 years, who has been asleep continuously for three years, died at the County hospital yesterday. Physicians say he was not suffering from sleeping sickness but from mental paralysis. He apparently was insensible to pain, was immobile and his eyes were closed.

Eslinger has been trained to start and stop work at the sound of a gong by an English breeder.

Adventures of the Twins

WEATHER MAN'S STAR

MR. SPRINKLE BLOW LAUGHED LOUD AND LONG.

Mr. Sprinkle Blow up on his star in the sky was simply delighted to see the Twins.

"My, my! Did you come to help me again, kiddies? I've missed you terribly."

"We'd like to stay, but we can't," said Naney. "We want you to help us this time, kind Mr. Sprinkle Blow. And she told him all about the errand she and Nick were on, and how they could not get over the Elderdown Mountain because the feathers inside of it were so fluffy and soft that they sank at every step, and Naney had almost been lost completely."

"Well, well!" remarked Mr. Sprinkle Blow. "What can I do, my dears? That's the part of the world I know nothing about."

Then Nick told him what the red feather pen had written on the magic paper. Blow it had told him to ask for a rainstorm to flatten the feathers.

Mr. Sprinkle Blow laughed loud and long. "Ha, ha, ho! Ho, ho, ho!" he roared. "Why, you didn't need a fairy to tell you that, did you? Anyone with sense would know that feathers—ha, ha, ha! I beg your pardon. I didn't mean to laugh," he declared, sobering suddenly when he saw Nick's offended look. "Sure as you're born, I'd never have thought of it myself. But it just shows that brains are as good as magic any day. But there! Let's see! I'll just tell my barrel marked Reginald Fourdowns onto a cloud and get West Wind to push the cloud to the right spot, then I'll turn on the spigot. Your Elderdown Mountain will be as flat as a banana fritter in five minutes."

The fairyman had another idea. "Say!" he said. "If you two can wish yourselves up to the sky why didn't you wish yourselves across this mountain?"

OBSERVED THEIR

GOLDEN WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Tuttle at 1614 Bridge street, Dracut, was last evening the scene of a happy gathering, the occasion being an informal reception in honor of the couple who were observing their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle were showered with gifts, congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle were married in Nashua, N. H., April 13, 1873, by Rev. Mr. Carter. They lived in Nashua for some time and then came to Lowell, where they moved to Dracut. For a period of about 30 years Mr. Tuttle was overseer of the spinning department of the Massachusetts mills of this city. Five children were born to the couple and they were all present at last evening's jollification.

TURN HAIR DARK

WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

What You Can Do To Cut Your Next Year's Income Tax

By R. A. CONKEY
Tax Consultant, Central National Bank
Savings & Trust Company, Cleveland
The time for filing individual income tax returns for the calendar year 1921 has just passed, and no doubt most of us will give the subject little thought again until the time comes when we will have to file our returns for 1922.

The purpose of this article is to impress on the minds of taxpayers the importance of keeping some kind of a record of their taxable incomes and allowable expenses for the year. Often taxpayers would be rightfully entitled to deduct from their gross income amounts spent during the year for certain items, but they have no records of the amount of the item and hesitate to claim the deduction for fear they may be called upon to substantiate the amount claimed.

This, of course, could not be done without some record of the transaction. If some simple records were kept, the item could be conscientiously claimed and result in a saving of tax to the taxpayer.

Another great advantage, where records are kept is that the task of making up the return is simplified and results in a saving of time to yourself and the person assisting you. It is also important to the taxpayer that his items of income are clearly analyzed, as certain kinds of income are entirely exempt from the tax, some are subject to both normal and surtax, and others are only subject to the surtax.

Following are a few suggestions as to items of which records should be kept.

Salary—A record should be kept of the amount received from each source. Interest on Bank Deposits, Notes, Mortgages and Corporation Bonds—A certain corporation bonds contain a tax-free covenant clause and a portion of the normal tax is assumed by the debtor corporation, the amount of this interest should be kept separate, as you are allowed as a credit the amount of tax paid for you by the corporation.

Interest on municipal bonds is exempt from the tax and need not be reported. Interest on Liberty and Victory bonds is entirely exempt from the normal tax, but in certain cases is subject to the surtax and therefore a record should be kept of the amount of interest received from each issue.

Rents and Royalties—If you own real estate property, a record should be kept of the amount of rent received, the amount expended for repairs and other expenses.

Business or Profession—Your records should show the total receipts from the business and a well itemized list of the business expenses.

Sale of Real Estate—If you sell real estate during the year, note the year in which it was acquired, cost price, March 1, 1913, value, if acquired prior to that date, cost of subsequent improvements, amount of depreciation claimed in former years and sale price.

Sale of Stocks and Bonds—If you sell stocks or bonds during the year, note the year acquired, cost price, March 1, 1913, value, if acquired prior to that date, and the sale price.

Dividends—If you receive dividends on stocks of domestic corporations, the amount should be kept separate as they are not subject to the normal tax; and if your net income including dividends does not exceed $6000 they do not enter into your computation.

Interest Paid—With a very few exceptions, all interest paid is an allowable deduction and therefore a careful record of the amounts paid should be kept.

Taxes Paid—All taxes, with a few exceptions, are allowable deductions and a record of the kinds and amounts should be kept. One item of taxes, which very few people keep any record of, is the luxury tax; this is an allowable deduction, and no doubt if you jot down the dates and amounts as you pay them, you would be very much surprised at the end of the year to see how they had accumulated.

Contributions—Gifts to organized charitable, religious and educational institutions are allowable deductions and a record should be kept of the names of institutions with the amounts given to each.

Losses—If you have suffered any loss during the year from fire, storm, theft, etc., make a note of cost on March 1, 1913, value, depreciation previously claimed, salvage value and insurance received.

It is not necessary that the average individual keep a set of double entry books, but some simple form of record should be kept. Even a vest pocket memorandum will do.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

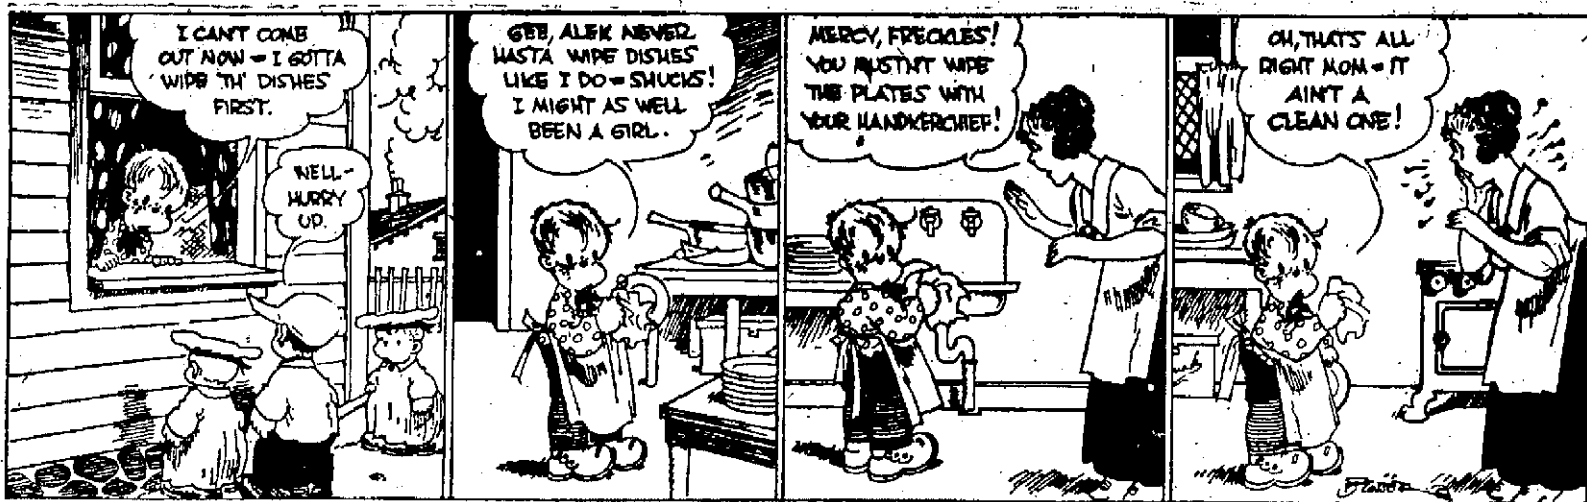

For over 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing my Marsh-Root for kidney, liver and bladder troubles and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan. Thousands of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffy eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or headache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marsh-Root right away.

Kidney and bladder troubles vanish as if by magic under its beneficial influence. It flushes, builds up, and feeds inactive kidneys, stimulating them to normal activity. Tones up shrunken, lumpy kidney tissues and by neutralizing the irritating acids in the urine ends all bladder weakness.

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription, Marsh-Root, added thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective Prescription in both liquid and tablet form at drug stores, Fred Howard and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marsh-Root prescription No. 272. No other medicine can take its place. —Adv.

TREE 800 YEARS OLD

"Great Tree of Tule" Beginning to Show Signs of Wear and Tear

MEXICO CITY, April 14.—The "Great Tree of Tule," in the state of Oaxaca, after some 800 years of recorded existence, is beginning to show signs of wear and tear. This giant cypress, with a trunk so huge that 30 persons with outstretched arms can scarcely span it, is known to have been a fair sized tree when Columbus discovered America, and history recounts that Cortes and his Spanish soldiers slept beneath its branches four centuries ago when en route to Honduras following their conquest of Mexico.

But although time has dealt kindly with the monarch, the correspondent during a visit to the tiny village of Santa Maria del Tule, Oaxaca, noticed that the wrinkles of age are beginning to show. There is no immediate cause for worry, however, that Tule, as the Indians affectionately call the tree, will wither away before the present generation has passed on. And even if it should, Tule has a son some 50 yards away from the parental boughs that is showing healthy signs of maintaining the family honor in the matter of robustness. Hijo (son), as the Indians have named it, already is so large that 12 persons are needed to span it and Hijo is only a couple of hundred years old.

The Great Tree of Tule rises about 175 feet and is said to be one of the largest specimens in the world. The spread of its branches is almost 150 feet. It stands in the courtyard of a tiny church and is the only bid for popular interest made by the village of Santa Maria del Tule, whose population reveres the tree almost as much as one of its saints.

WALPOLE ISLAND MOST PECULIAR IN WORLD

SYDNEY, N.S.W., (by Mail).—A description of what is believed to be one of the most peculiar islands in the world and one of the loneliest spots in the Pacific. Walpole Island, which has been submerged by the ocean at least six times from all indications, was given here today by A. C. Mackay, F.R.G.S., representative of the Austral Guano company on the island.

Walpole is about 150 miles east by south of Noumea and contains great deposits of guano. With Surprises Island and the Chesterfield group, it is leased by the Austral concern. It is a limestone table, 230 feet from the ocean, accessible at only one spot, at a break in the cliffs where steps have been cut.

Mackay said that there were "remarkably clear indications on the cliffs of successive water levels" and that pumice, coral and other shells on this "curiously raised platform" showed that at least six times it must have been at or under sea level. Many traces of ancient human habitation were found in the form of walls, obviously built by man, columns of coral eight and nine feet high, large tombs and clam shell bladed instruments, several specimens of which Mackay has presented to the Australian museum. Fresh water supplies were discovered in two caves. Mackay expressed the opinion that formerly there was a much greater land surface than at present.

"I found undoubted signs of prehistoric habitation," he said. "I also found in places, where the guano elements on to the coral, the remains of the horned turtle which I am informed have been found nowhere else except in South American and Lord Howe Island."

Mackay said that probably the former inhabitants had escaped in boats when the ocean rose and submerged the island or that they had been drowned in the rising tide. The present population of the island consists of six white men, 30 Japanese and about 100 Loyalty Islanders. The singing of these islanders serves to make life less monotonous than it would be otherwise, Mackay said.

Poultry and goats are raised for food while vegetables and fruits grow luxuriantly, tomatoes growing as large as 2 and 3/4 pounds in weight. Cricket and fishing are the main diversions of the residents. On Sundays the Loyalty Islanders hold two church services, which the whole population attends, he said.

UNDERGROUND CABLE SYSTEM IN ITALY

ROME, April 14.—Italy is to have a national underground telephone cable system. The first section is to be laid immediately in order to ensure regularity in the inter-urban services between Turin, Milan and Genoa. It is hoped this work will be completed in 1924.

LLOYD GEORGE HAD GOOD TIME WITH CRONIES

CRICCIETH, Wales, April 14.—Premier Lloyd George is never so happy as when swapping stories about his boyhood days with old cronies of his native Wales.

During his last visit here he gave a tea party to 19 ancients who were his father's pupils at Troedyrall school more than 60 years ago. The senior "old boy" was John Jones, 81, who still works as a carpenter. Next to Jones was William Davies, an assistant teacher under the premier's father, who testified to the latter's handiness with the cane on occasions. Another guest was John Williams, now blind, who used to carry love messages between the premier's father and mother. The "old boys" told their host many stories of his father he had never heard before, and all were in the best of spirits. Old John Jones made the premier roar with laughter by the quip that he told a story of the local indignation many years ago, when a minister preached from a text which another minister had used the previous Sunday.

Getting up late in the morning, working in the garden, and listening to Welsh music are his chief pleasures during his visits, and when the weather is threatening he sits on his covered balcony wrapped in a gaudy shawl.

"They say," he remarked on his last visit, "that I must go back to school in a few days. They say I am playing truant. Yet they all followed me, including the newspapers. I wish they would leave me alone for at least a fortnight; it would be better for them and certainly better for me."

Mechanics' wages have been increased 20 to 30 per cent. in Canton, China.

Manager Linnehan Wants Play-off of Game, to Decide Series, Made Worth While

The following self-explanatory letter was received today from Timothy Linnehan, manager of the Y.M.C.I. basketball team:

Dear Sir: While I do not propose to appear as a discriminator of propaganda, I would appreciate just a little more space to discuss the much discussed Y.M.C.I.-Y.M.C.L. basketball situation.

Now that the Y.M.C.I. players have finally realized the value of their position in the disputed game and expressed a desire to renew activities, I as manager of the Y.M.C.L. will agree to give them another chance, providing they make it worth while. In preliminary arrangements for the play-off of this game, it was agreed that the winner take all the prize money. This is a fair thing to do. If the Y.M.C.I. can collect more than a bag of marbles and will put up, say $500, the Y.M.C.L. players will consider the game worth while.

And we want the money put up before the game, not in the hands of some reputable stockholder. Why we have not done this is because of past experience. When I was making this reference a few days ago, I suggested that we let a local sporting man select an official Mr. Mulvey agreed. Then I insisted that he put up a sum to guarantee that we would abide by his man's selection. Mr. Mulvey refused to do so.

Now I would like to have him pour the "Acra" and assemble them into a game. The "Acra" is the better. We'll cover every cent.

The show that we think of our ability to win. Do you Y.M.C.L. think as much of your chances? Money, not title, matter, will answer this question.

Thanking you for your space, I am,

Yours for clean sport,

Manager Y.M.C.I.

Tracey Looms as Contender for Title

HE IS 24 YEARS OLD—6 FT. 6 IN. AND WEIGHS 210 POUNDS

BY BILLY EVANS
Presenting the very latest heavy-weight hope, Jim Tracey, of Australia. Tracey is 24 years old, stands 6 feet 6 inches and weighs 210 pounds.

This it will be seen that Tracey is a real contender for the title. He is a real contender for the title. He is a real contender for the title.

Tracey recently arrived in our midst. His purpose is to secure a match with Jack Dempsey. Of course he doesn't expect Dempsey to postpone his trip abroad in honor of his coming.

It is Tracey's intention to fight his way to a place where Dempsey will be forced to give him consideration. Tracey is confident he will have reached that spot by the time Dempsey returns to this country.

Tracey has been fighting for nine years. He began his career as a light-weight at the age of 16. Since then he has fought his way through practically all the classes.

In 1920 Tracey achieved the height of his ambition, the winning of the heavy-weight championship of Australia.

He defeated Albert Lloyd, who was the title holder.

Tracey was born at Johannesburg, South Africa, and comes from the Kimberley district.

He started fighting as an amateur. He finished the fight game rather slow in his home town decided to set out for Sydney, the Australian mecca for mitt pushers.

Tracey was without funds when he reached such a decision, so set out on foot from Rockhampton, in Queensland. It took him four months and three days to cover the 1200 miles, but he made good.

Make Regular Trips—To Cover Distance in 10 Hours

CHICAGO, April 14.—Daily flights between New York and Chicago by planes carrying 200 persons, will be inaugurated soon, according to an announcement by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick. She predicted that in a short time, transcontinental passenger lines exceeding those now in use in rope in capacity, appointment and effort will be operated.

"It was almost two years ago," said Mrs. McCormick, "that the plans were submitted to me and I became much interested. They provide for 10 passenger planes costing $2,000,000 each with a capacity of 200 passengers and 25,000 pounds of extra weight.

"We expect that they will negotiate the distance between Chicago and New York in 10 hours. The rates will be as reasonable as those of our transcontinental trains today, and a round trip can be made easily in single days."

Mrs. Glickstein Kills Herself

third death in a tragic series which began last December, when Dr. Abraham Glickstein, a practitioner of some prominence in Brooklyn, was slain by a woman who had been admitted with other patients to his office.

Dr. Glickstein's mother fell dead when she viewed his body upon its being taken into the Glickstein home.

Three days after the shooting a woman named Mrs. Lillian Reizen surrendered to the police, confessing she had shot and killed Dr. Glickstein. She declared her motive was vengeance for an operation the physician had performed upon her, which rendered her incapable of becoming a mother. She admitted she had for several years been "under the influence" of the doctor.

Mrs. Reizen is now a prisoner in the Raymond street jail, this city, awaiting trial before the King's county court on a charge of murder.

To Observe Golden Jubilee

In relation to the designation of Forest Protection week, Governor Cox says:

"The preservation and development of our forests will contribute to our industrial welfare and add to our individual comfort and enjoyment. It will be helpful in this direction if all our officers of public instruction and of civic and commercial organizations in compliance with the request of President Harding unite in thought and action for the protection of our splendid heritage by planning such educational and instructive exercises as shall bring before the people the disastrous effects of the present waste by forest fires."

In speaking of Arbor day and setting apart April 22 for its observance, the governor's proclamation reads:

"The earnestly recommended observance throughout the Commonwealth by the planting of trees, shrubs and vines, with a special effort to repair the awful damage wrought by the severe storm of the past winter. In such a noble endeavor we may induce the thoughtless to refrain from careless and wasteful use of our splendid heritage by planning such educational and instructive exercises as shall bring before the people the disastrous effects of the present waste by forest fires."

"I think that I shall never see

ATTEMPT TO BLOCK TAG DAY

U. T. W. Granted Permit to Collect Funds in Peabody
Tomorrow

O. B. U. to Send Members
to City in Attempt to Keep Contributions Small

LAWRENCE, April 14.—The United Textile Workers of America have been granted a permit for a tag day in Peabody tomorrow and Ben Legere of the One Big union announced this morning that his organization, through sympathizers in Peabody and through the efforts of a local committee which will go to Peabody, will attempt to keep the contributions small. Legere asserted that he had tried to have the permit revoked, but said he had been told by the mayor of Peabody that inasmuch as it had been granted it would have to stand.

Legere stated that calls for relief have been far below the number made during the first three weeks of the strike of 1912 and 1913. He said his organization is endeavoring to raise funds to care for all needy cases but said that in soliciting funds his relief committee has found that U.T.W. committees have "cut out the city" and made it hard for others to collect any appreciable amount of money.

Organizer Francis J. Gorman of the U.T.W. said this forenoon that a great deal of money has been collected by his organization during the week and that a complete report will be made public later. Meetings scheduled for this afternoon were called off because of the Good Friday observance, but girls will sell tags at some of the mill gates at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Pickets were sent to the Acadia mills this morning but there was little for them to do, according to Mr. Gorman.

LOWELL QUARTET HELD

Two Men and Two Women
Brought Into Auburn, Me.,
Court for Rum Running

AUBURN, Me., April 14.—Fines aggregating $300 and jail sentences of four months were imposed in municipal court yesterday on each of four Lowell, Mass., residents convicted of illegal possession and illegal transportation of liquor. They were Victor Levesque, Edward Paradis, Flora and Alfred Redard. All appeared and furnished bail for hearing in superior court. Two of the accused are men and two are women.

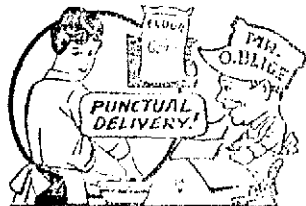

Levesque asked for a retrial and then denied he was a member of the auto party arrested by deputy sheriffs Wednesday night. His retrial resulted in a charge of perjury. He waived trial, and appealing from conviction was placed in the hands of Sheriff Stevens and deputies, accompanied the quartet as the automobile, unable to travel on a muddy country road, was being towed toward this city. They identified Levesque as a man who was standing on the running board and who fled at the approach of the officers only to be arrested yesterday morning.

Fifty gallons of alcohol were seized.

Miss Holmes Resting Comfortably at Pawtucket, R. I., Hospital

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 14.—Miss Margaret Holmes, who was shot over the heart while walking with Hugh Bunting on Wednesday night, is reported to be resting comfortably at the hospital. The police have been unable to trace the ownership of the revolver found near the scene of the shooting but are satisfied that the story told by Miss Holmes and her family about the attack being made by two young men who apparently sought to rob them is true. Bunting after being detained at the police station for a short time was allowed to go home.

MULRY HAS LAST CHANCE

Council in Special Session
Refuses to Take Name
From Table

Martin Conley Still Secure
in Office of Superintendent
of Charities

Council Tables Eleven New Nominations Sent in by Mayor Brown

Another chapter in the fight to land Edward F. Mulry in the office of superintendent of charities was enacted last night when the city council's voice of authority as expressed in the majority refused to take his name from the table, thus making it a foregone conclusion that he will quietly slip out of the picture as an aspirant for the place now held by Martin Conley.

Martin seems to be tightening his grip as the battle wears on and as the council's meeting was thought to be the critical test of his strength in the council, it is almost safe to say that he will withstand any and all attacks for some time to come.

It was generally conceded that the special meeting had been called for the express purpose of taking some action on Mulry's nomination, which had only four more days to run before it would expire under the 30-day rule. Therefore, no one was surprised when motion was offered to take his name from the table for immediate action. From this moment, however, opposition developed spontaneously and vigorously and adjournment finally was voted without any action being taken.

The fight developed into a battle of motions, with Councilor John J. McPadden continuously moving for immediate adjournment. Councilor Queenan moved for consideration, but the vote was lost. Councilor Adams moved a 15-minute recess, but this, too, failed to pass. The same councilor then moved that when the council adjourns it do so at 9 p. m. No second was heard. Councilor McPadden again moved for adjournment and the vote carried, with the "no" of Councilor Adams hanging on until the end.

The meeting was of only 25 minutes' duration. Eleven new nominations were received from the mayor and were tabled as fast as read by President Buckley. All but two of them were the names of persons now serving in various capacities. The two exceptions were Thomas J. Markham for a member of the board of assessors and William F. McGreevey for inspector of wires.

The council accepted the ordinance establishing the salary of Patrick J. Reynolds, registrar of civil service, at $1000 per year and ordered advertised a $20,000 loan order for the purchase of the first street oval property and another order for $10,000 for the laying of granite sidewalks in the new Anne street parkway.

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 o'clock by President Buckley, with Councilors Christian and Genesee absent. The latter came in shortly after.

Pres. Buckley read the call for the special meeting.

The following nominations from the mayor were read and each in turn was placed on the table:

Dr. Walker A. Sherman, inspector of animals; Thomas J. Markham, member of board of assessors; A. B. Humphreys, poundkeeper; Alexander E. Rountree, board of park commissioners, five year term; George E. Putnam, board of license commissioners, six-year term; William H. Hight, board of cemetery commissioners, five-year term; Dr. Alexis Bertrand, board of library trustees, five-year term; William F. McGreevey, inspector of wires; Dr. James Y. Hodger, city bacteriologist; Charles Riley, smoke inspector; Harry L. Gonzales, fish warden.

Pres. Buckley read a letter from the Lowell Historical society, by its president, Alfred F. Sawyer, quoting a resolution recently passed by that society relative to a proper celebration of Lowell centenary in 1925. The letter was accepted and the city clerk was authorized to express the thanks of the council.

An order to borrow $20,000 for the purchase of the first street oval was introduced by Councilor Smith J. Adams. The city clerk was ordered to advertise for bids.

Councilor Queenan moved that the mayor's nomination of Edward F. Mulry as superintendent of charities be taken from the table for immediate action.

The motion was seconded by Councilor Adams.

A yeo and nay vote on the question was demanded and on a show of hands, the motion was lost.

Councilor Adams then moved a recess for 15 minutes, but the motion also failed to carry.

Councilor McPadden then moved for immediate adjournment, but Councilor Gallagher reminded the president that an order to borrow $10,000 to lay granite sidewalks in the new Anne street parkway was ready for consideration.

This order was ordered advertised.

Councilor Adams then moved that when the council adjourns, it adjourn at 9 p. m. but the motion failed to receive a second.

Councilor McPadden again moved for adjournment and the motion prevailed. This was at 8:45 o'clock.

Chamber of Commerce Prepares Street Report for City Engineer

All the Bad Spots to Be Marked on Diagram Accompanying Report

Council Tables Eleven New Nominations Sent in by Mayor Brown

Before the quail puts his head under cover of his wing in yonder meadow this evening City Engineer Stephen Kearney will have a complete report of the condition of Lowell's streets and sidewalks as compiled by the chamber of commerce. Recently the chamber submitted a summarized report which the city engineer found of little value because of its general nature.

Following the engineer's adverse report of the summary the chamber completed, with the aid of 200 cards, a list of bad spots in the city and will have the list ready and the engineer's inspection today. In addition to this a report will be submitted by Secretaries Wells and Gallagher who made a personal canvass of the inlets and outlets of the city yesterday.

The card index has been submitted by individuals and will show the exact spots which are deemed in poor condition. This will give the engineer something definite to work upon.

Yesterday Messrs. Wells and Gallagher visited the following streets: High, Rogers, NeSmith, Andover, Gorman, Chalmers, Smith, Westford, Walker, Princeton, Middlesex, Pawtucket, Mammoth road and Bridge with the idea of determining the exact conditions.

Street numbers and locations of the bad spots and a short description of their condition were written by the men so that if the engineer desires to make an inspection he will be able to go directly to the places mentioned without any loss of time.

ONE OF THE MOST APPRECIATED PHILANTHROPIES EVER EXERCISED IN RELATION TO THE LOWELL GENERAL HOSPITAL

One of the most appreciated philanthropies ever exercised in relation to the Lowell General hospital is represented in the gift of $5000 to that institution by Thomas H. Elliott, dean of local real estate men, for the purpose of establishing a fund to provide medical treatment and care at the hospital for poorer people unable to meet the schedule of charges.

Mr. Elliott sent his check to the board of trustees of the hospital yesterday and of course it was immediately and gratefully accepted. There will be founded a "Thomas H. Elliott fund" and the income derived will be used exclusively for the purposes the donor desires.

It is the first fund of its kind ever established for the hospital, as other endowments have served to make up deficits that exist between the actual cost of operating the hospital and the receipts. The money will be expended under the direction of the superintendent and only for such worthy cases as may be determined by him.

SQUARE DEAL PROMISED

City Employees Will Not Be Discharged Without Hearing by Board

Public Service Board Chairman Makes Promise to Grievance Committee

Civil War Veteran Employed by Water Department Seeks Retirement

No employee of the city departments, over which the public service board has jurisdiction, will be discharged from duty until he has a chance to present his case to the board, if he wishes. This was the promise made by the board to a grievance committee which represented the Municipal Employees' union at last night's meeting of the board, held in the city engineer's office. Although the promise was made it was hardly necessary, according to civil service rules, employers are entitled to hearings.

A few weeks ago Chairman Murphy announced that the board would back up any foreman who found it necessary to discharge a man. Fearing that certain members might be unjustly treated, the grievance committee wanted to have its side of the case heard.

The committee consisting of spokesmen President Daniel Moynihan, Timothy D. Finnegan, Dennis Drasill, Charles P. Higgins and John P. Donnelly, said that it is their policy to point out a foreman who has a petty grievance against a man and discharge him on that account. The committee wanted it known that it would refuse to intercede for a member of its organization whom it supposed guilty of infractions of the departmental rules. It wanted a fair show and a square deal.

Committee Satisfied

After Chairman Murphy promised that the men's rights would be observed and that men would be discharged without a fair hearing, the committee left perfectly satisfied that it had accomplished its mission. Chairman Murphy said that he was pleased to have a heart to heart talk with the committee and promised to appear before the union's next meeting at a future date. He also invited the committee to be present at any time it had suggestions thought helpful to the board.

President Thomas F. Boyle of the local street railwaymen's union and a committee appeared relative to wages in that union. The men who work on the street car sprinklers, Fr. Perry of the American Car Sprinkler Co. is making an effort to have the wages of the sprinkler men reduced. President Boyle said that he was opposed to this step inasmuch as the local company had not made a reduction in wages as far as he knew, did not contemplate any such move. The union is willing to accept a cut for the sprinkler men if the wages of other men are cut.

The board voted to allow the men to continue work on their old scale until May 1. In the meantime the contract will be investigated and both sides will be heard before the board at a later meeting.

Supt. Doherty Upheld

The board upheld Supt. of Streets Harry Doherty in his refusal to employ M. J. Reany at the stone crusher plant because of the latter's alleged antipathy to another employee there. Reany had been served with a summons to appear for a hearing but failed to show up.

Atty. Daniel J. Donahue presented the case of Arthur J. McQuaid, a Civil War veteran employed by the water department, who seeks retirement. It was voted to have Mr. McQuaid examined by the city physician.

It was voted to allow the chairman of the board to approve all payrolls and also voted that all bills must be approved by departmental heads and by a majority of the board.

A bill of $1775 from Thomas B. Rafter & Co. for a Haynes touring car to be used by the street department, failed to receive approval. The board claimed that $75 allowed for the car was insufficient. The bill was referred to the superintendent.

A small number of claims for water tax abatements were disposed of by the board. Several petitions were brought up relative to street repairs and referred to different departments.

his long illness and an operation he was subjected to seems to have been highly successful. Throughout his confinement at St. John's hospital, the low-councillors remembered him by personal visits and other evidences of sympathy.

Tenebrae Services Conducted at St. Michael's Church Were Well Attended

Tenebrae services in their full solemnity, expressing admirably the deep grief of the church at the sufferings of Christ, were conducted at St. Michael's church last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The solemn chant, accompanied by the organ, was instituted by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw, and Rev. James F. Lynch with responses by the sanctuary choir of 50 voices. The lamentations of Jeremiah were sung by the male quartet, J. A. Murphy, first tenor and leader; James McKinley, second tenor; Thomas Boulger, baritone, and Martin Cordingley, bass; assisted by the lamentations of the choir. The exhortation in the words "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, be converted to thy God and Lord."

The services, which were largely attended, were among the most impressive ever conducted in a local Catholic church. The lamentations were splendidly rendered, and Rev. Frs. Shaw and Lynch intoned the chants in fitting manner.

The office called Tenebrae is so called because it is held in the night time. Its purpose is to remind us that the Redeemer was taken prisoner in the darkness, and that he endured countless ignominies and sufferings throughout the night. The church also endeavors to give expression to the deep grief in contemplating the sufferings of Jesus, and the silence and darkness of night have always been regarded as a time of sadness and mourning. The service is, moreover, especially calculated to fill the faithful with sorrow. In the lamentations of Jeremiah the prophet bewails the destruction of Jerusalem and the captivity of the Jews, but still more their forgetfulness of God, for which they deserved their terrible punishment. The chants are to remind mankind that sin and unfaithfulness to God were the cause of the sufferings and death of Christ; therefore, the exhortation to penance at the end of each lamentation: "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, be converted to thy God and Lord." The term Jerusalem is intended to include the whole Christian world.

PLAN WELCOME TO FIFTH REGIMENT

Lowell will take some official recognition of the passing through here, some time next month, of the Fifth regiment, if the present plans of the chamber of commerce do not go awry.

The Fifth regiment has recently returned from duty in Germany and France and is stationed at Portland, Me. The regiment has orders to report to Camp Devens at Ayer some time next month and must hike over the road.

According to information received through the Portland chamber of commerce from Col. McKnight, the hike from Portland will begin about May 1. While no plans have yet been made, the chamber will take the matter up with Mayor Brown to see if some kind of a welcome can be arranged. Present plans under consideration, call for a generous display of flags with luncheon of some sort to be served the boys, such as coffee and doughnuts.

MEET TO DISCUSS CHIMNEY ORDINANCE

The chamber of commerce fire protection committee and a committee composed of E. W. Douglas, John O'Connor, John Johnson, B. H. Wiggin, George Stewart and J. W. Robinson of the Lowell Contractors' association met this noon at a luncheon in the Colonial restaurant to talk over a new chimney ordinance for Lowell.

A short time ago the chamber of commerce submitted a new chimney ordinance to the contractors' association. The association took the matter under advisement and appointed the above committee to confer with the chamber.

The matter was gone into quite thoroughly by both sides and many important details connected with the new ordinance brought up. A report will be made by both committees to their organizations.
